Federal Register

Vol. 53, No. 79

Monday, April 25, 1988

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains regulatory documents having general applicability and legal effect, most of which are keyed to and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations, which is published under 50 titles pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 1510.

The Code of Federal Regulations is sold by the Superintendent of Documents.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

10 CFR Part 51

Revision of Telephone Numbers for Environmental Inquiries

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) is amending its regulations pertaining to environmental matters to indicate the revision of five telephone numbers that enable prospective applicants or petitioners to consult with members of the NRC's staff. These amendments are required because of the assignment of new telephone numbers in conjunction with the recent consolidation of approximately one-half of the NRC's headquarters staff to its new location in Rockville, Maryland. These amendments are being made to inform NRC licensees and members of the public of the new telephone numbers.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 25, 1988.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Donnie H. Grimsley, Director, Division of Rules and Records, Office of Administration and Resources Management, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555, Telephone: 301-492-7211.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On March 28, 1988, the Office of the Executive Director for Operations and portions of the Office of Governmental and Public Affairs (GPA)—the Director of GPA and the Public Affairs staff—relocated at the agency's new office building in Rockville, Maryland. A notice to that effect was published in the Federal Register on March 31, 1988 (53 FR 10449). These amendments reflect the assignment of new telephone numbers to certain relocated agency personnel.

Because these amendments deal solely with the organization and relocation of agency personnel, the notice and comment provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act do not apply under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(A). These amendments are effective upon publication in the Federal Register. Good cause exists to dispense with the usual 30-day delay in the effective date, because these amendments are of a minor and administrative nature.

Environmental Impact: Categorical Exclusion

The NRC has determined that this final rule is the type of action described in categorical exclusion 10 CFR 51.22(c)(2). Therefore, neither an environmental impact statement nor an environmental assessment has been prepared for this final rule.

Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

This final rule contains no information collection requirements and therefore is not subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

List of Subjects in 10 CFR Part 51

Administrative practice and procedure, Environmental impact statement, Nuclear materials, Nuclear power plants and reactors, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements.

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974, as amended, and 5 U.S.C. 553, the NRC is adopting the following amendments to 10 CFR Part 51.

PART 51—LICENSING AND REGULATORY POLICY AND PROCEDURES FOR ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

1. The authority citation for Part 51 continues to read as follows:

Authority: Sec. 161, 68 Stat. 948, as amended (42 U.S.C. 2201); sec. 201, 88 Stat. 1242, as amended (42 U.S.C. 5841).

2. In § 51.40, paragraph (c) is revised to read as follows:

3. Section 51.121 is revised to read as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Food and Drug Administration

21 CFR Parts 430, 436, and 442

[Docket No. 88N-0047]

Antibiotic Drugs; Cefmenoxime Hydrochloride for Injection

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is amending the antibiotic drug regulations to provide for the inclusion of accepted standards for a new antibiotic drug, cefmenoxime hydrochloride for injection. The manufacturer has supplied sufficient data and information to establish its safety and efficacy.

DATES: Effective April 25, 1988; comments, notice of participation, and request for hearing by May 25, 1988; data, information, and analyses to justify a hearing by June 24, 1988.

ADDRESS: Written comments to the Dockets Management Branch (HFA-305), Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 4-62, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Peter A. Dionne, Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (HFN-815), Food and Drug Administration, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857, 301-443-4290.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: FDA has evaluated data submitted in accordance with regulations promulgated under section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 357), as amended, with respect to a request for approval of a new antibiotic drug, cefmenoxime hydrochloride for injection. The agency has concluded that the data supplied by the manufacturer concerning this antibiotic drug are adequate to establish its safety and efficacy when used as directed in the labeling and that the regulations should be amended in 21 CFR Parts 430, 436, and 442 to provide for the inclusion of accepted standards for the product.

Environmental Impact

The agency has determined under 21 CFR 25.24(c)(6) that this action is of a type that does not individually or cumulatively have a significant effect on the human environment. Therefore, neither an environmental assessment nor an environmental impact statement is required.

Submitting Comments and Filing Objections

This final rule announces standards that FDA has accepted in a request for approval of an antibiotic drug. Because this final rule is not controversial and because when effective it provides notice of accepted standards, notice and comment procedure and delayed effective date are found to be unnecessary and not in the public interest. This final rule, therefore, is effective April 25, 1988. However, interested persons may, on or before May 25, 1988, submit written comments to the Dockets Management Branch (address above). Two copies of any comments are to be submitted, except that individuals may submit one copy. Comments are to be identified with the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document. Received comments may be seen in the Dockets Management Branch between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Any person who will be adversely affected by this final rule may file objections to it and request a hearing. Reasonable grounds for the hearing must be shown. Any person who decides to seek a hearing must file: (1) On or before May 25, 1988, a written notice of participation and request for hearing, and (2) on or before June 24, 1988, the data, information, and analyses on which the person relies to justify a hearing, as specified in 21 CFR 314.300. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine and substantial issue of fact that requires a hearing. If it conclusively appears from the face of the data, information, and factual analyses in the request for hearing that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the action taken by this order, or if a request for hearing is not made in the required format or with the required analyses, the Commissioner of Food and Drugs will enter summary judgment against the person(s) who request(s) the hearing, making findings and conclusions and denying a hearing. All submissions must be filed in three copies, identified with the docket number appearing in the heading of this order and filed with the Dockets Management Branch.

The procedures and requirements governing this order, a notice of participation and request for hearing, a submission of data, information, and analyses to justify a hearing, other comments, and grant or denial of a hearing are contained in 21 CFR 314.300.

All submissions under this order, except for data and information prohibited from public disclosure under 21 U.S.C. 331(j) or 18 U.S.C. 1905, may be seen in the Dockets Management Branch (address above) between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

(b) Procedure. Perform the assay and calculate the drug content using the temperature, instrumental conditions, and calculations specified in the monograph for the drug being tested with a flow rate not to exceed 2.0 milliliters per minute. 24 CFR Parts 200, 203, 204, 213, 220, 221, 222, 226, 227, 235, 237, and 240

Mortgage Insurance for the Allegeny Reservation of the Seneca Nation of Indians; Correction

AGENCY: Office of the Assistant Secretary for Housing—Federal Housing Commissioner, HUD.

ACTION: Interim rule; correction.

SUMMARY: On December 21, 1987 (52 FR 48197) the Department published an interim rule entitled "Mortgage Insurance for the Allegeny Reservation of the Seneca Nation of Indians" (Seneca rule). The effective date of the rule was delayed in accordance with the legislative review requirements of section 7(o)(3) of the Department of Housing and Urban Development Act (42 U.S.C. 3535(o)(3)). By Notice published on March 28, 1988 (53 FR 9869), the Department announced the effective date for the interim rule as March 28, 1988. This document makes corrections in the text of the interim rule that are necessary to reflect the fact that another HUD rule, published before the Seneca rule but not yet announced for effect, contains amendments to, or adds, some of the same sections that were amended in the December 21, 1987 Seneca rule. The delay in announcing the effectiveness of the other HUD rule requires technical adjustments in the content of the Seneca rule. These corrections will not change the effective date of the Seneca rule, nor will they affect the operations of the insurance program outlined in that rule.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 25, 1988.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Donald B. Alexander, Chief Attorney, Home Mortgage Insurance Division, Office of the General Counsel, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Room 9258, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, DC 20410, telephone (202) 755-7070. (This is not a toll-free number.)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Department published a final rule entitled "Temporary Mortgage Assistance Payments" on March 5, 1987 to implement a new program authorized by section 341 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1980. Section 341 amended section 230 of the National Housing Act—the provision of the Act setting out the forms of mortgage foreclosure relief available under HUD's single family insuring authorities. While the March 5, 1987 rule (TMAP rule) was published as a final rule, its effective date has been postponed. Accordingly, a conflict has developed in the content of the later-published Seneca rule, because that rule contains amendments to certain HUD regulations that were earlier amended by, or added by, the TMAP rule. The purpose of this document is to correct the Seneca rule to permit it to be a freestanding rule setting out all necessary features of the new mortgage insurance program authorized under section 203(q) of the National Housing Act, pending the effectiveness of the TMAP rule.

Accordingly, the rule published on December 21, 1987 (52 FR 48197) (FR Doc. 87-29092) is corrected as follows:

§§ 203.640, 203.645 and 203.654 [Corrected]

1. Amendments of §§ 203.640, 203.645 and 203.654 (items 12, 13 and 14 of the published rule, 52 FR 48202-48203) are withdrawn.

§ 203.350 [Corrected]

2. In § 203.350 (item 8), the amendatory language is corrected to read: "Section 203.350 is amended by reserving paragraph (c) and adding new paragraph (d) to read as follows:".

§ 203.355 [Amended]

3. In § 203.355, the reference in the last line of the introductory text to "203.658" is revised to read "203.660".

4. Section 203.666 is revised to read as follows:

§ 203.666 Processing defaulted mortgages on property in Allegheny Reservation of Seneca Nation of Indians.

(a) Applicability. This section applies to mortgages authorized by section 203(q) of the National Housing Act (§ 203.43j) only if the default occurred before the mortgagor and the lessee execute a lease renewal or a new lease either with a term of not less than five years beyond the maturity date of the mortgage, or with a term established by an arbitration award.

(b) Assignment (mandatory acceptance). Before a mortgagee requests the Secretary to accept an assignment of a mortgage under the first sentence of § 203.350(d) where the mortgagor is in monetary default, the mortgagee must submit documents showing that the requirements of § 203.604 have been met and must provide all information in its possession concerning the mortgagor's eligibility for relief as set forth in § 203.664.

(c) Assignment (discretionary acceptance). Before a mortgagee requests the Secretary to exercise his or her discretion to accept an assignment of a mortgage under the second sentence of § 203.350(d) where the mortgagor is in non-monetary default, the mortgagee must provide all information in its possession concerning the mortgagor's eligibility for relief as set forth in § 203.664, except §§ 203.664(a)(1) (ii) and (iii).

(d) Forbearance. The Secretary may make forbearance relief on any terms and conditions which he or she in his or her discretion deems appropriate.

Mortgage Insurance; Changes to the Maximum Mortgage Limits for Single Family Residences, Condominiums and Manufactured Homes and Lots

AGENCY: Office of the Assistant Secretary for Housing—Federal Housing Commissioner, HUD.

ACTION: Notice of revisions to FHA maximum mortgage limits for high-cost areas.

SUMMARY: This Notice amends the listing of areas eligible for "high-cost" mortgage limits under certain of HUD's insuring authorities under the National Housing Act by increasing the mortgage limits Pitt County, North Carolina; and adding "high-cost" mortgage limits for Carteret County, North Carolina and the Lafayette, Indiana MSA which is comprised of Tippecanoe County, Indiana. Mortgage limits are adjusted in an area when the Secretary determines that middle- and moderate-income persons have limited housing opportunities because of high prevailing housing sales prices.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The National Housing Act (NHA), 12 U.S.C. (1710-1749), authorizes HUD to insure mortgages for single family residences (from one- to four-family structures), condominiums, manufactured homes, manufactured home lots, and combination manufactured home lots. The NHA, as amended by the Housing and Community Development Amendments of 1980 and the Housing and Community Development Amendments of 1981, permits HUD to increase the maximum mortgage limits under most of these programs to reflect regional differences in the cost of housing. In addition, sections 2(b) and 214 of the NHA provide for special high-cost limits for insured mortgages in Alaska, Guam and Hawaii.

On March 3, 1988 (53 FR 6922), the Department published its most recent annual complete listing of areas eligible for "high-cost" mortgage limits under certain of HUD's insuring authorities under the national Housing Act, and their applicable limits for such areas.

This Document

Today's document increases high-cost mortgage amounts for Pitt County, North Carolina; and adds high-cost mortgage limits for Carteret County, North Carolina and the Lafayette, Indiana MSA which is comprised of Tippecanoe County, Indiana.

These amendments to the high-cost areas appear in two parts. Part I explains high-cost limits for mortgages insured under Title I of the National Housing Act. Part II lists changes for single family residences insured under section 203(b) or 234(c) of the National Housing Act.

National Housing Act High Cost Mortgage Limits

A. Section 2(b)(1)(D). Combination Manufactured Home and Lot (Excluding Alaska, Guam and Hawaii)

To determine the high-cost limit for a combination manufactured home and lot loan, multiply the dollar amount in the "one family" column of Part II of this list by .80. For example, Pitt County (North Carolina) has a one-family limit of $75,050. The combination home and lot loan limit for Pitt County is  $$75,050 \times .80$ , or $60,040.

B. Section 2(b)(1)(E): Lot Only (Excluding Alaska, Guam and Hawaii)

To determine the high-cost limit for a lot loan, multiply the dollar amount in the "one-family" column of Part II of this list by .20. For example, Pitt County (North Carolina) has a one-family limit of $75,050. The lot-only loan limit for Pitt County is  $$75,050 \times .20$ , or $15,010.

C. Section 2(b)(2). Alaska, Guam and Hawaii Limits

The maximum dollar limits for Alaska, Guam and Hawaii may be 140% of the statutory loan limits set out in section 2(b)(1).

Accordingly, the dollar limits for Alaska, Guam and Hawaii are as follows:

1. For manufactured homes: \$56,700. ( $40,500 \times 140\%$ ).
2. For combination manufactured homes and lots: 75,600. ( $$54,000 \times 140\%$ ).
3. For lots only: \$18,900. ( $13,500 \times 140\%$ ).

for New Construction and Substantial Rehabilitation—Detroit, MI; Special Revision

AGENCY: Office of the Assistant Secretary for Housing—Federal Housing
Commissioner, HUD.

ACTION: Final notice.

SUMMARY: Section 8(c)(1) of the United States Housing Act of 1937 requires the Secretary to establish Fair Market Rents (FMRs) periodically, but not less frequently than annually. This document announces the Fiscal Year 1986 Fair Market Rent Schedule to establish new Fair Market Rents for the Detroit market area in the State of Michigan. These rents are necessary to provide fair market rents more comparable to market rents for new construction in this market area.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 25, 1988.

ADDRESS: Interested persons are invited to submit comments to the Rules Docket Clerk, Office of General Counsel, Room 10276, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, DC 20410. Communications should refer to the above docket number and title. A copy of each communication submitted will be available for public inspection during regular business hours at the above address.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437f) (the Act) authorizes a system of housing assistance payments to aid lower income families in renting decent, safe, and sanitary housing. These programs, known collectively as the Section 8 Housing Assistance Payments Program, provide assistance payments for lower income families for a variety of housing options, including new construction and substantial rehabilitation.

Under these programs, HUD or public housing agencies (PHAs) make rental assistance payments on behalf of eligible families to owners. When families lease an eligible unit, the housing assistance payment is made and is based upon the difference between the total housing expense and the total family contribution. Initial contract rents, plus an allowance for utilities generally may not exceed area-wide Fair Market Rents (FMRs) established by the Department. FMRs are based primarily on the level of rentals paid for recently completed or newly constructed dwelling units of modest design within each market area as determined by HUD Field Office staff. In addition, for the Fair Market Rents most recently promulgated by the Department (see the August 7, 1986 Federal Register, 51 FR 28486), these rents reflected the Department's cost containment efforts in relation to housing assistance provided in the Section 8 New Construction and Substantial Rehabilitation Programs.

Public Comments

On December 21, 1987, the Department published a Proposed Notice at 52 FR 48278 and invited comments from the public on the proposal to adjust the Fiscal Year 1986 FMRs for Detroit, Michigan. Four public comments were received. Three of the four comments were in support of the revision of the proposed Fiscal Year 1986 FMRs for the Detroit market area. The fourth commenter claimed that the proposed rents were too low and would not support his project. This commenter, however, offered no data to support his assertions. Nevertheless, the Department reviewed a number of proposals using the proposed FRM schedule and found that these rents as proposed would permit these projects to be feasible. However, in the light of the last comment, the Department wishes to point out that since the FMRs principally reflect building costs and rentals as a whole in a given market or jurisdiction, not the costs associated with building a particular project or the rents necessary to service the debt on that proposal, the Department could not properly change the FMRs to accommodate the higher rentals that the commenter might expect.

Accordingly, the Department is adopting the same FMR schedule that was published in the Proposed Notice of December 21, 1987, as set forth below.

Other Information

HUD regulations in 24 CFR Part 50, implementing section 102(2)(c) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, contain categorical exclusions from their requirements for the actions, activities and programs specified in § 50.20. Since the FMRs announced in this Notice are within the exclusion set forth in § 50.20(l), no environmental assessment is required, and no environmental finding has been prepared.

The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance Program number and title for the activities covered by this Notice are 14.156, Lower Income Housing Assistance Program (Section 8).

Accordingly, the following amendment to the 1986 Fair Market Rent schedule is adopted for the Detroit, Michigan market area:

Safety Zone Regulations; Mackay River, Mile 675 Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway*AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.ACTION: Emergency rule.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard is establishing a safety zone around Mackay River Bridge, Mile 675, ICW. The zone is needed to protect the bridge from a possible hazard associated with damage to the fender system from a recent collision. Entry into this zone is prohibited except as authorized by the captain of the port. The COTP has authorized transit of the Mackay River Bridge navigation span by tug and barge traffic during daylight hours only. All other vessels are authorized to transit at any time.

EFFECTIVE DATES: This regulation becomes effective on 14 April 1988. It terminates upon completion of damage assessment unless sooner canceled or extended.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: LT R.M. Gaudiosi, Coast Guard Marine Safety Office, Savannah, GA, Phone (912) 944-4353.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In accordance with 5 U.S.C. 553, a notice of proposed rulemaking was not published for this regulation and good cause exists for making it effective in less than 30 days after Federal Register publication. Publishing an NPRM and delaying its effective date would be contrary to the public interest since immediate action is needed to prevent further damage to the bridge or vessels transiting the span.

Drafting Information

The drafters of this regulation are LT R.M. Gaudiosi, project officer for the captain of the port, and LCDR S.T. Fuger, project attorney, Seventh Coast Guard District Legal Office.

Discussion of Regulation

The circumstances requiring this regulation resulted from a collision which carried away or severely damaged the existing fender system rendering the bridge vulnerable to further impact.

This regulation is issued pursuant to 33 U.S.C. 1225 and 1231 as set out in the authority citation for all of Part 165.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION*36 CFR Part 1228*Disposition of Federal Records

AGENCY: National Archives and Records Administration (NARA).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The National Archives and Records Administration is revising § 1228.154 and § 1228.162 to incorporate procedures for Federal civilian employee medical records which were outlined in NARA Bulletin No. 87-4 of January 13, 1987. These procedures were developed as a result of regulations established by the Office of Personnel Management for the Employee Medical File System. 5 CFR Part 293, Subpart E, Employee Medical File System Records, requires the use of an Employee Medical Folder (Standard Form 66-D) for maintenance of occupational medical records. Like the official personnel folder (OPF), the employee medical folder (EMF) will accompany the employee during his/her Federal career. When the employee is separated from Federal service, the EMF will be transferred along with the OPF to the National Personnel Records Center. A new reference request form, Standard Form 184, Request for Employee Medical Folder (Separated Employee), has been developed by NARA for use by Federal agencies in requesting medical records from the National Personnel Records Center.

NARA also is amending § 1228.162(a) to identify the National Personnel Records Center as a point of contact for members of the public and for non-governmental organizations seeking copies of Standard Form 180, Request Pertaining to Military Records. Subsection (a) was revised on June 30, 1986 (51 FR 23538), to remove the reference to purchasing Standard Form 180 from the Superintendent of Documents. In order to make the form more accessible to members of the public and to non-governmental organizations, NARA has designated the national Personnel Records Center as a point of contact.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Adrienne C. Thomas or Nancy Allard at 202-523-3214 (FTS 523-3214).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Administrative Procedures Act's notice and comment rulemaking procedures, 5 U.S.C. 553, do not apply to this amendment of 36 CFR Part 1228 because the matters addressed by this final rule are matters "relating to agency management or personnel or to public property." The retirement and reference service procedures for Federal civilian employee medical records prescribed in § 1228.154 and § 1228.162(b) of this final rule were announced in NARA Bulletin No. 87-4 of January 13, 1987. The new reference request form recently developed by NARA for medical files stored at the National Personnel Records Center was coordinated with officials of the Office of Personnel Management and with several agency medical records officers. Section 1228.162(a) is only being amended to identify an additional source for copies of Standard Form 180.

This rule is not a major rule for the purposes of Executive Order 12291 of February 17, 1981. As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act, it is hereby certified that this rule will not have a significant impact on small business entities.

List of Subjects in 36 CFR Part 1228

Archives and records.

PART 1228—DISPOSITION OF FEDERAL RECORDS

1. The authority citation for Part 1228 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 44 U.S.C. 2907.

2. Section 1228.154 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1228.154 Transfers to the National Personnel Records Center (NPRC).

General Records Schedules 1 and 2 specify that certain Federal civilian personnel, medical, and pay records must be centrally stored at the National Personnel Records Center (Civilian Personnel Records), 111 Winnebago Street, St. Louis, Missouri 63118.

(a) The following four types of records are so specified:

- (1) Official personnel folders of separated Federal civilian employees;
- (2) Service record cards of employees who separated or transferred on or before December 31, 1947;
- (3) Audited individual earnings and pay cards and comprehensive payrolls; and
- (4) Employee medical folders of separated Federal civilian employees.

(b) The official personnel folder (OPF) and the employee medical folder (EMF) must be forwarded to the National Personnel Records Center at the same time. Only x rays that will easily fit inside the EMF without folding will be accepted by the Center. X rays over 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ " x 10" in size that are required for long-term retention must be retained by the agency. The agency must place a notice in the EMF indicating how a subsequent Federal employer may obtain the oversized x rays. The OPF and the EMF must be labeled in the upper right corner to identify the employee by name (last name first), date of birth, and social security number only. Temporary records must be removed from the folders before transmittal. Agencies must make every effort to locate all long-term documents required to be part of the folders and to file them before the folders are transferred. Small quantities of folders (OPF's and EMF's) must be mailed in a sealed envelope. Larger quantities must be mailed in a carton. No advance notification of transmittal or SF 135, Records Transmittal and Receipt, is required from the transferring agency, and no receipt will be furnished by the Center.

(c) A cover letter must accompany loose personnel or medical documents forwarded for interfiling in an OPF or EMF previously sent to the Center. Only those documents required for long-term retention may be forwarded for interfiling. Each document must contain the former employee's current name and name under which formerly employed, if different; date of birth; social security number; and date of separation. Letters accompanying loose personnel documents must clearly identify the agency personnel office and address. Letters accompanying loose medical documents must include the name and address of the agency's designated medical records manager (i.e., medical, health, safety, or personnel officer or other designee). Medical documents required to be part of the EMF may not be sent for interfiling in agency accessions retired prior to September 1, 1984. Such documents must be placed in an EMF and sent to the National Personnel Records Center in accordance with the instructions in paragraph (b) of this section if the employee has left Federal service.

(d) Transfer of fiscal records must be in accordance with the procedures outlined in § 1228.152.

(e) Standard Form 127, Request for Official Personnel Folder (Separated Employee), must be used by agencies when requesting transmission of personnel folders of separated employees. Standard Form 184, Request for Employee Medical Folder (Separated Employee), must be used when requesting medical folders. The name and address of the agency's designated medical records manager must be shown on the request form. Use of the appropriate request form will help ensure prompt transmission of the desired folder. Each request must be submitted in duplicate.

(f) Occupational medical records of separated Federal civilian employees who were not in positions subject to civil service rules and regulations may be retired if the records are properly scheduled and if access procedures are furnished for use by the Center.

(1) It is recommended that a folder similar to the SF 66-D, Employee Medical Folder, but different in color, be used for medical records of non-civil-service employees.

(2) If the records are not scheduled, an exception may be obtained by submitting a request to the Assistant Archivist for Federal Records Centers, National Archives and Records Administration (NC), Washington, DC

20408. The request must identify the location(s) of records and the volume proposed for transfer. The request will be considered only if an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, has been received by NARA's Records Appraisal and Disposition Division (NIR).

(g) Medical records of non-Federal employees (e.g., contractor employees and student volunteers) must be disposed of in accordance with the approved agency disposition schedule.

3. Section 1228.162 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1228.162 Use of records in Federal Records Centers.

(a) Standard Form 180, Request Pertaining to Military Records, must be used by Federal agencies to obtain information from military service records in the National Personnel Records Center (Military Personnel Records). Agencies may furnish copies of that form to the public to aid in inquiries. Members of the public and non-governmental organizations also may obtain copies of Standard Form 180 by submitting a written request to the National Personnel Records Center (Military Personnel Records), 9700 Page Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri 63132.

(b) Requests for Federal civilian personnel files and medical files from the National Personnel Records Center must be made in accordance with § 1228.154. Requests for medical records retired to other Federal Records Centers prior to September 1, 1984, must be made on Optional Form 11, Reference Request—Federal Records Centers. The request must include the name and address of the agency's designated medical records manager.

AGENCY: Agency for International Development, IDCA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The A.I.D. Acquisition Regulation (AIDAR) is being amended by removing the requirement that protests to the Agency be filed with the Head of the Contracting Activity, instead specifying that protests to the Agency be filed with the Contracting Officer.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 25, 1988.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: M/SER/PPE, Mr. James M. Kelly, Room 1600I, SA-14, Agency for International Development, Washington, DC 20523. Telephone (703) 875-1534.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Following publication of A.I.D. procedures for submission of protests to the Agency in the February 19, 1988 Federal Register (53 FR 4979), the Office of Federal Procurement Policy pointed out that the A.I.D. requirement that protests be filed with the Head of the Contracting Activity, established by the new AIDAR subsections 733.7002(d) and 733.7003(b), conflicted with FAR 52.233-2, "Service of Protest," which specified that protests be filed with the Contracting Officer. OFPP recommended that the A.I.D. Acquisition Regulation be corrected to remove this conflict.

The changes being made by this Notice are not considered significant rules subject to FAR 1.301 or Subpart 1.5. This Notice is exempted from the requirements of Executive Order 12291 by OMB Circular 85-7. [Docket No. 80472-8072]

Foreign Fishing

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), NOAA, Commerce.

ACTION: Emergency final rule.

SUMMARY: NOAA issues an emergency rule to change the definition of "fishing" to include processing, transfer, and supply activities supporting the harvest of fish outside the U.S. Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ). The change will improve enforcement of the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act (Magnuson Act), and will allow NOAA to monitor more closely harvests in the entire Bering Sea ecosystem.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective April 25, 1988. Comments will be accepted on or before May 25, 1988.

ADDRESS: Send written comments to Alfred J. Bilik, Fees and Permits Branch, F/TS21, National Marine Fisheries

Service, 1825 Connecticut Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20235. Telex 467856 US COM FISH CI.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Alfred J. Bilik, (202) 673-5319.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under the Magnuson Act, the United States claims exclusive rights to conserve and manage all fish within the EEZ and all U.S.-origin anadromous species and Continental Shelf fishery resources beyond the EEZ that are not within the EEZ of another nation. In the past, however, NOAA has by regulation narrowed this assertion of management authority by defining "fishing" to include only activities supporting the harvest of "fish over which the United States exercises exclusive fishery management authority." This definition is narrower than the definition of "fishing" in the Magnuson Act, which does not so qualify "fish." The result of this regulatory definition is that activities such as processing and transfers of fish harvested outside the EEZ are beyond the scope of the permitting, recordkeeping, and reporting requirements of the foreign fishing regulations.

In the last major revision to these regulations, NOAA proposed (at 49 FR 50510, December 28, 1984) to broaden the definition by dropping the restrictive phrase. In the final rulemaking (at 50 FR 34964, August 28, 1985), however, the narrower definition was retained with the explanation that "[t]he United States asserts jurisdiction over support activities in the FCZ [fishery conservation zone] only if the supported harvest activity involves fish under U.S. management authority."

At the time, it was thought that enforcement problems, particularly with transfers from harvesting to transport vessels, could be adequately addressed by adding a rebuttable presumption at 50 CFR 611.3(a)(1)(ii). The discovery of illegal fishing and the suspicion of extensive poaching in the EEZ, along with growing concern that resources in an area of the central Bering Sea are jeopardized by unrestrained harvests, necessitate an assertion of additional management authority and a revision in the definition.

The problems that NOAA must address are explained more fully in an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (ANPR), published in today's Federal Register. Foreign fishing vessels (FFVs) accustomed to operating in the EEZ are being replaced by American fleets. Some of these displaced FFVs are relocating their efforts to the "donut hole," a portion of the central Bering Sea entirely surrounded by the EEZs of the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. Others may be fishing illegally within U.S. waters, but reporting their catch as having been harvested in the "donut hole." There are indications that some FFVs have been abusing the right to fish within the central Bering Sea to the detriment of the interests of the U.S., whose waters provide many of the spawning grounds for the resources beyond.

In the past year, the Coast Guard has documented aerial sightings of FFVs in the Bering Sea EEZ, but either could not identify the vessels or could not prove they were engaged in harvesting activities. A Mexican shark vessel was boarded in the EEZ off San Diego, but could not be seized until it was later observed harvesting sharks.

Then on January 13, 1988, as many as seven trawler-processors of Japanese registry—some with markings concealed—were videotaped fishing without valid permits on Bowers Ridge, 35 miles inside the U.S. EEZ, despite the fact that foreign nations have received no allocations of Alaskan groundfish in 1988. Some of these vessels were found two weeks later in the "donut hole," and claimed they had been there all along. U.S. enforcement officials are concerned that unregulated fisheries in the "donut hole" provide an opportunity for FFVs fishing illegally within the U.S. EEZ to avoid detection by enforcement patrols.

The reported catch from the "donut hole" has increased dramatically from about 15,000 metric tons in 1980 to about 993,000 metric tons in 1986. There is considerable doubt as to whether the resource base in the central Bering Sea is productive enough to support the level of reported harvests. If the harvest in the "donut hole" is actually as high as reported, U.S. scientists are concerned that this level of fishing could adversely affect the entire Bering Sea ecosystem.

On the other hand, some of the reported catch from the "donut hole" may actually have been illegally taken in the EEZ. To deter poaching by FFVs crossing the EEZ boundary from the "donut hole," NOAA must have more control over and more information about these vessels' activities. The ANPR presents several options: requiring an FFV carrying an observer within the U.S. EEZ to continue carrying that observer on any voyage to the "donut hole"; prohibiting processing and other support activities in the EEZ unless the fish were harvested in U.S. waters; and requiring check-in/check-out inspections for FFVs conducting "fishing" operations in the EEZ.

Until NOAA chooses among the regulatory options and publishes a final rulemaking, and unless NOAA opts for restricting support operations to EEZ-harvested fish, the definition of "fishing" must be revised to eliminate the existing loophole. Fishing operations in the EEZ supporting the harvest of "donut hole" fish should not be exempt from the permit, reporting, and recordkeeping requirements of the foreign fishing regulations.

NOAA therefore amends the definition of "fish" (when used as a verb) and "fishing" in § 611.2 by deleting the qualifying phrase, "fish over which the United States exercises exclusive fishery management authority." "Fishing" or "to fish" now means any activity, other than scientific research, which does, is intended to, or can reasonably be expected to result in catching fish or removing fish from the water. Fishing also includes the acts of scouting, processing, and support. This means that FFVs conducting certain operations in the U.S. EEZ—processing or transferring fish or supplying other FFVs—must have a foreign fishing permit applied for and issued under § 611.3, even though the fish may have been harvested outside U.S. waters. Moreover, FFVs conducting these operations must make reports and maintain the logs required by §§ 611.4 and 611.9 of the foreign fishing regulations.

Vessels anticipating transfer operations in the EEZ will be required under § 611.4 to send BEGIN and TRANSFER messages to the Coast Guard and NMFS on entering the EEZ. Messages will contain the date, time, position, and area of the anticipated transfer, as well as the quantity of all fish and fish products on board. The TRANSFER message must identify the vessel from which the fish will be transferred. OFFLOADED and RECEIVED messages must be sent within 12 hours after completion of the transfer, accounting for all fish and fish products transferred between vessels. CEASE messages must be delivered to the Coast Guard at least 24 hours before the vessel leaves the EEZ.

All vessels taking part in such transfers must also maintain communications and transfer logs required by § 611.9. The logs must be kept available for inspection by authorized officers.

Not wishing unnecessarily to burden freedom of navigation on the high seas, NOAA redefines "support" to encompass all transfer and supply operations in the EEZ, but to include transport operations only if they support harvest operations in the EEZ. Vessels with fishery products aboard are entitled to freedom of passage through the EEZ, so long as they conduct no support operations in the zone.

These revisions will allow NOAA to monitor more closely the activities of these vessels in the EEZ and in the "donut hole." Conforming amendments are also made to § 611.1(a), to remove the same qualifying phrase that is deleted from the definition of "fishing," and to § 611.3(a)(1), to remove the rebuttable definition previously used in connection with transfers.

Classification

The Assistant Administrator for Fisheries, NOAA, has determined that this rule is necessary to respond to an emergency situation and is consistent with the Magnuson Act and other applicable law. Because of the suspected magnitude of ongoing illegal fishing in the U.S. EEZ and possibly intense harvests in the "donut hole," the Assistant Administrator also finds it impracticable and contrary to the public interest to provide notice and an opportunity for public comment.

NOAA Directive 02-10, published at 45 FR 49312 (July 24, 1980), adopts internal procedures to implement the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), 42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq. Under those procedures, programmatic functions with no potential for significant environmental impacts are generally excluded from NEPA requirements. This emergency rule is not expected to have direct impacts on fishery resources in the EEZ. It is intended to improve enforcement of U.S. fishery regulations and to collect additional information on "donut hole" harvests, and thus indirectly to benefit U.S. fishery resources.

The Assistant Administrator has also determined that this rule will have no impact on the Coastal Zone Management Program of any State.

This emergency rule is exempt from the normal review procedures of Executive Order 12291 as provided in section 8(a)(1) of that order. This rule is being reported to the Director, Office of Management and Budget, with an explanation of why it is not possible to follow the procedures of that order.

This rule is exempt from the procedures of the Regulatory Flexibility Act because the rule is issued without opportunity for prior public comment.

This rule contains a collection of information requirement previously approved by OMB and given OMB control number 0648-0075.

The rule does not contain policies with federalism implications sufficient to warrant preparation of a federalism assessment under Executive Order 12612.

South Texas Onions; Increase in Assessment Rate

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This proposed rule would increase the assessment rate under Marketing Order 959 for the 1987-88 fiscal period. Funds to administer this program are derived from assessments on handlers.

DATE: Comments must be received by May 5, 1988.

Comments should reference the date and page number of this issue of the Federal Register and will be available for public inspection in the Office of the Docket Clerk during regular business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Robert F. Matthews, Marketing Order Administration Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, AMS, USDA, P.O. Box 96456, Room 2525-S, Washington, DC 20090-6456, telephone 202-447-2431.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This rule is proposed under Marketing Order No. 959 (7 CFR Part 959) regulating the handling of onions grown in South Texas. This order is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), hereinafter referred to as the Act.

This proposed rule has been reviewed under Executive Order 12291 and Departmental Regulation 1512-1 and has been determined to be a "non-major" rule under criteria contained therein.

Pursuant to requirements set forth in the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA), the Administrator of the Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) has considered the economic impact of this proposed rule on small entities.

The purpose of the RFA is to fit regulatory actions to the scale of business subject to such actions in order that small businesses will not be unduly or disproportionately burdened. Marketing orders issued pursuant to the Act, and rules issued thereunder, are unique in that they are brought about through group action of essentially small entities acting on their own behalf. Thus, both statutes have small entity orientation and compatibility.

There are approximately 40 handlers of Texas onions under this marketing order, and approximately 160 Texas onion producers. Small agricultural producers have been defined by the Small Business Administration (13 CFR 121.2) as those having annual gross revenues for the last three years of less than $500,000, and small agricultural service firms are defined as those whose gross annual receipts are less than $3,500,000. The majority of the handlers and producers may be classified as small entities.

The marketing order requires that the assessment rate for a particular fiscal year shall apply to all assessable onions handled from the beginning of such year. An annual budget of expenses is prepared by the committee and submitted to the Department of Agriculture for approval. The members of the committee are handlers and producers of onions. They are familiar with the committee's needs and with the costs for goods, services, and personnel in their local area and are thus in a position to formulate an appropriate budget. The budget was formulated and discussed in a public meeting. Thus, all directly affected persons have had an opportunity to participate and provide input.

The assessment rate recommended by the committee is derived by dividing anticipated expenses by expected shipments of onions. Because that rate is applied to actual shipments, it must be established at a rate which will produce sufficient income to pay the committee's expected expenses. A recommended budget and rate of assessment is usually acted upon by the committee before the season starts, and expenses are incurred on a continuous basis. Therefore, budget and assessment rate approval must be expedited so that the committee will have funds to pay its expenses.

On December 31, 1987, expenses of $312,380 by the South Texas Onion Committee were approved and an assessment rate of 5½ cents per 50-pound container was established for the fiscal period ending July 31, 1988. The South Texas Onion Committee conducted a telephone poll on April 7, 1988, and unanimously recommended increasing the established assessment rate from 5½ cents to 7 cents per 50-pound container. The reason for the assessment increase is production for this season will be less than anticipated. Cool, wet weather has contributed to a large number of seed stems. While shipments for the 1988 season were projected to be 5.76 million 50-pound bags, the estimate has been reduced to 4.50 to 4.75 million bags. The original assessment rate would have yielded $316,800 in assessment income if the level of expected fresh market shipments was achieved. With the reduced estimate, such income will fall about $69,000 short of the amount anticipated. The committee would therefore be required to reduce its reserve by about $65,000 to meet its budgeted expenses. Increasing the assessment rate would prevent a depletion in reserve which is needed to fund operations at the beginning of the new fiscal period. In accordance with the marketing order requirements, this 1½ cent increase would be retroactive.

While this proposed action would impose some additional costs on handlers, the costs are in the form of uniform assessments on all handlers. Some of the additional costs may be passed on to producers. However, these costs would be significantly offset by the benefits derived from the operation of the marketing order. Therefore, the Administrator of AMS has determined that this action would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Based on the foregoing, it is found and determined that a comment period of less than 30 days is appropriate because the 1988 shipping season has begun and therefore the assessment rate approval needs to be expedited. The committee needs to have sufficient funds to pay its expenses which are incurred on a continuous basis.

Proposed Limit on Duty-Free Insular Watches in Calendar Year 1988

AGENCIES: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce; Office of Territorial and International Affairs, Department of the Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule and request for comments.

SUMMARY: This action invites the comments of interested persons on a proposal to establish the total quantity of duty-free insular watches and watch movements for 1988 at 6,700,000 units and to divide this amount among the three insular possessions of the United States and the Northern Mariana Islands. We propose to do this by amending § 303.14(e), which now permits a total of 6,000,000 units distributed among the three insular possessions and the Northern Mariana Islands.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before May 5, 1988.

ADDRESS: Address written comments to Frank Creel, Director, Statutory Import Programs Staff, Room 1523, U.S. Department of Commerce, Pennsylvania Avenue and 14th Street NW, Washington, DC 20230.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Faye Robinson, (202) 377-1660, same address as above.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The insular possessions watch industry provision in section 110 of Pub. L. 97-446 (96 Stat. 2331) (1983) (19 U.S.C. 1202 note) requires the Secretary of Commerce and the Secretary of the Interior, acting jointly, to establish a limit on the quantity of watches and watch movements which may be entered free of duty during each calendar year. The law also requires the Secretaries to establish the shares of this limited quantity which may be entered from the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa and the Northern Mariana Islands. Regulations on the establishment of these quantities and shares are contained in §§ 303.3 and 303.4 of Title 15, Code of Federal Regulations (15 CFR 303.3 and 303.4).

The Departments propose to establish for calendar year 1988 a total quantity and respective territorial shares as shown in the following table:

Virgin Islands.....	4,700,000
Guam.....	1,000,000
American Samoa.....	500,000
Northern Mariana Islands.....	500,000
Total.....	8,700,000

Compared with the total quantity established for 1987 (52 FR 3794; Feb. 6, 1987), this amount would be a increase of 700,000 units. The proposed Virgin Islands territorial shares would be increased by 700,000 units. The proposed shares for Guam, American Samoa, and the Northern Mariana Islands would not change.

Our reasons for proposing these amounts are as follows:

1. There are no producers in American Samoa and the Northern Mariana Islands. This proposal would establish these territories' shares at the minimum required by the statute.

2. There is only one producer in Guam, and the amount we propose is consistent with the needs of the existing producer and with the existing set-aside of 500,000 units for possible allocation to the new firms in Guam.

3. We expect total Virgin Islands shipments in 1988 to exceed 4 million units. The amount we propose is consistent with the anticipated needs of the existing producers along with a set-aside of 500,000 units for possible allocation to new firms in the Virgin Islands.

Classification

Executive Order 12291.

In accordance with Executive Order 12291 (46 FR 13193, February 19, 1981), the Departments of Commerce and the Interior have determined that this rule does not constitute a "major rule" as defined by section 1(b) of the Order. It is not likely to result in:

(3) Significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

Therefore, preparation of a Regulatory Impact Analysis is not required.

Surface Coal Mining and Reclamation Operations; Exemption for Coal Extraction Incidental to the Extraction of Other Minerals

AGENCY: Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule; notice of reopening of public comment period.

SUMMARY: The Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement (OSMRE) of the United States Department of the Interior published a proposed rule on June 1, 1987. The proposed rule would establish regulations relating to the exemption contained in section 701(28) of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 (SMCRA) concerning the extraction of coal incidental to the extraction of other minerals. The proposed rule was amended and the comment period reopened on February 24, 1988. Subsequently, the comment period was extended to April 4, 1988.

By this notice, OSMRE is reopening the comment period on all issues associated with the proposed rule. In addition the notice describes and requests comments on additional modifications to the proposed rule concerning the requirement that operators would also have to demonstrate compliance with either a revenue or an economic viability test to establish the coal extraction is incidental to the extraction of other minerals in accordance with section 701(28) of SMCRA.

DATES: Written Comments: OSMRE will accept written comments on the proposed rule until 5 p.m., Eastern time on May 25, 1988.

ADDRESSES: Written Comments: Hand-deliver to the Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Administrative Record, Room 5131, 1100 L Street NW., Washington, DC, or mail to the Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Administrative Record, Room 5131-L, 1951 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20240.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

- I. Public Comment Procedures
- II. Regulatory Text of Proposed Modifications
- III. Discussion of Proposed Modifications

I. Public Comment Procedures

Commenters (including the House of Representatives Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, see letter of March 21, 1988, Administrative Record) have suggested that OSMRE consider an economic viability test such as provided below as part of the requirements for the exemption in section 701(28) of SMCRA. In addition, these commenters suggest the replacement of the use of the life of mine exemption standard with an annual value (revenue) and production rate test, as well as the elimination of the proposed market tests and the "good faith" standard. Moreover, these commenters urge OSMRE to modify the information requirements to include: The average unit price received or expected for the coal and non-coal materials, and the gross value of the coal and non-coal materials sold or used for the report period. OSMRE specifically seeks public comment on these and all other issues on the incidental exemption.

As an alternative way of determining if coal extraction is incidental to the extraction of other minerals, comments are also solicited on applying an economic viability concept as recently discussed in an Interior Board of Land Appeals (IBLA) decision (McNabb Coal Co. Inc. vs. OSMRE, 101 IBLA 282, March 15, 1988). Although this specific decision involved the current regulations, the IBLA found that extraction of coal is not incidental to the extraction of other minerals where the mining of coal is essential to the economic viability of the mine. The IBLA found on the particular facts of the case that: (1) The coal was the deepest strata mined for commercial use or sale, (2) the acreage of the shallower deposits extracted for commercial use or sale was less than 50 percent of the coal deposit extracted, (3) the acreage of the mineral deposit immediately above the coal was less than 5 percent of the acreage of coal extracted, and (4) the decision to mine the deposit immediately above the coal was based on the decision to mine the coal, in ruling that the extraction of coal by the operator could not be considered "incidental." OSMRE solicits comments on the economic viability concept in comparison to the revenue test. OSMRE is particularly interested in receiving comments on the methodology for determining economic viability and the impact such a test would have on existing operations.

The comments should be specific, confined to issues pertinent to the June 1, 1987 (52 FR 20546) proposed rules, the modifications contained in the February 24, 1988 notice (53 FR 5430), and the modifications in this notice, and should explain the reasons for any recommended change. Where practical, commenters should submit three copies of their comments (see "ADDRESSES"). Comments received after the close of the comment period (see "DATES") may not necessarily be considered or included in the Administrative Record for the final rule.

II. Regulatory Text of Proposed Modifications

The proposed revenue test which OSMRE is considering is provided below. A discussion describing the proposed changes follows the regulatory text. Where no replacement language is proposed by this notice, the June 1, 1987 notice, as modified on February 24, 1988, continues to be the agency's proposal. To provide greater clarity, the italicized sections of the proposed rules below refer to the new language proposed by this notice. It should be noted that the proposed rule uses a 50 percent revenue test. This would establish a threshold over which coal revenues for the life of the mining area could not exceed. A final decision on whether a revenue or economic viability test will be used or if used, what the threshold level would be or how it would be administered, will only be made after evaluation of comments on the subject.

Section 702.12 Contents of application for exemption.

An application for exemption shall include at a minimum:

(b) A list of the minerals sought to be extracted and estimates of the annual and life-of-the-mine production to include;

(1) Tonnages of other minerals to be extracted for commercial use or sale and coal to be produced within each mining area,

(2) The basis for all tonnage, revenue, and fair market value estimates,

(3) Estimated revenues to be derived from bona fide sales of the other minerals to be removed and coal to be extracted within the mining area, and

(4) Where coal or the other minerals are to be used rather than sold, fair market values at the time of projected use of the coal to be extracted and other

Section 702.14 Requirements for exemption.

Activities are exempt from the requirements of the Act if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

* * * * *

(d) The revenue derived from the coal extracted from the mining area will not exceed 50 percent of the total revenue derived from the coal and other minerals removed for purposes of bona fide sale or reasonable commercial use over the life of the mining operation. If the coal extracted or the minerals removed are used by the operator or transferred to a related entity for use instead of being sold in a bona fide sale, then the fair market value of the coal or other minerals shall be determined at the time of use or transfer and shall be considered rather than revenue.

Section 702.18 Reporting requirements.

(a) At the conclusion of each 12-month period following approval of the exemption, a person conducting activities covered by this part shall file a written report with the regulatory authority containing the information required by paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section with respect to:

(1) The preceding twelve-month period; and

(2) The entire life period of active operations at the mining area.

(b) The report shall be filed no later than 30 days following the end of such twelve-month period. Information in the report shall be separately identified for each mining area covered by the exemption.

(c) For each period and mining area covered by the report, the report shall specify:

(1) The number of tons of extracted coal sold in bona fide sales and total revenue derived from such sales;

(2) The number of tons of coal extracted and used by the operator or related entity and the estimated total fair market value of such coal;

(3) The number of tons of other commercially valuable minerals removed and sold in bona fide sales and total revenue derived from such sales; and

(4) The number of tons of other commercially valuable minerals removed and used by the operator or related entity and the estimated total fair market value of such minerals.

III. Discussion of Proposed Modifications

OSMRE is proposing to adopt a revenue test to determine whether the coal removal is "incidental" to the other mining activities. The House of Representatives Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs and other commenters have recommended that a revenue or an economic viability test is appropriate to meet the "incidental" part of the requirement for the exemption. OSMRE has decided to request comments on the merits of the proposal.

Section 702.12 Contents of application for exemption.

Proposed § 702.12(b) would be modified to reflect the revenue test which OSMRE is proposing in § 702.14(d), discussed below. As previously proposed, the application was required to contain an estimate of the annual and life-of-mine tonnages for the coal and other minerals to be removed from the mining area. To provide a basis for the regulatory authority to evaluate whether the applicant would be able to meet the revenue test, the application would also have to include estimates of the annual and life-of-the-mine revenues to be derived from bona fide sales of the other minerals to be removed and coal to be extracted within the mining area.

OSMRE recognizes that a revenue test would not be appropriate when the coal extracted or the other minerals removed are used by the operator or a related entity instead of being sold. In such situations, no "revenue" is obtained from the material used. The appropriate revenue factor to consider in such instances is the fair market value at the time of projected use of the coal to be extracted and other minerals to be removed. Proposed § 702.12(b) would require the application to include annual and life-of-mine estimates of the fair market values of the coal and other minerals to be used by the operator and related entities. The application would also have to provide the basis for revenue and fair market value estimates.

Section 702.14 Requirements for exemption.

Revenue Test

OSMRE is proposing to adopt § 702.14(d) which would establish a revenue test to determine whether the coal removal is "incidental" to the other mining activities.

Under proposed paragraph (d), the extraction of coal would qualify for the exemption only if the revenue derived from the coal extracted from the mining area would not exceed, for example, 50 percent of the total revenue derived from the coal and other minerals removed for purposes of bona fide sale or reasonable commercial use over the life of the mining operation. The proposal would provide further that if the coal extracted or the minerals removed are used by the operator or transferred to a related entity for use instead of being sold in a bona fide sale, then the fair market value of the coal used or other mineral used at the time of the use shall be considered rather than revenue. OSMRE is considering excluding the value of stockpiled minerals in calculating the revenue test and specifically requests comments with regard to this issue. Specific comments are also requested on how the revenue test would be applicable to existing operations.

Section 702.18 Reporting requirements.

Proposed § 702.18 would impose an annual reporting requirement relating to the proposed tonnage and revenue tests. The regulatory authority would not have to reapply the tonnage and revenue tests every year and each operator would not have to demonstrate that it satisfies these tests for every 12 month period. OSMRE recognizes that in certain instances, the tonnage of the coal extracted may exceed 16 2/3 percent for a particular period or the revenue derived from the coal extracted may exceed, for example, 50 percent for a particular period, but would be less than those figures over the life of the mine. Such circumstances would depend upon the mining sequence and location of the coal relative to the other minerals in the mining area and would have been projected in the exemption application. The annual report would provide a basis for monitoring to assure that the operation is proceeding as contemplated in the approved application.

Under proposed § 702.18, each person conducting activities covered by Part 702 would be required annually to file a report with the regulatory authority. Under the proposal, information in the report would have to be separately identified for each mining area covered by the exemption. Such information would cover two periods. It would cover the 12 consecutive month period following approval of the exemption and it would also cumulatively cover the life of active operations at the mining area.

For each period and mining area covered by the report, the report would have to specify: (1) The number of tons of extracted coal sold in bona fide sales and total revenue derived from such sales; (2) The number of tons of coal extracted and used by the operator or related entity and the estimated total fair market value of such coal; (3) The number of tons of other commercially valuable minerals removed and sold in bona fide sales and total revenue derived from such sales; and (4) The number of tons of other commercially valuable minerals removed and used by the operator or related entity and the estimated total fair market value of such minerals. Having this information would enable the regulatory authority to monitor the progress of the operation.

State Marine Casualty Reporting; Accident Report Thresholds

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard proposes to raise the reporting requirement threshold to $400 for vessel accidents involving only property damage. Because of inflation since 1979, the existing $200 threshold has resulted in the submission of increasing numbers of accident reports for minor incidents. These reports tend to distort the statistical base for the Boating Safety Program. These additional accident reports, which were not required to be submitted in 1979, have also increased the administrative burden on the Coast Guard and the reporting burden on the boating public. Raising the accident reporting threshold to $400 will compensate for the effects of inflation, provide for a consistent statistical base and reduce the administrative burden on the Coast Guard and the reporting burden on the boating public. State casualty reporting systems may continue to require submission of accident reports at a lower threshold than that required by the Coast Guard.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before June 24, 1988.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be submitted to Commandant (G-CMC/21), [CGD 82-015], U.S. Coast Guard, Washington, DC 20593-0001. Comments may be delivered to and will be available for examination and copying at the Marine Safety Council (G-CMC/21), Room 2110, U.S. Coast Guard Headquarters, 2100 Second Street SW., Washington, DC 20593-0001, between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Carlton Perry, Office of Boating, Public, and Consumer Affairs (202) 267-0979.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Interested persons are invited to submit written views, data or arguments on these proposed rules. Persons submitting comments should include their names and addresses, identify this Notice (CGD 82-015) and give the reasons for the comment. Persons desiring acknowledgment that their comments have been received should include a stamped, self-addressed postcard or envelope. The proposal may be changed in light of comments received. All comments received by the expiration of the comment period will be considered before final rule action is taken on this proposal. No public hearing has been scheduled, but one may be held at a time and place to be set in a later notice in the Federal Register, if requested by persons raising a genuine issue and it is determined that the rulemaking will benefit from oral presentations.

Drafting Information

The principal persons involved in drafting this proposed rule are Carlton Perry, Project Manager and Christena Green, Project Attorney.

Discussion of the Proposed Amendment

Sections 173.55 and 174.101 of Title 33 Code of Federal Regulations, require the submission of a casualty or accident report for accidents involving fatalities, injuries requiring medical treatment beyond first aid, or property damage more than $200 or complete loss of vessel. The casualty reporting system has helped to achieve uniform reporting of boating accident information and has provided a statistical base to evaluate the need for safety standards and to help analyze program effectiveness.

In 1972 the original reporting threshold for vessel accidents resulting in only property damage was $100. The reports required under this criterion provided an adequate statistical base for boating safety analyses. However, the effects of inflation on the reporting system necessitated an increase in the reporting threshold to $200 in 1979, both to reduce the number of reports required to be filed and to correct the distortion on the year to year data in the statistical base. The reporting threshold again needs to be adjusted to compensate for the effects of inflation.

Any fixed figure selected as the reporting threshold amount will, over time, become outdated. The Coast Guard plans to review the reporting threshold amount annually, applying the Gross National Product (GNP) deflator, published by the Department of Commerce. When appropriate, the Coast Guard will raise the threshold in $100 increments.

Using this method on the original $100 threshold set in 1972 results in accident reporting threshold of $400 for the year 1985 and $500 for the year 1990. In 1972, the GNP deflator was 46.5, on a 1982 base. In 1978, the GNP deflator was 72.2, on a 1982 base. Multiplying $100 by 72.2 and dividing by 46.5 yields an equivalent of $155.27. Rounding to the nearest hundred dollars yields and equivalent figure of $200 for 1978 (final rule raising the threshold to $200 effective 1979). Applying the formula to subsequent years yields equivalent figures of $300 for 1981, $400 for 1985 and $500 for 1990.

Determining the Appropriate Level for the Reporting Threshold

The proposed rule will simply adjust the reporting threshold to compensate for inflation and to maintain a statistical data base comparable to previous years. The Coast Guard is also interested, however, in receiving comments on the desirability of establishing a reporting threshold between $500 and $1,000. A reporting threshold between $500 and $1,000 would not only reduce the number of reports required to be submitted, but it would also reduce the amount of information received by eliminating the reporting requirement for lower levels of property damage historically contained in our statistical data base. The Coast Guard publishes these statistics in an annual report, Boating Statistics, and distributes it to about 4,000 entities interested in recreational boating safety, including the news media, State, local and private organizations, and individuals.

The following table represents the effects that various accident reporting threshold levels between $400 and $1,000 would have had on the property damage accident reports actually received during Calendar Year 1986, when the reporting threshold was $200.

Reporting Threshold Effects on CY 1986 Property Damage Reports

Reporting threshold amount	Number of reports received	Cumulative percent reduction of reports required	Incremental percent reduction of reports required
$1,000	2,124	40.6	2.2
900	2,201	38.4	3.3
800	2,321	35.1	2.7
700	2,418	32.4	3.5
600	2,543	28.9	8.9
500	2,859	20.0	4.4
400	3,018	15.6

The Coast Guard specifically seeks public comment on the following questions, as they relate to the information contained in the above table.

Questions

1. Should the reporting threshold be raised to $400 now for CY 1989, to preserve a comparable data base, and be raised to $500 for CY 1990 to maintain the data base, if still supported by the indexing formula?

2. Should the reporting threshold be raised to $500 now for CY 1989, to avoid repeating the regulatory process for CY 1990?

3. Should the reporting threshold be set at some higher level between $600 and $1,000, establishing a new data base on which to apply the indexing formula?

4. Should the reporting dollar threshold be replaced by the specific types of damage which should be reported, regardless of dollar value of the property damage?

5. For what purposes are the Coast Guard statistics on recreational boating property damage used?

6. What impacts, if any, would result from the loss of information, if a reporting threshold above $400 were established?

Improving Compliance with Requirements for Reporting Property Damage

Coast Guard and State officials recognize that failure of recreational boaters to report boating accidents is a continuing concern. The Coast Guard is working with the States to increase the boating community's awareness and compliance with accident reporting requirements. The Coast Guard is interested in improving this effort. Therefore, public comment is requested on any measures that could be taken to improve boaters' compliance with requirements for reporting property damage. Your participation will assist the Coast Guard in the development of appropriate data affecting recreational boating safety. If regulatory action is indicated, it will be subject to a separate notice of proposed rule making.

The National Boating Safety Advisory Council and the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators have been consulted and their opinions and advice have been considered in the formulation of this proposed rule. The transcripts of the proceedings of the National Boating Safety Advisory Council at which this proposed rule was discussed are available for examination in Room 4306, U.S. Coast Guard Headquarters, 2100 Second Street SW., Washington, DC 20593-0001. The minutes of the meetings are available from the Executive Director, National Boating Safety Advisory Council, c/o Commandant (G-BBS), U.S. Coast Guard, 2100 Second Street SW., Washington, DC 20593-0001.

Regulatory Evaluation

This proposed regulation is considered non-major under Executive Order No. 12291 and nonsignificant under Department of Transportation regulatory policies and procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979). This amendment is being proposed to make an adjustment to an accident reporting criterion and does not reflect interpretations of statutory language. The Coast Guard collects and analyzes accident data on a calendar year basis and the intent of this proposed amendment is to keep accident data comparable from year to year. The effect of the proposed amendment is to reduce the number of reports being submitted for accidents of decreasing seriousness due to economic inflation. Raising the reporting criteria from "more than $200" to "more than $400" will reduce the number of reports presently required because minor cosmetic damage repair costs exceed the reporting threshold. Applying the proposed $400 threshold to the reporting burden for accidents involving only property damage in 1986, reduces the 1,787 hours of reporting burden by 356 hours. The adequacy of this alternative and method of annual application of GNP deflators to the reporting threshold will be reconsidered during a review of all Coast Guard recreational boating safety regulations scheduled for May 1991. For these reasons, the economic impact of the proposal has been found to be so minimal that further evaluation is unnecessary. Since the impact of the proposal is expected to be minimal, the agency certifies that it will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE*National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration*50 CFR Part 611*[Docket No. 80472-8073]*Foreign Fishing*AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), NOAA, Commerce.ACTION: Advance notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: NOAA seeks comments on regulatory and other options to respond to illegal fishing in the U.S. Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) of the Bering Sea, and to the possibility of harvests in an adjacent area that threaten U.S. stocks. The options include: (1) Requiring foreign fishing vessels (FFVs) carrying U.S. observers within the EEZ to continue carrying them on any voyage beyond the EEZ in the Bering Sea; (2) allowing processing and support activities in the EEZ only for fish harvested inside U.S. waters; and (3) requiring inspection of FFVs entering and leaving the EEZ in the Bering Sea. Implementation of one or more of these options would allow NOAA to monitor more closely harvests in the Bering Sea and to combat illegal fishing within the EEZ.

DATES: Comments must be filed on or before May 25, 1988.

ADDRESS: Send written comments to Alfred J. Bilik, Fees and Permits Branch, F/TS21, National Marine Fisheries Service, 1825 Connecticut Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20235. Telex 467856 US COM FISH CI

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The remote Bering Sea, despite hostile weather and sea conditions, is the world's most productive fishing ground. The Bering Sea's primary production areas that support a wide variety of fish and shellfish are located almost entirely within the U.S. EEZ and the U.S.S.R. economic zone (EZ). A small portion of the central Bering Sea, entirely surrounded by the two zones and referred to as the "donut hole," supports fisheries based on pelagic resources such as Alaska pollock and several species of anadromous Pacific salmon and steelhead.

The United States has implemented fishery conservation, management, and development policies, consistent with international law, that are rapidly displacing foreign fishing fleets from the EEZ. In the EEZ off Alaska, the phase-out of foreign fishing has ended foreign directed fishing, at least for the first part of 1988, and is reducing the dependence of the U.S. harvesting sector on foreign fish processing vessels.

As a result, displaced FFVs are either relocating their efforts to the "donut hole," or may be fishing illegally within U.S. waters but may be reporting their catch as having been harvested in the "donut hole." There are indications that some FFVs have been abusing the right to fish within the central Bering Sea to the detriment of the interests of the U.S., whose waters provide many of the spawning grounds for the resources beyond.

The Coast Guard has documented numerous aerial sightings of FFVs in the Bering Sea EEZ, but either could not identify the vessels or could not prove they were engaged in harvesting activities. Then on January 13, 1988, as many as seven modern trawler-processors of Japanese registry were videotaped from a privately chartered airplane as they were fishing on Bowers Ridge, 35 miles inside the U.S. EEZ, despite the fact that no foreign nation has received an allocation for Alaska groundfish in 1988. Several of the vessels had concealed their identification numbers. There is little doubt that these vessels entered the EEZ from or on their way to the "donut hole." U.S. enforcement officials are concerned that unregulated fisheries in the "donut hole" provide an opportunity for FFVs to fish illegally within the U.S. EEZ and avoid detection by enforcement patrols.

In addition to providing a sanctuary for FFVs poaching in the EEZ, the "donut hole" may be a "last frontier" for foreign fishing vessels. During certain times of the year, Alaska pollock form large spawning aggregations subject to deepwater trawling in the "donut hole." Vessels from Japan, the Republic of Korea, Poland, the People's Republic of China, and possibly from North Korea and Taiwan have recently fished there. The reported catch from the "donut hole" has increased dramatically from about 15,000 metric tons in 1980 to about 993,000 metric tons in 1986. The "donut hole" is the only area in the Bering Sea ecosystem where FFVs can take significant amounts of fish free of even the mildest conservation limitations. If the harvest in the "donut hole" is actually as high as reported, U.S. scientists are concerned that this level of fishing could adversely affect the entire Bering Sea ecosystem. Continued unrestrained fishing in the "donut hole" may ultimately adversely affect the conservation efforts of the United States in the EEZ.

NOAA is responding to these problems by implementing an Emergency Final Rule, published in today's Federal Register to change the definition of "fishing" to improve enforcement and to gather additional information on Bering Sea harvests. NOAA is considering other options that, individually or in combination, would address the situation.

Option 1—Observers

Late last year, the North Pacific Fishery Management Council (Council) recommended that NOAA condition foreign fishing permit authorizations for vessels which support U.S. fishing vessels in the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands groundfish fishery, and which also conduct directed fishing operations in the adjacent waters beyond the EEZ. The condition was that the flag nation be required to agree that such vessels would carry U.S. observers while fishing in the "donut hole."

NOAA replied that it could not implement the recommendation until adequate preparations were completed. Permit authorizations were approved for 1988 without the recommended condition, but applicant nations were notified that the Council's recommendation was under consideration and that the permit authorizations might be amended later. Such an amendment can be made under the provisions of 50 CFR 611.3(l); no rulemaking is required.

This notice is published in compliance with § 611.3(l)(3) as a proposed "additional restriction." NOAA proposes to implement an "extended" observer program by amending the 1988 foreign fishing permit authorizations that allow vessels to receive Alaska groundfish from U.S. vessels under the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands Groundfish Fishery Management Plan. Appropriate authorizations would be amended by adding an item (c) to the section entitled "Other Activities Authorized and Additional Conditions and Restrictions Applicable to Permits":

(c) If requested by the Regional Director, Alaska Region, the named vessels must carry a U.S. observer aboard when conducting fishing operations in waters of the Bering Sea beyond the seaward boundary of the EEZ of any nation.

This observer program would further conservation and management of Bering Sea groundfish because of the probable relation between removals from the "donut hole" and stocks in the EEZ. A bilateral arrangement between a foreign nation and the U.S. for an observer program in the "donut hole" would be an acceptable substitute for compliance with the observer condition.

Comments on this option will be considered in any decision to amend existing permit authorizations.

Option 2—Support Limitations

It is extremely rare for FFVs to be caught conducting unauthorized harvesting operations in the EEZ, as Japanese trawlers were observed doing January 13. The unusual circumstances of this discovery lead to the conclusion that such illegal fishing may be commonplace. We suspect most such activities occur at night, during bad weather, or by monitoring the whereabouts of U.S. enforcement patrols. FFVs encountered merely processing or transferring fish in the Bering Sea EEZ have been effectively exempt from the foreign fishing regulations, because of our inability to disprove that the fish involved were taken outside the EEZ.

Today's emergency rulemaking revises the definition of "fishing" so that all processing and transfer activities in the EEZ will be subject to U.S. permitting and reporting requirements. But, since a permitted support vessel would still have a legitimate reason for being in the Bering Sea EEZ, enforcement officials would have difficulty in distinguishing whether any fish aboard came from the EEZ or from outside waters. (FFV logs usually do not implicate the vessel as having fished illegally in the EEZ.)

One approach to this enforcement problem is to limit processing and transfer operations in the Bering Sea EEZ to activities involving only fish that is harvested in U.S. waters. This could be accomplished by amending § 611.93, either (1) by directly prohibiting in the EEZ any activities supporting the harvest of fish taken seaward of the Bering Sea management area (BSMA), as defined in § 611.93(a)(1); or (2) by requiring FFVs entering the BSMA to conduct joint ventures with U.S. fishing vessels to enter with empty holds. Mere transit of the BSMA with non-EEZ fish aboard would be allowed. Either alternative could be combined with Option 3, described below.

Option 2 essentially would require vessels engaged in "donut hole" fishing to remain outside the EEZ, or to conduct processing operations in Alaskan internal waters, if allowed by the Governor of Alaska. "Donut hole" operations and fishing in U.S. waters would be separated in time and space. The only way an FFV could hide "donut" fish or fish illegally taken in the EEZ would be by underlogging, which is subject to detection by observers or by enforcement boardings.

While Option 2 is attractive from an enforcement viewpoint, it sacrifices opportunities to gain information on Bering Sea harvests. FFVs operating only in the "donut hole" would have no need for U.S. permits, and thus would not be subject to reporting, inspection, or observer requirements. It would also place burdens on foreign fishing fleets, which prefer the calmer waters of loading zones inside the EEZ for transfer operations.

Option 3—Inspections

It has been suggested that all FFVs entering the Bering Sea EEZ with the intent of conducting support operations should be required to make a port call in Alaska to be inspected; exit inspections of such vessels would also be mandatory. This could be accomplished by amending the regulations governing foreign fishing in the Bering Sea and North Pacific Ocean (§ 611.90(f)).

This proposal could not be carried out under the present budget of the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS). During 1987, there were 4,364 foreign fishing vessel entries to and exits from the EEZ off Alaska. The NMFS Enforcement Office in Alaska estimates a cost of $95,000 per month, plus salaries, to ensure full inspection of each FFV entering and exiting the EEZ. Without assistance from a private or other governmental source, this option is not viable.

Option 3A, a variation on 100 percent inspection, would be to inspect in port only some of the FFVs entering and exiting the Bering Sea management area (BSMA), as defined in § 611.93(a)(1). Section 611.90(f) would be revised to add an inspection opportunity before the FFV leaves the BSMA and to clarify that entry and exit inspections may occur at sea or in port. Within the 24 hours following a BEGIN or SHIFT (into a BSMA area) message, NOAA would send notice to the FFV that it must come to port to be inspected before it could begin any "fishing" operation (as redefined in today's emergency rulemaking). Within the 24 hours following a CEASE message, NOAA would send notice to come to port before leaving the BSMA. If no notice were received, the FFV would be free to begin fishing or to leave the area. The cost of Option 3A would obviously depend on the number of FFVs called into port.

Either option would facilitate inspection of fish, fish products, and fishing gear aboard vessels that conduct fishery support operations in the Bering Sea management area. BEGIN messages, which must include the amount of fish and fish products on board upon entry into the EEZ, could be verified. The capacity of vessels arriving with empty holds could be measured, to be compared with cargoes upon exit. Inspection would provide some cross-checking with reports on transfers within the BSMA. And, since some FFVs would be entering the BSMA after harvesting fish in the "donut hole," some information pertinent to that fishery could be gathered.

On the other hand, the proposal would impose substantial costs in lost fishing time, fuel, and pilotage fees on foreign vessels. More important in enforcement terms, one-point inspection would not stop all illegal poaching. An FFV could still proceed to the "donut hole" but re-enter the EEZ at night, during bad weather, or by monitoring U.S. enforcement activities. After loading up with fish, the FFV could check in, ascribe its load to harvest in the "donut," and conduct transfer or joint venture operations in the BSMA. On its way out, the FFV would reverse the strategy, poaching after being inspected in port.

NOAA is allowing only 30 days for comments on these proposals due to the urgency of the situation. We recognize that the two purposes of the rulemaking—improving enforcement and collecting information—cannot each be accomplished to the maximum extent by any of the proposed options; we are seeking an appropriate balance. NOAA also welcomes suggestions for additional measures.

Forest Service

Mono Basin National Forest Scenic Area; Private Property Development Guidelines

AGENCY: Forest Service, USDA.

ACTION: Adoption of final guidelines.

SUMMARY: The Forest Service hereby establishes a set of guidelines for the development of private property within the boundaries of the Mono Basin National Forest Scenic Area. The guidelines are written to comply with directions set forth in the California Wilderness Act of 1984 (16 U.S.C. 478, 511), which established the Scenic Area. Application of these guidelines will determine if proposed private property development is compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area. Properties determined to be incompatible with the guidelines must be brought into compliance or will be subject to acquisition by the Federal Government.

EFFECTIVE DATE: These guidelines are effective April 25, 1988.

Marcus Petty, Recreation Staff, Washington, DC, (202) 447-2311 or Nancy Upham, Scenic Area Manager, Lee Vining, CA, (619) 647-6525.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In accordance with the provisions of the California Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 478, 511) establishing the Mono Basin National Forest Scenic Area, the Forest Service hereby adopts guidelines that provide the basis for determinations of detrimental or incompatible uses of private land within the Scenic Area. The guidelines assist the Forest Service and landowners in meeting the statutory management objectives to protect the natural, scenic, ecologic, geologic and cultural resources of the area.

Under section 303(a) of the California Wilderness Act, the Secretary is authorized to acquire all lands and interest therein within the boundary of the Scenic Area by donation, exchange, or purchase with donated or appropriated funds, except that:

1. Any lands or interests therein within the boundary of the Scenic Area which are owned by the State of California or political subdivision thereof (including the city of Los Angeles) may be acquired only by donation or exchange; and

2. Lands or interests therein within the boundary of the Scenic Area which are not owned by the State of California or any political subdivision thereof (including the city of Los Angeles) may be acquired only with the consent of the owner unless the Secretary determines, after written notice to the owner and after opportunity for comment, that the property is being developed, or proposed to be developed, in a manner which is detrimental to the integrity of the Scenic Area or which is otherwise incompatible with the purpose of the act.

These guidelines being adopted provide a process for determining compatibility of private land uses with the intent of the Act. Lands which are being used in a compatible manner will be certified by the Forest Service. Certification protects the owner from land acquisition by the Federal Government without the owner's consent. Certification of private property within the Scenic Area, or decertification with subsequent Federal land acquisition, is based on these guidelines.

These guidelines were developed after meetings were held with Scenic Area landowners and persons from the local community of Lee Vining. The Mono County Planning Department advised the Forest Service on how to design the guidelines to be consistent with County zoning ordinances in terminology and some specific land use requirements. The Scenic Area Advisory Board was consulted and their input incorporated.

A notice of proposed private property development guidelines was published in the Federal Register on June 27, 1986 (51 FR 23449). Comments were invited for the period ending July 27, 1986, analyzed and are summarized below.

Public Comments and Responses

Comments were received from 12 parties: Landowners within the Scenic Area (9), attorneys representing landowners within the Scenic Area (2), and a local business owner (1). Major comments and responses are summarized below.

Comment: Several comments were received which noted that there existed a disparity between land use categories. Landowners in the developed land use category were prohibited from constructing detached structures. Only attached structural additions would be allowed. The recommendation was that all properties should be allowed detached structures not to exceed 100% of the square footage of existing buildings.

Response: The final guidelines allow for the construction of detached structures in lieu of attached structural additions for properties in all three land use categories. Detached structures may be built in lieu of attached structural additions as long as the Forest Service determines that the visual impact of a detached structure would be no greater than the visual impact of an attached structural addition.

Comment: Several comments were received which recommended that more flexibility be built into the guidelines, allowing the Forest Service to address each situation on a case-by-case basis, rather than absolute regulations applying to all situations.

Response: The Forest Service believes that it has built in as much flexibility as possible while still remaining within the intent of the Scenic Area legislation.

Comment: Two comments were received which requested that the Forest Service adopt the Mono County building codes in lieu of new development guidelines which further restrict what landowners can do with their property.

Response: The Mono County Planning Department advised the Agency on how to design the guidelines to be consistent with County zoning ordinances and land use requirements. However, language in the Scenic Area legislation required further restrictions by referring to anything "significantly different from, or a significant expansion of development existing as of June 1, 1984", as being detrimental to the integrity of the Scenic Area. Therefore, to meet the intent of the law, the guidelines of necessity are more stringent than the Mono County zoning ordinances and land use requirements.

Comment: Two comments were received which requested that commercial property be treated with leniency and on a case-by-case basis so that businesses could expand and/or change as local economics dictate. They stated that it could be difficult to maintain a business under new restrictions placed on them by the guidelines.

Response: The proposed guidelines allowed only new recreational or interpretive facilities to be constructed in compatibility with the Scenic Area. The final guidelines are less restrictive and allow for new commercial businesses deemed compatible with the Scenic Area in the Comprehensive Management Plan as follows: In the Natural Land Use Category, new commercial developments may serve recreational, interpretive or research purposes; in the Developed Land Use Category, new commercial developments may be for any purpose as long as they are deemed compatible in the Comprehensive Management Plan; and in the Relict Land Use Category, facilities may be constructed that are needed for uses and developments identified in the Comprehensive Management Plan.

Comment: One reviewer suggested the implementation of a "grace" period of ten years under which landowners could develop their land to protect their investments.

Response: The Scenic Area legislation established a benchmark date of June 1, 1984 by which to measure any proposals for new development and/or expansion of existing development. As this date precedes the date of enactment, it is clear that Congress did not intend to allow a "grace" period for new construction and development, prior to the implementation of new restrictions on development.

Comment: One reviewer stated that landowners owning property of 100 acres or more on the west side of U.S. 395 between Lee Vining and Lundy Lake Road, should be allowed to parcel their property into no more than three parcels of no less than 20 acres each.

Response: A subdivision at the location described would result in a situation that is "significantly different from that which existed June 1, 1984", and would thereby render it detrimental to the integrity of the Scenic Area. Therefore, such subdivisions cannot be allowed.

Comment: One respondent stated that the section on land disturbance under general compatibility standards is not nearly restrictive enough. A simple prohibition against any new land disturbance was recommended.

Response: In the final guidelines the language of the land disturbance section has been strengthened to say that any new land disturbance, regardless of size, must not substantially impair or detract from natural, scenic, ecologic, geologic, and cultural values.

Comment: One respondent stated that there should be no expansion of the present mining activity.

Response: The Forest Service believes that the restrictions on mining operations outlined in the guidelines are sufficient to ensure that mining activity will not be detrimental to the integrity of the Scenic Area. Landowners are required to submit to the District Ranger a plan of operations by which a mining proposal can be screened for potential impairment of protected Scenic Area values, compliance with the general compatibility standards of these guidelines and State and Federal air and water quality standards, as well as planned mitigation. A proposal that did not meet these standards would not be certified.

Comment: One respondent stated that unimproved property in the developed land use category should be classified under the natural land use category. Development of that property should not be allowed.

Response: The Forest Service believes that, under the restrictions outlined in the guidelines, development of the six unimproved properties in the developed land use category would not be detrimental to the integrity of the Scenic Area. The developed land use category was so named because of the relative density of development in comparison to other places in the Scenic Area. Therefore, we believe that development of the unimproved property would not be significantly different from or a significant expansion of development existing June 1, 1984.

Comment: One respondent suggested that buildings with historical significance should be saved and landowners should be allowed the full square footage to construct another structure on the same property.

Response: The final guidelines allow for a variance to the compatibility standards for the preservation of historically significant structures as set forth in the National Historic Preservation Act (80 Stat. 915, 16 U.S.C. 470 et seq.). Significance would be determined by eligibility criteria for the National Register of Historic Places.

Comment: One respondent stated that the Forest Service should have the authority to require private property owners to divest their property of litter in the form of abandoned junk cars and trucks, vehicle parts, wheels, tires, etc.

Response: The agency has added a clause to section 4(b) of the guidelines on general compatibility standards applicable to all private property to ensure that private landowners protect scenic and aesthetic values by not accumulating debris, junk automobiles, and unused or unusable equipment on their properties.

Comment: One reviewer said that there should be a provision for amendments to the guidelines when in the future changes might be beneficial and/or necessary.

Response: A clause was added to section 1 of the guidelines to provide for amendments to these guidelines. Proposed amendments will be published in the Federal Register, with final adoption after interested persons have been given an opportunity to participate through submission of comments.

Comment: One reviewer said that landowners should be advised in writing when certification is denied or rescinded.

Response: A clause was added to section 3 of the guidelines that requires the District Ranger to notify an affected landowner in writing of the basis for denial or rescission of certification. The new language also states that the District Ranger may set a deadline by which the landowner may correct the non-conforming use.

Comment: One respondent stated that once the District Ranger determines that a proposal is non-detrimental and compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area, it should be so certified.

Response: This is the intent of the certification process. We have added a clause to section 3 on new uses and developments that states that, once a determination of proposal compatibility has been made, it shall be so certified in writing.

Comment: One respondent asked for clarification concerning the definition of "guest housing" and its application to residential structures or structures designed for transient occupancy, such as motel units.

Response: The definitions of "guest housing" and "secondary housing" were both modified to clarify that the terms do not include structures designed for authorized transient occupancy, such as certified motel units.

Comment: One reviewer asked if private landowners can subdivide their property for the purposes of sale, leasing or financing new construction or reconstruction.

Response: Under the general compatibility standards, the section on subdivision was clarified to allow subdivision of property by private landowners only when subdivision is intended to facilitate sale to the government to benefit the Scenic Area.

Comment: One reviewer asked if the requirement for placing utilities underground is from the nearest utility pole, or the like, owned by the applicable public utility and not offsite public utilities.

Response: The requirement for placing utilities underground in Section 4(b) applies only to modifications, expansion, replacement, or new utilities, to the nearest utility pole or the like, and does not affect any offsite public utilities. The original wording in the proposed guidelines is clear and therefore was not changed.

Comment: One respondent asked if both the reconstruction of an existing building and additions may not exceed 100% of the original building authorized.

Response: Both reconstruction and additions not to exceed 100% of the original building are considered compatible and will be certified. The word "and" was added to section 4(a)(2)(A) between the two authorizing clauses to clarify this point.

Comment: One reviewer asked if approval for new construction has to wait until the comprehensive management plan is completed.

Response: The only decisions on new development or construction proposals that will be delayed until the management plan is completed are those for new commercial businesses. A screening process will be designed in the management plan for making decisions on the compatibility of commercial proposals. This is referred to in section 5, parts (a), (b), and (c).

Comment: One respondent asked if livestock grazing constitutes a vegetative removal land disturbance.

Response: Grazing of livestock does not constitute a vegetative removal land disturbance as defined in section 4(b)(5) of the general compatibility standards. Grazing that existed as of June 1, 1984 is protected as a compatible use under the Scenic Area legislation. No wording changes were made in the guidelines.

In addition, the provision related to appeals of denials of certification has been revised to accommodate any future changes the Agency may make to its appeal regulations. This change will eliminate the necessity to revise guidelines for what would essentially be a technical matter.

Having considered the comments received in response to the proposed guidelines, the Forest Service hereby adopts the guidelines with the changes noted. These guidelines will be appended to the comprehensive management plan being developed for the Area. The text of the final guidelines appears at the end of this notice.

Guidelines for the Development of Private Lands Within the Mono Basin National Forest Scenic Area

Section 1—General

(a) Introduction. These guidelines shall provide standards for the use and development of private lands within the Mono Basin National Forest Scenic Area (hereafter "Scenic Area") as provided by the California Wilderness Act (Pub. L. 98-425; 98 Stat. 1632) hereafter, "Act". Private property meeting these standards shall be deemed compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area.

(b) Purposes of the Scenic Area. Congress has directed the Secretary of Agriculture to manage the Scenic Area to protect its geologic, ecologic, cultural, natural, and scenic resources.

(c) Amendments. Amendments to these guidelines shall be made by publishing proposed changes in the Federal Register, with final adoption after interested persons have been given an opportunity to participate through submission of comments.

(d) Definitions.

(1) "Accessory building" means a subordinate building incidental to main building on the same lot, which is not for habitation.

(2) "Attached" as applied to structural additions means structures which share at least one wall with the original structure and the height does not exceed that of the original.

(3) "Certified or certification" means a determination by the Forest Service that development or use of a property is compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area.

(4) "Continuous use" means any building or structure used full time or seasonally (at least 3 months of the year) prior to June 1, 1984.

(5) "Existing use" means a use, including development or practice, that was occurring as of June 1, 1984 (or if seasonal, within the twelve (12) months prior to June 1, 1984) by, or with the consent of, the landowner, consistent with applicable laws and regulations; including, but not limited to local zoning and State and local pollution abatement requirements. An exception to this definition is found in section 3(b).

(6) "Expansion" means an increase in the square footage of a structure or an increase in the size, area, or effect (visual, noise, etc.) of any improvement or disturbance.

(7) "Guest housing" means a second structure on a lot designed for habitation. This does not include structures designed for authorized transient occupancy, such as certified motel units.

(8) "Improved property" means a parcel containing any improvements requiring a building permit (residence, accessory building, fence or other non-earth development, etc). An exception to this definition is found in section 3(b).

(9) "Improvements" means any manmade structure of a permanent or semi-permanent nature without regard to size.

(10) "Private property" means all land owned by other than the Federal Government, the State of California, or any subdivision thereof (including the City of Los Angeles).

(11) "Reconstruction" means remodeling (including replacement of worn or damaged items) including roofing, siding, and other structural replacement up to and including total building removal and reconstruction.

(12) "Secondary housing" or guest housing means a second structure on a lot designed for habitation. This does not include structures designed for authorized transient occupancy, such as certified motel units.

(13) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture acting by or through the Forest Service, Mono Lake Ranger District, Inyo National Forest.

(14) "Serviceable" means the condition of a building or structure which renders it ready for its designed use (i.e., habitation, storage, etc.) for the present and in the future.

(15) "Significant geologic features" includes, but is not limited to, craters, volcanic domes, fissures, hot water and steam vents, the eastern Sierra escarpment as a whole, and all tufa within the Scenic Area.

(16) "Structure" means an improvement in such condition that it is available for its designed use.

(17) "Unimproved property" means a parcel without improvements. Minor earthwork which does not require a county grading permit does not render property improved.

(18) "Use" means an activity or development, associated with a parcel of land.

(19) "Use and development plan" includes all documents required by Mono County and all specific details the District Ranger deems necessary.

Section 2—Land Use Classifications

(a) General. For purposes of managing the Scenic Area and achieving the statutory objectives for the area, the Forest Service shall classify the lands within the Scenic Area in one of three land use categories: Natural, Developed, and Relict as shown on the Land Use Category Map dated May 7, 1985, on file and available for public inspection in the office of the District Ranger, Mono

Lake Ranger District on the Inyo National Forest, Lee Vining, CA.

(b) Relict Land Use Category. This category consists of all lands below elevation 6,417 feet.

This land use category includes exposed lake bottom containing open vistas, outstanding geologic features and wildlife habitat. Only isolated development exists and is essentially limited to scattered interpretive facilities, boat access, range and wildlife improvements and a few residence. Management emphasis on lands in this category is to protect and interpret the natural ecosystems, cultural values and outstanding geologic features of the area.

(c) Developed Land Use Category. This category consists of lands north of Lee Vining in a strip approximately one mile each side of US 395 and above elevation 6,417 feet.

This area is characterized by a predominantly rural and natural appearing landscape with some developments and structures. Private parcels in this area have historically been used for commercial, residential and community purposes. Management emphasis on lands in this category is to maintain the rural and natural appearing landscape while allowing and providing for recreational and interpretive developments where appropriate. Limited further development and continued use of privately owned land compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area are consistent with the management emphasis for this portion of the Scenic Area.

(d) Natural Land Use Category. This category includes all lands within the Scenic Area not included in the Relict and Developed Land Use Categories.

These lands are predominately natural in appearance, containing essentially uninterrupted vistas, outstanding geologic features and extensive rangeland and grazing with no significant impacts on wildlife habitats, ecologic processes and dispersed recreational uses. Management of lands in the natural category emphasizes protection of the natural character, ecosystems, cultural values and outstanding geologic features; and providing recreational and interpretive facilities and opportunities consistent with the purposes and values for which the Scenic Area was established. Management of lands in this category also recognizes compatible development and resource uses.

Section 3—Certification

(a) General. Private lands used in a manner consistent with the land use standards of these guidelines are deemed compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area. The District Ranger certifies that the land use is consistent with the management standards. Uses will be recorded by diagrams, written descriptions and photographs, which will provide accurate base line data from which new construction, reconstruction, or expansion will be reviewed. Landowners who have not been certified shall apply to the Forest Service for certification prior to any change in use or development of their property. Certification of uses will not be affected by a change in ownership, for that reason only. The Secretary will not acquire by condemnation certified property within the Scenic Area.

The certification of any structure or use located on relict lands is not deemed a waiver of any claim by the U.S. Government to title of lands in the relict area.

(b) Pre-existing uses. All land uses and developments existing on June 1, 1984, shall be depicted on maps and in records at the District Ranger's office, shall be deemed compatible with the purposes of the scenic area, and shall be certified by letter to the landowner. Developments occurring after June 1, 1984, shall be certified as though they existed on June 1, 1984, if the landowner was issued a valid Mono County building permit between June 1, 1984, and May 22, 1985.

(c) New Uses and Developments. All new uses and developments are subject to certification, including changes from uses existing on June 1, 1984. All new uses after that date shall be certified, if they are confined to locations where they may be conducted without detracting from the purposes and objectives of the Scenic Area. Any landowner who proposes to change uses or develop property shall submit to the District Ranger a use and development plan setting forth the manner in which the property is proposed to be developed and proposed uses of the property. If the District Ranger determines that the development and use plan conforms to the applicable standards established for the land use category in which the property is located, the District Ranger will declare the proposal non-detrimental and compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area, and it shall be so certified in writing.

Landowners may develop new recreation and interpretive facilities in locations deemed appropriate through the Comprehensive Management Plan. Such facilities must be certified.

(d) Historically Significant Structures. A variance to the compatibility standards may be allowed for the preservation of historically significant structures as set forth in the National Historic Preservation Act, 36 CFR Part 800, and determined by eligibility criteria for the National Register of Historic Places, 36 CFR 60.4.

(e) Coordination with County Zoning Ordinances. If the County enacts zoning regulations consistent with these guidelines, the District Ranger may coordinate compatibility determinations with the County approval process in order to reduce duplication of review and facilitate approvals. In such an event, the Forest Service would effectively be providing staff input to the County process, and would certify compatible uses, upon approval by the County.

Should the County grant a zoning variance in conflict with these guidelines, the Secretary may acquire the property without consent of the owner if the property use is otherwise deemed incompatible.

(f) Denial or Rescission of Certification. The District Ranger shall deny or rescind certification when a change in use or developments results in non-conformance with applicable standards. The District Ranger shall notify an affected landowner in writing of the basis for such denial or rescission and may provide a period of time for correction of the non-conforming use.

(g) Appeals. In giving written notice of a decision to deny certification to a land owner, the District Ranger shall specifically advise the landowner of any available opportunity to appeal the decision and include the name and address of the officer with whom an appeal may be filed.

Section 4—Compatibility Standards

(a) Existing Improvements. As required by section 303(b)(2) of the Act, the District Ranger shall certify the following uses as compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area:

(1) Development and uses existing as of June 1, 1984.

(2) Reconstruction and expansion of buildings, support systems and facilities existing on June 1, 1984, and new construction of support systems and facilities as follows:

(A) Reconstruction of an existing building, and

(B) Construction of attached structural additions, not to exceed 100 percentum of the square footage of the original building, and

(C) Construction of reasonable support development such as roads, parking, water and sewage systems.

(b) General Compatibility Standards. Landowners must conform to the following standards for their continued land uses to be compatible and remain certified:

(1) Disposal of Wastes. Landowners provide for disposal of solid and liquid waste originating on or resulting from use of their properties, consistent with State and County law.

(2) Utilities. Landowners place underground all utility modifications, expansion, replacement, or new utilities, (including cable TV). Any utility structures required to be above ground (e.g. satellite dishes, windmills, etc.) are painted in earth tones and properly placed to be screened by vegetation and/or topography.

(3) Discharge of Pollutants. Landowners obtain required permits for discharging pollutants, as defined by State law.

(4) Use of Recreation Vehicles. Landowners use or store recreation vehicles, including but not limited to, motor homes, camper trucks and travel trailers, on private property within the Scenic Area as follows:

(A) For no more than 60 days recreational use,

(B) For one year during construction of a residence.

(C) For storage by an owner, at the owner's residence.

(5) Land Disturbance. Landowners obtain approval of the District Ranger for any new land disturbance (movement of 200 cubic yards of soil or more, or clearing land 10,000 square feet or more) and/or vegetative removal on other than a building site (e.g. tree farm, alfalfa field, mining roads, etc.). Any new land disturbance, regardless of size, must not substantially impair or detract from natural, scenic, ecologic, geologic and cultural values.

(6) Mobile Homes. Landowners provide the following conditions for new placement and use of mobile homes (manufactured housing):

(A) Mobile home is on permanent foundation,

(B) Mobile home has a pitched roof,

(C) Mobile home is paneled with wood siding, which is painted or stained an earth tone color that harmonizes with the natural surroundings.

(7) Commercial Signs. Landowners use commercial signs as follows:

(A) Signs are located on the site on which the use occurs,

(B) Signs do not exceed 40 square feet in size with a maximum length of 8 feet and maximum height from the ground of 15 feet,

(C) Signs do not feature flashing or neon devices, and

(D) Signs are of colors that harmonize with the natural surroundings.

(8) Subdivision. Landowners subdivide their property only when subdivision is intended to facilitate sale to the government to benefit the Scenic Area.

(9) Secondary Housing. Landowners do not construct or provide secondary or guest housing.

(10) Damage to a Certified Structure. Landowners reconstruct or remove structures damaged by fire, flood, or other catastrophe in conformance with the applicable standards. A landowner does not need new certification for reconstruction unless the damage reduces the value of the structure by 50% or more.

(11) Storage. Landowners do not utilize cargo containers, semi-trailers, train cars, or other trailers for storage or other incompatible uses.

(12) Maintenance. Landowners maintain buildings, structures, and grounds, including fences, in an equal or upgraded condition to that noted in the original certification, or they remove said buildings and structures.

(13) Home Industry. Landowners establish only those home industries deemed compatible with the purposes of the Scenic Area. Home industries must be certified by the District Ranger.

(14) Grazing. Landowners maintain or reduce the level of grazing that existed June 1, 1984. Increased levels of grazing must be certified by the District Ranger.

(15) Scenic and Aesthetic Values. Landowners protect scenic and aesthetic values by not accumulating debris, junk automobiles, and unused or unusable equipment on their properties.

(16) Conformance with Other Standards. When appropriate, landowners adopt all applicable and practicable guidelines for unimproved residential property in the Developed Land Use Category, section 5(b)(1)(A).

(17) Conformance with Other Regulations. Landowners use and develop their property in conformance with applicable Federal, State and local laws, regulations and ordinances.

(c) Mining. The standards set forth in this paragraph shall apply to private property in any land use category which is used for mineral operations. To aid in determining whether a planned mineral operation will conform to these guidelines, the landowner shall submit to the District Ranger a proposed plan of operations in compliance with agency regulations at 36 CFR 228.8.

All existing mining operations as of June 1, 1984, will be certified. The District Ranger will certify all other operations in the Scenic Area if the following conditions are met:

(1) Landowners confine operations to locations where they may be conducted without substantially impairing or detracting from the natural, scenic, ecologic, geologic and cultural values of the area.

(2) Operators meet the general compatibility standards set forth in paragraphs (b)(1)-(17) of this section.

(3) Landowners describe in their operating plans how the operations will:

(A) Comply with Federal and State air and water quality waste disposal standards.

(B) Minimize adverse impacts on scenic values.

(C) Provide for prompt stabilization and restoration of areas disturbed by the operations.

(4) Operators meet all pertinent provisions of the rules governing mining set forth in 36 CFR Part 228.

Section 5—Standards for New Development

New use and development of private lands will be deemed compatible and will be certified if landowners comply with the standards in section 4, paragraphs (b)(1)-(17) and the following additional specific land use category standards:

(1) Unimproved Property. Landowners may construct and provide only those new commercial developments which serve recreational, interpretive, or research purposes and which are deemed compatible with the Scenic Area in the Comprehensive Management Plan.

(2) Improved Property.

(A) Landowners may construct and provide only those new commercial developments which serve recreational, interpretive, or research purposes and which are deemed compatible with the Scenic Area in the Comprehensive Management Plan.

(B) Landowners may construct up to two new detached structures in lieu of an attached structural addition as long as (1) the total of all new detached structures does not exceed 100 percentum of the square footage of existing buildings and (2) the Forest Service determines that the visual impact of the detached structures would not be any greater than the visual impact of attached additions. New detached structures may not be used for habitation.

(i) Parcels with certified development resulting from an original building permit issued between June 1, 1984, and May 22, 1985, shall be considered "unimproved" as of June 1, 1984, but exceptions will be made to allow the completion of improvements authorized by such building permits. However, provisions of 4(a)(2) and 5(a)(2)(B) shall not apply to these parcels. Construction or expansion in addition to that authorized by the original building permit shall not be allowed.

(b) Developed Land Use Category. (1) Unimproved Property. (A) Residential. (i) Landowners must submit a proposed use and development plan which includes a preliminary landscape plan indicating visual screening of structures from main travel routes and public use areas. Such visual screening may be achieved by a combination of vegetative screening, topography, structure design and site development.

(ii) Landowners must submit a proposed grading and earth movement plan with the use and development plan, which minimizes all excavation or topographic changes that may be required for buildings, roads, and utilities.

(iii) Landowners may construct no more than one single family dwelling on each separately owned parcel as recorded in the records of Mono County as of June 1, 1984. Dwelling size may not exceed 2,000 square feet of floor space (excluding below ground basement).

(iv) Landowners may construct up to two accessory buildings, including a detached garage or a garage attached to the residence. Such accessory buildings are not to be used for habitation and may not exceed 900 square feet total (both buildings and/or attached garage).

(v) Landowners may construct buildings that are single story structures and do not exceed 18 feet from the ground to the highest point of the roof.

(vi) Landowners must utilize building architecture that is compatible with the rural environment, location, and scale; visually unobtrusive to passing motorists; rustic in nature; and uses harmonious earth tone colors and non-reflective roofing and sidings. Any fence is clearly necessary, made of natural materials (such as split rail), and compatible with the building architecture.

(vii) Landowners may construct structural improvements that cover up to 40% of the parcel.

(viii) Landowners may remove live trees and other vegetation only when necessary to accommodate buildings and roads and to allow installation of utilities. All mature trees and vegetation stands that are proposed to be removed must be identified in the proposed use and development plan.

(ix) Landowners minimize adverse aesthetic impacts and soil erosion in the design, location and construction of roads.

(x) Landowners place identification signs only on the site. Signs may not exceed two (2) square feet in size. Sale and rental signs may be located only on the site and do not exceed four (4) square feet in size.

(B) Commercial. Landowners may construct and provide only those new commercial developments deemed compatible with the Scenic Area in the Comprehensive Management Plan.

(2) Improved Property. (A) Residential. Landowners may reconstruct and expand residential property as specified in (i) or (ii) below, whichever is larger:

Initiation of Countervailing Duty Investigations; Certain Welded Carbon Steel Pipe and Tube Products From Argentina

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: On the basis of a petition filed in proper form with the U.S. Department of Commerce, we are initiating countervailing duty investigations to determine whether manufacturers, producers, or exporters in Argentina of certain welded carbon steel pipe and tube products as described in the "Scope of Investigations" section of this notice, receive benefits which constitute bounties or grants within the meaning of the countervailing duty law. If these investigations proceed normally, we will make our preliminary determinations on or before June 23, 1988.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 25, 1988.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Barbara Tillman, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 377-2438.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Petition

On March 30, 1988, we received a petition in proper form filed on behalf of the U.S. industry producing certain welded carbon steel pipe and tube products from the Standard Pipe, Line Pipe, Structural Tubing and Mechanical Tubing Subcommittees of the Committee on Pipe and Tube Imports and the individual manufacturers which are members of the aforementioned subcommittees. In compliance with the filing requirements of § 355.26 of the Commerce Regulations (19 CFR 355.26), the petition alleges that manufacturers, producers, or exporters in Argentina of certain welded carbon steel pipe and tube products receive bounties or grants within the meaning of section 303 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended ("the Act").

Argentina is not a "country under the Agreement" within the meaning of section 701(b) of the Act, and the merchandise being investigated is dutiable. Therefore, sections 303(a)(1) and (b) of the Act apply to these investigations. Accordingly, petitioners are not required to allege that, and the U.S. International Trade Commission is not required to determine whether, imports of the subject merchandise materially injure, or threaten material injury to, a U.S. industry.

Initiation of Investigations

Under section 702(c) of the Act, we must determine, within 20 days after a petition is filed, whether the petition sets forth the allegations necessary for the initiation of a countervailing duty investigation, and whether it contains information reasonably available to the petitioners supporting the allegations. We have examined the petition on certain welded carbon steel pipe and tube products from Argentina and have found that it meets the requirements of section 702(b) of the Act. Therefore, we are initiating countervailing duty investigations to determine whether manufacturers, producers, or exporters in Argentina of certain welded carbon steel pipe and tube products as described in the "Scope of Investigations" section of this notice, receive benefits which constitute bounties or grants within the meaning of the Act. If our investigations proceed normally, we will make our preliminary determinations on or before June 23, 1988.

Scope of Investigations

The United States has developed a system of tariff classification based on the international harmonized system of customs nomenclature. Congress is considering legislation to convert the United States to this Harmonized System ("HS"). In view of this, we will be providing both the appropriate Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated ("TSUSA") item numbers and the appropriate HS item numbers with our product descriptions on a test basis, pending Congressional approval. As with the TSUSA, the HS item numbers are provided for convenience and Customs purposes. The written description remains dispositive.

We are requesting petitioners to include the appropriate HS item number(s) as well as the TSUSA item number(s) in all new petitions filed with the Department. A reference copy of the proposed Harmonized System is available for consultation at the Central Records Unit, Room B-099, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20230. Additionally, all Customs offices have reference copies, and petitioners may contact the Import Specialist at their local Customs office to consult the schedule.

We have determined for purpose of this initiation that the products covered by these investigations constitute four separate "class or kind" categories; we thus will conduct four separate investigations with these products.

The four separate "class or kind" categories are as follows:

(1) Certain circular welded carbon steel pipes and tubes, 0.375 inch or more but not over 16 inches in outside diameter, generally known in the industry as standard pipe. This is a general-purpose commodity used in such applications as plumbing pipe, sprinkler systems, and fence posts. Standard pipe may be supplied with an oil coating (black pipe) or may be galvanized, and is sold in plain ends, threaded, threaded and coupled, or beveled. These products are generally produced to ASTM specifications A-120, A-53, or A-135. Imports of these products are classified under TSUSA categories 610.3231, 610.3234, 610.3241, 610.3442, 610.3243, 610.3252, 610.3254, 610.3256, 610.3258, and 610.4925, and are classified under HS categories 7306.1000, 7306.30.5025, 7306.30.5030, 7306.30.5040, 7306.30.5045, 7306.30.5050, 7306.30.5060, 7306.30.5065, and 7306.30.5075. Oil country tubular goods entering under TSUSA categories 610.3242, 610.3243, 610.3252, 610.3254, and 610.3258 are already covered by a countervailing duty order and are not covered by this investigation.

(2) Certain welded carbon steel American Petroleum Institute (API) line pipe, 0.375 inch or more but not over 16 inches in outside diameter known in the industry as line pipe. Line pipe generally is produced to API specification 5L. Line pipe is used for the transportation of gas, oil, or water, generally in pipeline or utility distribution systems. API line pipe not over 16 inches in outside diameter is classified under TSUSA categories 610.3209 and 610.3208, and will be classified under HS categories 7306.10.1010 and 7306.10.1050.

(3) Certain heavy-walled carbon steel rectangular tubing having a wall thickness of 0.156 inch or greater, which is generally used for support members for construction or load-bearing purposes in construction, transportation, farm, and material-handling equipment. The product is generally produced to ASTM specification A-500, Grade B. Imports of heavy-walled rectangular tubing are classified under TSUSA category 610.3955, and are classified under HS category 7306.60.1000.

(4) Certain light-walled carbon steel rectangular tubing having a wall thickness of less than 0.156 inch, which is generally employed in a variety of end uses not involving the conveyance of liquid or gas, such as agricultural equipment frames and parts, and furniture parts. The product is generally produced to ASTM specification A-513 or A-500, Grade A. Imports of light-walled rectangular tubing are classified under TSUSA category 610.4928, and are classified under HS category 7306.60.5000.

Allegation of Bounties or Grants

The petition lists a number of practices by the Government of Argentina which allegedly confer bounties or grants on manufacturers, producers, or exporters in Argentina of certain pipe and tube products. We are initiating investigations on the following alleged programs:

- Reembolso
- Pre-Export Financing
- Post-Export Financing

Although not specifically alleged by petitioners, we are also investigating whether the Argentina pipe and tube industry receives countervailable benefits under the following programs, which we have found to be either countervailable or not used in previous Argentina investigations.

- Corrientes Regional Tax Incentives
- Industrial Parks
- Low Cost Loans for Projects

Outside Buenos Aires

• Discounts of Foreign Currency Accounts Receivable Under Circular RF-21

• Exemption from Stamp Tax Under Decree 186/76

• Government Trade Promotion Programs

We are not initiating investigations on the following three programs: (1) Incentives for Exports from Southern Ports, (2) Tax Reductions for Investors, and (3) Refund on Patagonian Exports. These programs were found to be either countervailable or not used in previous Argentina investigations. Eligibility for these programs is contingent upon location in the Patagonian region of Argentina. Petitioners have indicated that the producers and exporters of certain welded carbon steel pipe and tube products are not located in the Patagonian region and therefore, are not eligible for the three aforementioned programs. Thus, we are not initiating investigations on these programs.

This notice is published pursuant to section 702(c)(2) of the Act.

Date: April 19, 1988.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

Department of the Army

Military Traffic Management Command, Directorate of Inland Traffic; Rules and Accessorial Services Governing the Movement of Department of Defense Freight Traffic by Rail Carrier

AGENCY: Military Traffic Management Command (MTMC), Department of the Army, Department of Defense (DOD).

ACTION: Procedural changes in DOD freight rate acquisition programs; final action.

SUMMARY: On June 4, 1987 (52 FR 107), MTMC, on behalf of the DOD, published notice of intent to modify the procedures used to acquire rates and charges from the commercial carrier industry for the movement of its freight traffic. This modification is the issuance of a rules publication designed to standardize and simplify the procurement of all rail carrier rates and services under 49 U.S.C. 10721. This publication, MTMC Freight Traffic Rules Publication No. 10, is now final. Copies of the publication may be obtained by writing to: HQ Military Traffic Management Command, ATTN: MT-INN-G, 5611 Columbia Pike, Falls Church, Virginia 22041-5050.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1988.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Allen W. Kirby or Mr. David H. Hannaford, HQ, Military Traffic Management Command, ATTN: MT-INN-G, 5611 Columbia Pike, Falls Church, Virginia 22041-5050, or telephone (202) 756-1585.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The transportation regulatory reform legislation enacted over the past several years has deregulated both Trailer/Container on Flatcar (TOFC/COFC) and Boxcar shipments resulting in a corresponding proliferation of exempt rate publications, and a great diversity in the manner in which carriers' rates, rules, and services are expressed within those publications. As a result, the standardization and automation of rail carriers' rates and charges are essential to the formulation of a successful and manageable rate comparison program. Automation is feasible, of course, only if carriers' rates and charges are expressed in a uniform manner compatible with electronic data processing.

MTMC Freight Traffic Rules Publication No. 10 (MFTRP No. 10): This publication contains both rules and accessorial service requirements to govern the rates and services of rail carriers doing business with the DOD. It will govern the movement of all DOD shipments by rail EXCEPT for those rates and services concerning the movement of Foreign Military Sales shipments which are regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This publication is designed to be used with the new DOD Standard Tender of Freight Services, MT Form 364-R, and will apply from, to, or between points in the continental United States, Alaska, and/or Canada which are specified in carriers' individual tenders filed with HQMTMC. Tenders or carriers subject to these publications may not refer to any other publication for application of rates and charges therein.

Although the publication becomes effective, July 1, 1988, affected carriers are not subject to the publications until such time as they individually file the DOD tender referring to this governing publication. An implementation schedule for the DOD tender will be announced through a series of letters directed to the rail carrier industry and to all applicable carriers having the present tender, Form OP 280, on file. MFTRP No. 10 is for carrier reference and will not be submitted to MTMC with or as part of, individual carrier tender filings.

ADDRESS: Send written comments or suggestions to Linda Freeman, Environment, Safety, and Health Division, U.S. Department of Energy, 9800 S. Cass Avenue, Argonne, Illinois 60349, (312) 972-2240.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The University of South Carolina proposes to convert and renovate a portion of an existing complex of buildings in Columbia, South Carolina to serve as an engineering research facility whose purpose is to stimulate research and training in higher education. The conversion consists of demolition of an existing wing of the existing complex and construction of a new wing. The proposed facility will partially replace the existing engineering building and relieve the currently congested and unsafe conditions found in the existing building. The proposed John E. Swearingen Center for Engineering Phase II will house the specially designed laboratories and classrooms in which to conduct the research and instructional activities of the Mechanical and Civil Engineering Departments.

Economic Regulatory Administration

DEKALB Petroleum Corp.; Application To Import Natural Gas From Canada

AGENCY: Economic Regulatory Administration, DOE.

ACTION: Notice of application for blanket authorization to import natural gas.

SUMMARY: The Economic Regulatory Administration (ERA) of the Department of Energy (DOE) gives notice of receipt on March 22, 1988, of an application filed by DEKALB Petroleum Corporation (DEKALB) for blanket authorization to import up to 100 MMcf of natural gas per day and a maximum of 73 Bcf over a two-year term beginning on the date of first delivery. DEKALB would import the gas on a short-term or spot basis for its own account as well as for the accounts of its Canadian suppliers and U.S. purchasers, including pipelines, local distribution companies and commercial and industrial end-users.

The application is filed with the ERA pursuant to section 3 of the Natural Gas Act and DOE Delegation Order No. 0204-111. Protests, motions to intervene, notices of intervention and written comments are invited.

DATE: Protests, motions to intervene or notices of intervention, as applicable, requests for additional procedures and written comments are to be filed no later than May 25, 1988.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Larine Moore, Natural Gas Division, Economic Regulatory Administration, Forrestal Building, Room GA-076, 1000 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20585, (202) 586-9478
Diane Stubbs, Natural Gas and Mineral Leasing, Office of General Counsel, U.S. Department of Energy, Forrestal Building, Room 6E-042, 1000 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20585, (202) 586-6667.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: DEKALB is a Canadian corporation with its principal place of business in Calgary, Alberta. No contracts have been executed and therefore the application does not identify the suppliers, buyers, or prices; however, DEKALB asserts that the specific terms of each import and sale would be based on competition in the marketplace. DEKALB intends to utilize existing pipeline facilities for transportation of the volumes imported and proposes to submit quarterly reports detailing each transaction.

DEKALB has requested that the ERA consider its requested authorization on an expedited basis. An ERA decision on Dekalb's request for expedited treatment, particularly with respect to whether additional written comments or other procedures will be necessary in this case, will not be made until all responses to this notice have been received and evaluated.

The decision on this application will be made consistent with the DOE's gas import policy guidelines, under which the competitiveness of an import arrangement in the markets served is the primary consideration in determining whether it is in the public interest (49 FR 6684, February 22, 1984). Parties that may oppose this application should comment in their responses on the issue of competitiveness as set forth in the policy guidelines. The applicant asserts that this import arrangement is competitive. Parties opposing the arrangement bear the burden of overcoming this assertion.

All parties should be aware that if the ERA approves this requested blanket import, it may designate a total amount of authorized volumes for the term rather than the daily or annual limit, in order to provide the applicant with maximum operating flexibility.

Public Comment Procedures

In response to this notice, any person may file a protest, motion to intervene or notice of intervention, as applicable, and written comments. Any person wishing to become a party to the proceeding and to have the written comments considered as the basis for any decision on the applicant must, however, file a motion to intervene or notice of intervention, as applicable. The filing of a protest with respect to this application will not serve to make the protestant a party to the proceeding, although protests and comments received from persons who are not parties will be considered in determining the appropriate action to be taken on the application. All protests, motions to intervene, notices of intervention, and written comments must meet the requirements that are specified by the regulation in 10 CFR Part 590.

Protests, motions to intervene, notices of intervention, requests for additional procedures, and written comments should be filed with the Natural Gas Division, Office of Fuels Programs, Economic Regulatory Administration, Room GA-076, RG-23, Forrestal Building, 1000 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20585, (202) 586-9478. They must be filed no later than 4:30 p.m. e.d.t., May 25, 1988.

The Administrator intends to develop a decision record on the application through responses to this notice by parties, including the parties' written comments and replies thereto. Additional procedures will be used as necessary to achieve a complete understanding of the facts and issues. A party seeking intervention may request that additional procedures be provided, such as additional written comments, an oral presentation, a conference, or trial-type hearing. Any request to file additional written comments should explain why they are necessary. Any request for an oral presentation should identify the substantial question of fact, law, or policy at issue, show that it is material and relevant to a decision in the proceeding, and demonstrate why an oral presentation is needed. Any request for a conference should demonstrate why the conference would materially advance the proceeding. Any request for a trial-type hearing must show that there are factual issues genuinely in dispute that are relevant and material to a decision and that a trial-type hearing is necessary for a full and true disclosure of the facts.

If an additional procedure is scheduled, the ERA will provide notice to all parties. If no party requests additional procedures, a final opinion and order may be issued based on the official record, including the application and responses filed by parties pursuant to this notice, in accordance with 10 CFR 590.316.

A copy of DEKALB's application is available for inspection and copying in the Natural Gas Division Docket Room, GA-076 at the above address. The docket room is open between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays.

Filing of Certification of Compliance; Coal Capability of New Electric Powerplants Pursuant to Provisions of the Powerplant and Industrial Fuel Use Act, as Amended

AGENCY: Economic Regulatory Administration, DOE.

ACTION: Notice of filing.

SUMMARY: Title II of the Powerplant and Industrial Fuel Use Act of 1978, as amended ("FUA" or "the Act") (42 U.S.C. 8301 et seq.) provides that no new electric powerplant may be constructed or operated as a base load powerplant without the capability to use coal or another alternate fuel as a primary energy source (section 201(a)). In order to meet the requirement of coal capability, the owner or operator of any new electric powerplant to be operated as a base load powerplant proposing to use natural gas or petroleum as its primary energy source may certify, pursuant to section 201(d) to the Secretary of Energy prior to construction, or prior to operation as a base load powerplant, that such powerplant has capability to use coal or another alternate fuel. Such certification establishes compliance with section 201(a) as of the date it is filed with the Secretary. The Secretary is required to publish in the Federal Register a notice reciting that the certification has been filed. One owner and operator of a proposed new electric base load powerplant has filed a self certification in accordance with section 201(d). Further information is provided in the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section below.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The following company filed a self certification:

Intercontinental Energy Associates, Cohasset, MA .....	3-30-88	Powerplant Combined Cycle .....	726	Boswell, VA.

Amendments to FUA on May 22, 1987 (Pub. L. 100-42) altered the general prohibitions to include only new electric baseload powerplants and to provide for the self certification procedure.

The 5.2 MW hydroelectric facility (FERC P.4026) will be located on the Magalloway River in Oxford County, Maine.

A separate application is required for a hydroelectric project license, preliminary permit or exemption from licensing. Comments on such applications are requested by separate public notice. Qualifying status serves only to establish eligibility for benefits provided by PURPA, as implemented by the Commission's regulations, 18 CFR Part 292. It does not relieve a facility of any other requirements of local, State or Federal law, including those regarding siting, construction, operation, licensing and pollution abatement.

Box 21734, Shreveport, Louisiana 71151, filed in Docket No. CP88-318-000 a request pursuant to § 157.205 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act and AER's blanket certificate issued in Docket Nos. #### 4. Greeley Gas Co. and Commercial Pipeline Co., Inc.

[Docket No. CP88-324-000]

Take notice that on March 31, 1988, Greeley Gas Company (Greeley), 1301 Pennsylvania Street, Suite 800, Denver Colorado 80203-5015, and Commercial Pipeline Company, Inc. (Commercial), 120 South Market, Wichita, Kansas 67202, filed in Docket No. CP88-324-000, a joint application pursuant to sections 7(c) and 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act, respectively, for (1) a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing Greeley to acquire and operate all of the gas pipeline facilities owned by Commercial and (2) an order permitting and approving Commercial to abandon such facilities, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Greeley and Commercial state that they entered into a Purchase Agreement on September 28, 1987, as amended, wherein Commercial agreed to sell its pipeline facilities to Greeley, subject to receipt of the appropriate regulatory authorization. It is stated that the facilities are located in Bourbon and Linn Counties, Kansas, and in Bates County, Missouri. As a part of that Purchase Agreement, it is further stated that Greeley also acquired the property and assets of Commercial's three distribution customers: Mound City Gas Company, Inc. (Mound City), Pleasanton Gas Company, Inc. (Pleasanton), and Rich Hill-Hume Gas Company, Inc. (Rich Hill-Hume). Greeley advises that the Mound City and Pleasanton acquisitions were approved by the Kansas Corporation Commission (KCC) and that the Rich Hill-Hume acquisition was approved by the Missouri Public Service Commission. (Missouri PSC).

Greeley proposes to operate the system of Commercial, and the acquired systems of Mound City, Pleasanton, and Rich Hill-Hume, as a single system in a manner so that there would be no change in the markets served, except that the sales for resale presently made by Commercial would be eliminated, with all sales by Greeley being regulated by either the KCC or the Missouri PSC.

Consequently, Commercial requests that the Commission cancel its FERC Gas Tariff, which includes FERC Rate Schedule F-1 covering its sales for resale. Greeley desires that the Commission waive the reporting requirements under the NGA that would result from approval of the application. Finally, it is requested that the Commission expedite its consideration of the application in order that approval might be received prior to July 31, 1988, the date by which the transaction could be closed without modifying the Purchase Agreement.

Comment date: May 11, 1988, in accordance with Standard Paragraph F at the end of this notice.

5. Alabama-Tennessee Natural Gas Company

[Docket No. CP88-325-000]

Take notice that on March 31, 1988, Alabama-Tennessee Natural Gas Company (Applicant), P.O. Box 918, Florence, Alabama 35631, filed in Docket No. CP88-325-000 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to transport natural gas on behalf of Amoco Chemical Company (Amoco), all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant requests authorization to transport on behalf of Amoco, on an interruptible basis for a term of one year, up to 14,000 dth of gas per day. Applicant, it is said, would receive such gas at the existing point of interconnection between the facilities of Applicant and Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company in Alcorn County, Mississippi or Colbert County, Alabama, and/or Columbia Gulf Transmission Company located in Alcorn County, Mississippi, and or Tennessee River Intrastate Gas Company located in Colbert County, Alabama.

Applicant states further that it would redeliver equivalent quantities of gas to Amoco at existing points of interconnection between the facilities of Applicant and Amoco as set forth in Exhibit F of the application.

For this transportation service, applicant represents that it would charge Amoco a transportation rate based on Sheet No. 4 of Applicant's FERC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1.

Applicant avers that the transportation agreement would remain in force for a primary term of 1 year from the date of initial deliveries, and year to year thereafter unless and until terminated by either party giving proper notice.

Standard Paragraph

F. Any person desiring to be heard or make any protest with reference to said filing should on or before the comment date file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, DC 20426, a motion to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 and 385.214) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission or its designee on this filing if no motion to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a motion for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for the applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

G. Any person or the Commission's staff may, within 45 days after the issuance of the instant notice by the Commission, file pursuant to Rule 214 of the Commission's Procedural Rules (18 CFR 385.214) a motion to intervene or notice of intervention and pursuant to § 157.205 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR § 157.205) a protest to the request. If no protest is filed within the time allowed therefor, the proposed activity shall be deemed to be authorized effective the day after the time allowed for filing a protest. If a protest is filed and not withdrawn within 30 days after the time allowed for filing a protest, the instant request shall be treated as an application for

[Docket No. GP88-14-000]

State of Kentucky, Public Service Commission, Blacklog #5 Well et al., JD81-43949 et al. Preliminary Finding That Jurisdictional Agency Determinations Are Not Supported By Substantial Evidence

Issued April 20, 1988.

On various dates between 1981 and 1985, the Public Service Commission of the State of Kentucky (Kentucky) notified the Commission of 22 well category determinations made pursuant to section 503 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA). Absent Commission action, the notices would have become final after 45 days pursuant to § 275.202(a) of the Commission's regulations.<sup>1</sup> In each instance the Commission advised Kentucky within 45 days that the notices were deficient, lacking either sufficient explanation of the basis for each determination or sufficient information to complete the applications. Consequently, none of the determinations has become final.

Despite repeated requests for necessary additional information, none of the requisite information has been provided by Kentucky or the applicants. The Appendix to this order summarizes each determination and its deficiency.

Under section 503(a) of the NGPA, when a jurisdictional state or federal agency makes a determination that natural gas qualifies under one of the pricing categories found in NGPA sections 102, 103, 107, or 108, the jurisdictional agency must provide the Commission with notice of the determination. Section 503(c)(3) authorizes the Commission to prescribe the form and content of filings made with jurisdictional agencies in connection with such determinations. Section 503(b) provides that the Commission shall reverse any jurisdictional agency determination if the Commission finds that the determination is unsupported by substantial evidence in the record upon which the determination was made.

The filing requirements for applications for determination are set forth in Subpart B of Part 274 of the Commission's regulations. These regulations specify the minimum information an applicant must file with a jurisdictional agency to support an affirmative determination. Also, these regulations specify the information a jurisdictional agency must file with this Commission to support a notice of determination. A notice of determination must include a copy of the application, all information required by §§ 274.201-208 of the Commission's regulations to be filed with the jurisdictional agency, and an explanatory statement sufficient to enable a person examining the notice to ascertain the basis for the determination without reference to information or data not contained in the notice.

The Commission's procedures for reviewing a notice of determination are set forth in Part 275 of the Commission's regulations. Under § 275.202(a), the Commission may, before any determination becomes final, make a preliminary finding that the determination is not supported by substantial evidence. Any state or federal agency or any other person may, within 30 days after issuance of a notice of a preliminary finding, submit written comments and may request an informal conference with the Commission's staff. A final order must be issued within 120 days after issuance of the preliminary finding.

Based on the foregoing facts and circumstances, particularly because the notices of determinations have been deficient for a significant period, the Commission hereby gives notice of its preliminary finding that the subject well category determinations submitted by Kentucky are not supported by substantial evidence in the record upon which the determination were made.

By direction of the Commission.

Lois D. Cashell,

Acting Secretary.

[Docket No. C188-367-000]

Sabine Corp.; Application Requesting Retroactive Abandonment

April 20, 1988.

Take notice that on March 18, 1988, as supplemented on April 13, 1988, Sabine Corporation (Sabine), 1000 LTV Center, 2001 Ross Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75201, filed an application pursuant to section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act and § 157.30 of the Commission's Regulations requesting retroactive permanent abandonment to be effective in November 1971 for sales of gas dedicated to Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (NGPL) from the Hoyt No. 1-2 well located in Section 2, T17N-R17W, Dewey County, Oklahoma. Sabine states that it has executed a settlement agreement with NGPL whereby Sabine agreed to pay amounts owed to NGPL and NGPL agreed to release the gas upon issuance of abandonment authorization by the Commission.

In support of its application, Sabine states that pursuant to a contract dated December 17, 1962, as amended on July 28, 1967, Sarkeys, Inc. (Sarkeys), Sabine's predecessor-in-interest,<sup>1</sup> sold gas to NGPL from the Hoyt No. 1-2 well. Sabine states that in 1971 Sarkeys sought release of the Hoyt No. 1-2 well from the contract with NGPL because the pressure from the well could not buck NGPL's line pressure. Sabine avers that although NGPL prepared a release agreement in 1971, NGPL never formally executed the release. Sabine states that beginning in 1971 Sarkeys sold gas from the Hoyt No. 1-2 well to Mobil Oil Corporation (predecessor-in-interest to Signal Oil and Gas Company) which processed the gas, and in turn sold the residue gas attributable thereto to Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company

Sabine states that Sarkeys did not obtain abandonment authorization when it ceased selling gas from the Hoyt No. 1-2 well to NGPL. Sabine states that it and NGPL have determined that through April 1, 1988, Sabine sold to other purchasers 63,444 Mcf of gas which was dedicated to NGPL. Sabine states that the Hoyt No. 1-2 well is effectively shut-in because the gathering system has corroded and cannot transport the gas.

Sabine and NGPL entered into a settlement agreement dated August 22, 1984. The settlement provides that upon (1) receipt of abandonment authorization from the Commission, (2) determination of the volume of gas delivered to other purchasers from November 1971 until the date the Commission's approval of abandonment authorization becomes final, and (3) payment by Sabine to NGPL of an amount equal to NGPL's weighted average cost of gas over the relevant period less the price per Mcf NGPL would have paid under the December 17, 1962, contract, plus interest computed according to 18 CFR 154.102(d), NGPL will release Sabine from any claim of breach of contract arising from the delivery of gas from the Hoyt No. 1-2 well and will release the acreage attributable to the Hoyt No. 1-2 well as of November 1971.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before May 11, 1988, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 385.214). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to the proceeding herein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be

Webb-Duval Gatherers; Petition for Adjustment

April 20, 1988.

Take notice that on February 1, 1988, Webb-Duval Gatherers (Webb-Duval) filed a petition under section 502(c) of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA) requesting the Commission to grant an adjustment from § 284.123(b)(1)(ii) of the Commission's regulations so that it may use intrastate transportation rates it has on file with the Texas Railroad Commission (TRC) as the applicable rates for transportation under section 311(a)(2) of the NGPA.

Webb-Duval states it is a gas utility and intrastate pipeline company providing gathering and intrastate transportation service in Texas and that its gathering and transportation rates, filed with the TRC in the form of tariffs, are subject to regulation by the TRC. Webb-Duval intends to transport gas on behalf of various interstate pipeline companies and local distribution companies served by interstate pipelines under negotiated transportation agreements pursuant to NGPA section 311(a)(2).

Section 284.123(b)(1)(ii) of the Commission's regulations provides that under section 311 of the NGPA, an intrastate pipeline may elect to charge rates contained in rate schedules for intrastate service on file with the appropriate state regulatory agency, as long as the services are comparable. The Commission has interpreted comparable to mean city-gate service. Because Webb-Duval has no city-gate sales or city-gate rate, it cannot satisfy the requirement of § 284.123(b)(1)(ii) and seeks the adjustment in order to be permitted to base its rates on its tariff on file with TRC. Webb-Duval states that upon issuance of an adjustment it would, within a reasonable time, not to exceed 30 days, make a filing with supporting documents necessary for the TRC to make a determination that its rate proposed for section 311(a) service is cost-based and fair and equitable. It agrees to use for its section 311(a) services rates not in excess of the rate found by the TRC to be cost-based and fair and equitable. Webb-Duval states that the adjustment it seeks is necessary, in view of the circumstances, to prevent special hardship and inequity that would otherwise result from forcing it to submit a § 284.123(b)(2) filing and would avoid unnecessary dual agency review.

The procedures applicable to the conduct of this adjustment proceeding are found in Subpart K of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Any person desiring to participate in this adjustment proceeding must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the provisions of Subpart K. All motions to intervene must be filed within 15 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The petition is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection.

The Commissioner of Social Security gives notice that on March 1, 1988, a supplementary agreement entered into force which amends the social security agreement between the United States and the Federal Republic of Germany that has been in effect since December 1, 1979. ACTION: Notice of the reconvening of a public hearing on the Draft Environmental Impact Statements and section 810 Analyses regarding Wilderness Recommendations for Bering Land Bridge National Preserve, Kenai Fjords National Park, and Yukon-Charley Rivers National Preserve, Alaska.

Four alternatives were examined for Bering Land Bridge National Preserve ranging from no action, which means no wilderness designation to the designation of all suitable lands as wilderness. Alternative 2, the proposed action, excludes 89 percent of the lands suitable from wilderness designation.

Four alternatives were examined for Kenai Fjords National Park. They range from no action, which means no wilderness designation, to the designation of all lands in the study area as wilderness. Alternative 2, the proposed action excludes 12 percent of the study area from wilderness.

For Yukon-Charley Rivers National Preserve three alternatives were examined ranging from no action, which means no wilderness designation, to the designation of all suitable lands as wilderness. Alternative 2, the proposed action, excludes 51 percent of the land suitable from wilderness status.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[No. MC-C-30090]

National Industrial Transportation League; Petition for Declaratory Order on Negotiated Motor Common Carrier Rates*AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.ACTION: Notice of institution of declaratory order proceeding and request for comments.

SUMMARY: On February 5, 1988, the National Industrial Transportation League (NITL) filed a petition with the Commission seeking issuance of a declaratory order finding that it is an unreasonable practice and thus a violation of the Interstate Commerce Act for a motor common carrier to conduct business on the basis of a negotiated and agree-to-rate while failing to publish the rate in an effective tariff on file at the Commission. NITL points out that the problem addressed by the Commission's policy statement in NITL—Pet. to Inst. Rule on Negotiated Motor Car., 3 I.C.C. 2d 99 (1986), and the number of undercharge claims, continues to grow. NITL asserts that, while the Commission made available to shippers a defense in undercharge suits if they could show that it would be an unreasonable practice to collect on specific claims, it required a case-by-case referral to, and determination by the Commission, on the question of the reasonableness of the assailed practice, imposing an undue burden on shippers and the Commission. Additionally, NITL claims that the policy statement is being misconstrued by some courts, thus raising uncertainty and a dispute as to whether the relief intended by the Commission is proper. NITL believes that issuance of a declaratory order would establish the principle that the assailed practice is unreasonable as a matter of law and would allow the courts to apply such general finding to the facts of the cases before them, without the need of a referral in each case for separate determination by the Commission. The Commission is instituting this proceeding to allow the public to comment on the matter, particularly with respect to the appropriateness and effectiveness of the relief sought.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

[Docket No. 50-336]

Northeast Nuclear Energy Co. et al.,
Millstone Nuclear Power Station, Unit
No. 2; Environmental Assessment and Finding of No Significant ImpactThe U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of an exemption from the requirements of Appendix R to 10 CFR Part 50 to Northeast Nuclear Energy Company et al. (the licensee), for the Millstone Nuclear Power Station,
Unit No. 2, located in New London County, Connecticut.Environmental Assessment*Identification of Proposed ActionThe exemption would grant relief from the requirements of Appendix R, Section III.G.(2)(b) as these requirements relate to the separation of Auxiliary Feedwater Isolation Valves 2-FW-43A and B.
Section III.G.(2)(b) of Appendix R would require the subject valves to be separated by 20 feet, free of intervening combustibles, since these valves are in redundant trains of equipment required for post-fire, safe shutdown, of the reactor.

The exemption is responsive to the licensee's application for exemption dated February 29, 1988.

The Need for the Proposed Action

The proposed exemption is needed because the features described in the licensee's request regarding the existing and proposed fire protection at the plant for this item are the most practical method for meeting the intent of Appendix R and literal compliance would not significantly enhance the fire protection capability.

Environmental Impacts of the Proposed Action

The proposed exemption will provide a degree of fire protection such that there is no increase in the risk of fires at this facility. Consequently, the probability of fires has not been increased and the potential post-fire radiological releases will not be greater than previously determined nor does the proposed exemption otherwise affect radiological plant effluents. Therefore, the Commission concludes that there are no significant radiological environmental impacts associated with the proposed exemption.

With regard to potential nonradiological impacts, the proposed exemption involves features located entirely within the restricted area as defined in 10 CFR Part 20. It does not affect nonradiological plant effluents and has no other environmental impact. Therefore, the Commission concludes that there are no significant nonradiological environmental impacts associated with the proposed exemption.

Alternative to the Proposed Action

It has been concluded that there is no measurable impact associated with the proposed exemption and associated license amendment; any alternatives to the exemption will have either no environmental impact or greater environmental impact.

Alternative Use of Resources

This action involves no use of resources not previously considered in the Final Environmental Statements for the Millstone Nuclear Power Station, Unit No. 2.

Agencies and Persons Consulted

The NRC staff reviewed the licensee's request and did not consult other agencies or persons.

Finding of No Significant Impact

The Commission has determined not to prepare an environmental impact statement for the proposed exemption.

Based upon the foregoing environmental assessment, we conclude that the proposed action will not have a significant effect on the quality of the human environment.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for amendment dated February 29, 1988 which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC and at the Waterford Public Library, 49 Rope Ferry Road, Waterford, Connecticut 06385.

[Docket Nos. 50-387 and 50-388]

Pennsylvania Power & Light Co.; Environmental Assessment and Finding of No Significant Impact

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of amendments to Facility Operating License Nos. NPF-14 and NPF-22, issued to Pennsylvania Power & Light Company (the licensee), for operation of the Susquehanna Steam Electric Station, Units 1 and 2, located in Luzerne County, Pennsylvania.

Environmental Assessment

Identification of Proposed Action

The proposed amendment would revise the provisions in the Technical Specifications (TS) relating to the load profiles for 125V dc batteries.

The proposed action is in accordance with the licensee's application for amendment dated January 8, 1988.

The Need for the Proposed Action

The proposed change to the TS is required in order to accommodate installation of ATWS Alternate Rod Injection solenoid valves, and to recognize increased loads associated with emergency lighting.

Environmental Impacts of the Proposed Action

The Commission has completed its evaluation of the proposed revision to Technical Specifications. The proposed revisions would allow the licensee to revise specification 4.8.2.1.d.2.b to reflect new load profiles for the 125V dc batteries and to delete redundant material in the Unit 2 Technical Specifications. The changes are necessary to accommodate the installation of ATWS Alternate Rod Injection to account for increased loads due to emergency lighting, and to delete some redundant information. The staff has determined that the revised load profiles will be within the design capacity of the affected batteries, and the deletion of redundant information is an editorial change. Therefore, the proposed changes do not increase the probability or consequences of accidents, no changes are being made in the types of any effluents that may be released offsite, and there is no significant increase in the allowable individual or cumulative occupational radiation exposure. Accordingly, the Commission concludes that this proposed action would result in no significant radiological environmental impact.

With regard to potential non-radiological impacts, the proposed change to the TS involves systems located within the restricted area as defined in 10 CFR Part 20. It does not affect non-radiological plant effluents and has no other environmental impact. Therefore, the Commission concludes that there are no significant non-radiological environmental impacts associated with the proposed amendment.

The Notice of Consideration of Issuance of Amendment and Opportunity for Hearing in connection with this action was published in the Federal Register on March 22, 1988 (53 FR 9387). No request for hearing or petition for leave to intervene was filed following this notice.

Alternative to the Proposed Action

Since the Commission concluded that there are no significant environmental effects that would result from the proposed action, any alternatives with equal or greater environmental impacts need not be evaluated.

The principal alternative would be to deny the requested amendment. This would not reduce environmental impacts of plant operation and would result in reduced operational flexibility.

Alternative Use of Resources

This action does not involve the use of any resources not previously considered in the Final Environmental Statements for the Susquehanna Steam Electric Station, Units 1 and 2, dated June 1981.

Agencies and Persons Consulted

The NRC staff reviewed the licensee's request and did not consult other agencies or persons.

Finding of No Significant Impact

The Commission has determined not to prepare an environmental impact statement for the proposed license amendment.

Based upon the foregoing environmental assessment, we conclude that the proposed action will not have a significant effect on the quality of the human environment.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for amendment dated January 8, 1988, which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC and at the Osterhout Free Library, Reference Department, 71 South Franklin Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania 18701.

Notice is hereby given that the Honorable James Caldwell, the Honorable Steven Langdon, the Honorable Herb Gray, and the Honorable Howard McCurdy, members of the Canadian Parliament, have requested that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission revoke the operating license of Fermi-2 until such time that the plant is safe to operate. The alleged bases for their request are certain deficiencies at the plant, which were revealed in several NRC documents. Petitioners claim that the plant should not be allowed to operate because of certain alleged deficiencies in the plant's design and several past attempts by Detroit Edison to withhold information regarding the plant.

This petition is being handled as a request for action pursuant to 10 CFR 2.206 of the Commission's regulations, and accordingly, appropriate action will be taken on the request within a reasonable time. [Docket No. 50-289]*GPU Nuclear Corp. et al.; Consideration of Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License and Opportunity for Hearing

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of an amendment to Facility Operating License No. DPR-50, issued to GPU Nuclear Corporation (the licensee), for operation of the Three Mile Island Nuclear Station, Unit 1 (TMI-1) located in Dauphin County, Pennsylvania.

The amendment would revise the TMI-1 Technical Specifications (TSs) to support core reload for Cycle 7 of operation. The core design changes for Cycle 7 includes a slight increase in core lifetime from approximately 425 effective full power days (EFPD) to approximately 445 EFPD. The fresh fuel has a slightly higher U-235 enrichment than previous fuel. The proposed TS changes are needed to accommodate changes in power peaking and control rod worths as well as DNB margins provided by use of the LYNXT crossflow thermal-hydraulics model. As with previous fuel cycles, the proposed TS changes are supported by a Cycle 7 reload analysis (BAW-2015).

Prior to issuance of the proposed license amendment, the Commission will have made findings required by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act) and the Commission's regulations.

By May 25, 1988, the licensee may file a request for a hearing with respect to issuance of the amendment to the subject facility operating license and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding and who wishes to participate as a party in the proceeding must file a written request for hearing and a petition for leave to intervene. Requests for a hearing and petitions for leave to intervene shall be filed in accordance with the Commission's "Rules of Practice for Domestic Licensing Proceedings" in 10 CFR Part 2. If a request for a hearing or petition for leave to intervene is filed by the above date, the Commission or an Atomic Safety and Licensing Board, designated by the Commission or by the Chairman of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel, will rule on the request and/or petition; and the Secretary or the designated Atomic Safety and Licensing Board will issue a notice of hearing or an appropriate order.

As required by 10 CFR 2.714, a petition for leave to intervene shall set forth with particularity the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, and how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceeding. The petition should specifically explain the reasons why intervention should be permitted with particular reference to the following factors: (1) The nature of the petitioner's right under the Act to be made a party to the proceeding; (2) the nature and extent of the petitioner's property, financial, or other interest in the proceeding; and (3) the possible effect of any order which may be entered in the proceeding on the petitioner's interest. The petitioner should also identify the specific aspect(s) of the subject matter of the proceeding as to which petitioner wishes to intervene. Any person who has filed a petition for leave to intervene or who has been admitted as a party may amend the petition without requesting leave of the Board up to fifteen (15) days prior to the first pre-hearing conference scheduled in the proceeding, but such an amended petition must satisfy the specificity requirements described above.

Not later than fifteen (15) days prior to the first prehearing conference scheduled in the proceeding, a petitioner shall file a supplement to the petition to intervene, which must include a list of the contentions that are sought to be litigated in the matter, and the bases for each contention set forth with reasonable specificity. Contentions shall be limited to matters within the scope of the amendment under consideration. A petitioner who fails to file such a supplement which satisfies these requirements with respect to at least one contention will not be permitted to participate as a party.

Those permitted to intervene become parties to the proceeding, subject to any limitations in the order granting leave to intervene, and have the opportunity to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing, including the opportunity to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses.

A request for a hearing or a petition for leave to intervene must be filed with the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Branch, or may be delivered to the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC, by the above date. Where petitions are filed during the last ten (10) days of the notice period, it is requested that the petitioner promptly so inform the Commission by a toll-free telephone call to Western Union at 1-800-325-6000 (in Missouri 1-800-342-6700). The Western Union operator should be given Datagram Identification Number 3737 and the following message addressed to John F. Stolz: Petitioner's name and telephone number; date petition was mailed; plant name; and publication date and page number of this Federal Register notice. A copy of the petition should also be sent to the Office of the General Counsel, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555, and to Ernst L. Blake, Jr., Esquire, Shaw, Pittman, Potts and Trowbridge, 2300 N Street NW., Washington, DC 20037.

Nontimely filings of petitions for leave to intervene, amended petitions, supplemental petitions and/or requests for hearing will not be entertained absent a determination by the Commission, the presiding officer or the presiding Atomic Safety and Licensing Board that the petition and/or request should be granted based upon a balancing of the factors specified in 10 CFR 2.714(a)(1)(i)-(v) and 2.714(d).

If a request for hearing is received, the Commission's staff may issue the amendment after it completes its technical review and prior to the completion of any required hearing if it publishes a further notice for public comment of its proposed finding of no significant hazards consideration in accordance with 10 CFR 50.91 and 50.92.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for amendment dated April 5, 1988, which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC 20555, and at the Local Public Document Room, Government Publications Section, State Library of Pennsylvania, Walnut Street and Commonwealth Avenue, Box 1601, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania 17105.

[Docket No. 50-267]

Public Service Co. of Colorado; Consideration of Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License and Opportunity for Hearing

The United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of an amendment to Facility Operating License No. DPR-34, issued to Public Service Company of Colorado (the licensee), for operation of the Fort St. Vrain Nuclear Generating Station located in Weld County, Colorado.

The amendment would revise the provisions in the Technical Specifications relating to radiological effluents. In particular, this proposed amendment changes ELCO 8.1.1, ESR 8.1.1 and ESR 8.1.2. These changes are related to the design of the effluent monitor hand switches and the time allowed to report an inoperable noble gas monitor. Other changes are being made for clarification in accordance with the licensee's application for amendment dated October 1, 1987 (P-87348).

Prior to issuance of the proposed license amendment, the Commission will have made findings required by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act) and the Commission's regulations.

By May 25, 1988, the licensee may file a request for a hearing with respect to issuance of the amendment to the subject facility operating license and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding and who wishes to participate as a party in the proceeding must file a written request for a hearing and a petition for leave to intervene. Requests for a hearing and petitions for leave to intervene shall be filed in accordance with the Commission's "Rules of Practice for Domestic Licensing Proceedings" in 10 CFR Part 2. If a request for a hearing or petition for leave to intervene is filed by the above date, the Commission or an Atomic Safety and Licensing Board, designated by the Commission or by the Chairman of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel, will rule on the request and/or petition, and the Secretary or the designated Atomic Safety and Licensing Board will issue a notice of hearing or an appropriate order.

As required by 10 CFR 2.714, a petition for leave to intervene shall set forth with particularity the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, and how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceeding. The petition should specifically explain the reasons why intervention should be permitted with particular reference to the following factors: (1) The nature of the petitioner's right under the Act to be made a party to the proceeding; (2) the nature and extent of the petitioner's property, financial, or other interest in the proceeding; and (3) the possible effect of any order which may be entered in the proceeding on the petitioner's interest. The petition should also identify the specific aspect(s) of the subject matter of the proceeding as to which petitioner wishes to intervene.

Any person who has filed a petition for leave to intervene or who has been admitted as a party may amend the petition without requesting leave of the Board up to fifteen (15) days prior to the first prehearing conference scheduled in the proceedings, but such an amended petition must satisfy the specificity requirements described above.

Not later than fifteen (15) days prior to the first prehearing conference scheduled in the proceeding, a petitioner shall file a supplement to the petition to intervene which must include a list of the contentions which are sought to be litigated in the matter, and the bases for each contention set forth with reasonable specificity. Contentions shall be limited to matters within the scope of the amendment under consideration. A petitioner who fails to file such a supplement which satisfies these requirements with respect to at least one contention will not be permitted to participate as a party.

Those permitted to intervene become parties to the proceeding, subject to any limitations in the order granting leave to intervene, and have the opportunity to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing, including the opportunity to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses.

A request for a hearing or a petition for leave to intervene shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commission, United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Branch, or may be delivered to the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC by the above date. Where petitions are filed during the last ten (10) days of the notice period, it is requested that the petitioner or representative for the petitioner promptly so inform the Commission by a toll-free telephone call to Western Union at 1-800-325-6000 (in Missouri 1-800-342-6700). The Western Union operator should be given Datagram identification Number 3737 and the following message addressed to Jose A. Calvo: Petitioner's name and telephone number; date Petition was mailed; plant name; and publication date and page number of this Federal Register notice. A copy of the petition should also be sent to the Office of the General Counsel, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555, and to Kelly, Stansfield, and O'Donnell, Room 900, 550 15th Street, Denver, Colorado 80202, attorney for the licensee.

Nontimely filings of petitions for leave to intervene, amended petitions, supplemental petitions and/or requests for hearing will not be entertained absent a determination by the Commission, the presiding officer or the presiding Atomic Safety and Licensing Board, that the petition and/or request should be granted based upon a balancing of the factors specified in 10 CFR 2.714(a)(1)(i)-(v) and 2.714(d).

If a request for hearing is received, the Commission's staff may issue the amendment after it completes its technical review and prior to the completion of any required hearing if it publishes a further notice for public comment of its proposed finding of no significant hazards consideration in accordance with 10 CFR 50.91 and 50.92.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for amendment dated October 1, 1987, which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, DC and at the Greely Public Library, City Complex, Greely, Colorado.

Rule 24.7. Trading Halts or Suspensions. No change
Interpretations and Policies:

.01 Unusual conditions or circumstances that may be considered pursuant to paragraph (iii) include but are not limited to the activation of daily price limits in stock index futures on one or more futures exchanges or, during the one and one half hours after opening rotation, delay in opening or halt in trading of underlying stocks representing more than 50% of the index values.

Rule 24.13. Trading Rotations. No change

Interpretations and Policies:

01. No change

.02 (See SR-CBOE-88-05) No change

.03 The commencement of the opening rotation in an index option may be delayed for one or more fifteen (15)-minute intervals whenever in the judgment of two Floor Officials unusual conditions or circumstances in other markets and/or an influx of orders have adversely affected the ability of the Order Book Official and/or Market-Makers to provide and to maintain fair and orderly markets. The Floor Officials declaring the delayed opening shall reevaluate market conditions during the delay interval and shall determine whether (i) to commence the rotation as soon as the interval has been completed or to (ii) declare a further delay. An unusual condition in another market which may be the basis for declaring a delayed opening is activation of opening price limits in stock index futures on one or more futures exchanges. Unusual conditions in other markets that could be the basis for a further delay in opening stock index options include activation of daily price limits in stock index futures on one or more futures exchanges, a delay in opening or halt in trading of underlying stocks representing more than 50% of the index value and/or circumstances such as those which would result in the declaration of a fast market under Rule 6.6.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the self-regulatory organization included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below and is set forth in sections (A), (B), and (C) below.

(A) Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and the Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

The proposed rule changes provide for halting trading and delaying the commencement of an opening rotation in index options when unusual conditions in the Exchange's market or in other securities or futures markets could affect the maintenance and initiation of a fair and orderly market for index options. The interdependence of stock, option, and futures markets has been recognized by many commentators since the October market break. The increased aggregate volatility of the markets in the past six months also has been noted. In response to concern for investors in securities and futures, self-regulatory organizations have proposed and adopted policies and procedures to temporarily break and to attempt to control excessive volatility. These "circuit breaker" mechanisms include price limits and coordinated trading halts.

The price limit circuit breakers approved by the futures markets could have an impact on stock index option trading, for example, by temporarily limiting the ability of options Market-Makers to hedge their stock index option positions in one or more of the futures markets. While the positions could be hedged in the underlying stock market with stocks or baskets or in the index options market, the absence of a future hedge limits hedging opportunities and puts additional pressures on the other markets. Delayed openings and trading halts in underlying stocks could similarly limit hedging opportunities and affect pricing mechanisms. Other factors such as order imbalances and an influx of orders could also affect a fair and orderly opening rotation in the index option.

The Exchange believes that the proposed rules for halting trading and delaying the opening rotation for stated time intervals are consistent with the provisions of the Act, in particular section 6(b)(5) thereof, in that the rules are designed to promote just and equitable principles of trade and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest.

(B) Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that this proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition.

(C) Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received from Members, Participants or Others

Comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The CBOE has requested that the proposed rule changes be given accelerated effectiveness pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act in order to ensure that procedures for delaying the opening rotation of index options are available when new circuit breaker policies in other markets are implemented.

The Commission finds good cause for approving the proposed rule changes prior to the thirtieth day after the date of publication of the proposal in the Federal Register. The Commission believes that coordinated circuit breaker mechanisms among the equity, options, and futures markets will contribute to market stability and increased investor confidence. In response to increased market volatility, the futures exchanges have implemented price limits for stock index futures contracts.<sup>1</sup> In addition, the securities and futures markets are considering other circuit breakers.<sup>2</sup>

CBOE's proposed rules to allow the Exchange to halt trading or delay the opening rotation in index options under the additional circumstances should reduce the problems associated with market volatility by providing for options market "circuit breaker" mechanisms that are coordinated with procedures that have been implemented in the futures market. In addition, the proposed rule change will allow the CBOE to halt or delay opening rotations or halt trading in an index option during the first hour and a half if securities representing 50 percent of an index valuation is not trading. This provision is consistent with the recommendation contained in The October 1987 Market Break Report by the Commission staff, that options and futures exchanges should reexamine their rules governing trading in index products when a large percentage of an index's component securities are not trading.<sup>3</sup>

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, Washington, DC. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying in the Commission's Public Reference Section, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number in the caption above and should be submitted by May 16, 1988.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act,<sup>4</sup> that the proposed rule change is approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.<sup>5</sup>

UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY*Grants Program for Private Not-for-Profit Organizations in Support of International Educational and Cultural Activities

The United States Information Agency (USIA) announces a program of selective assistance and limited grant support to non-profit activities of United States institutions and organizations in the Private Sector. The program is designed to increase mutual understanding between the people of the U.S. and other countries and to strengthen the ties which unite our societies. The information collection involved in this solicitation is covered by OMB Clearance Number 3116-0175, entitled "A Grants Program for Private, Non-Profit Organization in Support of International Educational and Cultural Activities," announced in the Federal Register June 3, 1987.

Private Sector Organizations interested in working cooperatively with USIA on the following concept are encouraged to so indicate:

The U.S. Presidential Elections: A Thai Parliamentarians' International Exchange Program

The Office of Private Sector Programs, Initiative Grants and Bilateral Accords Division will assist in supporting a three-week international exchange program on the United States Presidential and Congressional Elections in August or September 1988 for members of the Parliament of Thailand. For the first half of this program, participants will visit two regions of the United States where they will evaluate various facets of the U.S. election process. The remainder of this exchange will take place in Washington, D.C. where the members of the Thai Parliament will examine issues of mutual interest (particularly bilateral economic concerns) and the probable impact of the 1988 U.S. elections on American domestic and international affairs. The Thai participants will be selected by USIA representatives abroad. A U.S. not-for-profit institution with knowledge of Thai social, political and economic issues as well as considerable expertise on the American political system and access to American political and economic leaders, will design and execute this project.

USIA is most interested in working with organizations that show promise for innovative and cost-effective programming; and with organizations that have potential for obtaining private-sector funding in addition to USIA support. Organizations must have the substantive expertise and logistical capability needed to successfully develop and conduct the above project and should also demonstrate a potential for designing programs which will have lasting impact on their participants.

Interested organizations should submit a request for complete application materials—postmarked no later than fifteen days from the date of this notice—to the address listed below. The Office of Private Sector Programs will then forward a set of materials, including proposal guidelines. Please refer to this specific program by name in your letter of interest. # REGULATORY INFORMATION SERVICE CENTER

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Regulatory Information Service Center.

ACTION: Introduction to the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: The Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 602) requires that agencies publish semiannual regulatory agendas describing regulatory actions they are developing. Executive Order 12291 and OMB Bulletins implementing section 5 of the Executive order establish minimum standards for executive agencies' agendas, including specific types of information for each entry, and publication in a uniform format. All Federal regulatory agencies have chosen to publish their regulatory agendas as part of this Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

The following separate parts in this issue of the Federal Register are the agency agendas, which together comprise the April 1988 edition of the semiannual Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

ADDRESS: Regulatory Information Service Center, Room 5216, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, NW., Washington, DC 20503.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information about specific regulatory actions, please refer to the Agency Contact listed for each entry. To provide comment on or to obtain further information about the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations, contact: Mark G. Schoenberg, Executive Director, Regulatory Information Service Center, Room 5216, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, NW., Washington, DC 20503, (202) 395-6993.

SUBJECT INDEX TO THE UNIFIED AGENDA OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS

INTRODUCTION TO THE UNIFIED AGENDA OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS

About the Unified Agenda

The Regulatory Information Service Center compiles the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations for the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget. The Center provides information about Federal regulatory activity to the President and his Executive Office, the Congress, agency managers, and the public.

The Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs is responsible for overseeing the Federal Government's regulatory, paperwork, and information-management activities and for implementing President Reagan's Executive Orders 12291 (Federal Regulation) (46 FR 13193; 3 CFR 1981 Comp., p. 127) and 12498 (Regulatory Planning Process) (50 FR 1036; 3 CFR 1985 Comp., p. 323). Under EO 12498, OMB publishes the Regulatory Program of the United States Government each year.

The Regulatory Program is a policy document and a management tool that sets forth the priorities of the agency head and of the President regarding the Significant Regulatory Actions (SRAs) that will be conducted during the program year to which it pertains.

The Regulatory Program and the Unified Agenda differ in several ways. The Unified Agenda includes more regulatory actions because it covers all Federal agencies that issue regulations and includes almost all the rulemakings they have under development. This year's Regulatory Program covers only 26 of the major Federal regulatory agencies, and includes only the most significant of all the regulatory actions that each agency plans to undertake. The Regulatory Program, however, describes each entry more thoroughly than the Unified Agenda.

Most of the regulatory actions described in the Regulatory Program of the United States Government are included in this Agenda. In general, the Regulation Identifier Number (RIN) for the action is the same for both publications; however, occasionally, several Agenda entries are combined into one Program entry, and a new RIN is assigned to that entry in the Program.

The Unified Agenda provides uniform reporting of data on regulatory activities under development throughout the Federal Government. This edition of the Unified Agenda includes 54 regulatory agendas from all Federal departments, agencies, and commissions that publish agendas. The Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, Council on Environmental Quality, and the National Capitol Planning Commission usually publish a regulatory agenda, but have nothing to report for this edition of the Unified Agenda. Agencies of the United States Congress are not included.

The Unified Agenda is produced through a computer system designed and maintained by the Center with the advice and assistance of the Government Printing Office. The system was designed to save agencies time and money by automating the preparation and printing of their agendas in a uniform format and to make the Agenda easier to use. In order to further facilitate producing the Agenda, many agencies currently use computer terminals at their offices to enter agenda information into the Center's computer system.

The Agenda contains a Subject Index to help readers locate entries from various agencies that may affect a particular area of interest. The numbers in the index refer to the sequence numbers that appear before the title of each entry in the Agenda. All entries are numbered sequentially from the beginning to the end of the Agenda.

For those agencies that requested it, we provided a computer-produced Table of Contents that appears after the preamble of the agency's agenda. The agency Tables of Contents help readers locate quickly those entries within an agency that may be of most interest to them.

All agendas contain uniform data elements -- regulation title, significance, legal authority, CFR citation, abstract, legal deadline, timetable, small business effects, and agency contact. Agencies also include any additional information they consider important. If any of the data elements is not included, the agency either did not report the information or may provide an explanation in its preamble. For further information, please contact the individual agency.

The Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations is published in April and October of each year. We welcome comments on this edition and suggestions for improving future ones.

Dated: April 1, 1988.

Mark G. Schoenberg,
Executive Director.

How to Use the Unified Agenda

Each agency agenda appears as a separate part in this edition of the Federal Register. The parts are organized alphabetically in four groups: Cabinet departments, other executive agencies, joint authorities, and independent agencies. Departments are divided into agencies, which may in turn be divided into subagencies.

Each agency begins its agenda with a preamble providing information specific to its agenda. Each agency was asked to list its rules in four groups:

1. Prerule Stage -- actions agencies will undertake in the next 12 months to determine whether or how to initiate rulemaking. Such actions occur prior to a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking and may include Advance Notices of Proposed Rulemaking and reviews of existing regulations.
2. Proposed Rule Stage -- actions for which agencies plan to publish a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking as the next step in their rulemaking process.
3. Final Rule Stage -- actions for which agencies plan to publish a final rule or an interim final rule, or to take other final action as the next step in their rulemaking process.
4. Completed Actions -- actions or reviews the agency completed or withdrew since publishing its last agenda. This section also includes items that were begun and completed between issues of the Unified Agenda.

An agency may use a subheading to identify regulations that it has grouped according to a particular topic. When these subheadings are used, they appear above the title of the first regulation in the group.

A bullet (●) preceding an entry indicates that the entry appears in the Agenda for the first time.

The Agenda Sequence Number preceding the title of each entry identifies the location of the entry in this edition of the Agenda. The same number is used in the index to enable readers to find entries on specific subjects. Those agencies that chose to provide a Table of Contents at the beginning of their agendas also use the sequence number in their Table of Contents. Sequence numbers should help readers easily locate items of most interest to them, either by agency or by subject.

The regulatory activities included in the agency agendas are those currently planned for the next 12 months. The agendas do not include regulations excluded from review under EO 12291 such as military regulations and regulations related to internal agency management.

Entries describing regulations in the Agenda should contain, at a minimum, the following information:

- Title of the Regulation.
- Significance -- an indication of the significance of the entry that appears when:
  - a. The action was included in the Regulatory Program of the United States Government for the 1987 program year, or
  - b. The agency otherwise considers the action a priority.

The Significance heading appears only if the entry is a significant action.

- Legal Authority -- the section(s) of the United States Code (USC) or Public Law (PL) or the Executive order (EO) that authorize(s) the regulatory action (agencies may provide common name references to laws in addition to USC or PL references).
- CFR Citation -- the section(s) of the Code of Federal Regulations that affect or will be affected by the action.
- Abstract -- a description of the problem the regulation will address; the need for a Federal solution; and, to the extent available, the alternatives that the agency is considering to address the problem and the potential costs and benefits of the action.

- Legal Deadline -- an indication of whether the rule is subject to a statutory or judicial deadline and, if so, the date of that deadline.
- Timetable -- the dates and citations (if available) for all past stages and at least the next future stage of rulemaking. If a date appears in this section as 00/00/00, it means the date of the action is presently undetermined. Similarly, 10/00/88 means the agency can predict the month and year the action will take place, but not the date it will occur.
- Effects on Small Businesses and Other Small Entities -- indicates whether the rule is expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities" as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 601(6)).
- Agency Contact -- the name, title, address, and phone number of a person in the agency who is knowledgeable about the regulation.

Some agencies have provided other optional information at their discretion.

Data Limitations

Agencies prepared entries for this edition of the Unified Agenda to give the public notice of their plans to review, propose, and issue regulations. They have tried to predict their activities over the next 12 months as accurately as possible, but dates and schedules are subject to change. Agencies may withdraw some of the regulations now under development, and they may issue or propose other regulations not included in their agendas. Agency actions in the rulemaking process may occur before or after the dates they have listed. The Agenda does not create a legal obligation on agencies to adhere to schedules within it or to confine their regulatory activities to those regulations that appear in it. The information in this edition is accurate as of February 26, 1988, in the judgment of the submitting agencies, except as otherwise noted in individual agency preambles.

List of Abbreviations

The following abbreviations appear throughout this edition of the Agenda:

ANPRM -- An Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is a preliminary notice that an agency is considering a regulatory action. The agency issues an ANPRM before it develops a detailed proposed rule. The ANPRM describes the general area that may be subject to regulation and usually asks for public comment on the issues and options being discussed. An ANPRM is issued only when an agency believes it needs gather more information before proceeding to a notice of proposed rulemaking.

CFR -- The Code of Federal Regulations is an annual codification of the general and permanent regulations published in the Federal Register by the departments and agencies of the Federal Government. The Code is divided into 50 titles and each title covers a broad area subject to Federal regulation. The CFR is keyed to and kept up-to-date by the daily issues of the Federal Register.

EO -- An Executive order is a directive from the President to an executive agency, issued under constitutional or statutory authority. Executive orders are published in the Federal Register and in Title 3 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

FR -- The Federal Register is a daily Federal Government publication that provides a uniform system for publishing Presidential documents, all proposed and final regulations, notices of meetings, and other official documents issued by Federal departments and agencies.

FY -- The Federal fiscal year runs from October 1 to September 30.

NPRM -- A Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is the document an agency issues and publishes in the Federal Register that describes and solicits public comments on a proposed regulatory action. Under the Administrative Procedure Act, an NPRM must include, at a minimum:

- A statement of the time, place, and nature of the public rulemaking proceeding;
- A reference to the legal authority under which the rule is proposed; and
- Either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved.

PL -- A Public Law is a law passed by Congress and signed by the President or enacted over his veto. It has general applicability, as opposed to a private law that applies only to those persons or entities specifically designated. Public laws are numbered in sequence throughout the two-year life of each Congress; for example, PL 97-17 would be the 17th public law of the 97th Congress.

RFA -- A Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (RFA) describes the impact of a proposed rule on small entities, as required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 601). An RFA describes why the agency is considering the action; the objectives of and legal basis for the proposed rule; an estimate of the number of small entities that could be affected and the compliance requirements they would have to fulfill; any other duplicative, overlapping, or conflicting Federal rules; and alternatives to the proposed action. When required, an initial RFA accompanies an NPRM and a final RFA accompanies a final rule.

RIA -- A Regulatory Impact Analysis is required by EO 12291 for all major rules and other regulations designated by the Office of Management and Budget. An RIA is prepared to determine whether a proposed regulatory action meets the requirements of section 2 of EO 12291, namely that it:

- Be based on adequate information concerning the need for and consequences of the action;
- Not be undertaken unless the potential benefits outweigh the potential costs to society;
- Maximize net benefits to society;
- Entail the least net cost to society of the alternatives considered; and
- Take into account the condition of particular affected industries, the national economy, and contemplated future regulatory actions.

RIN -- The Regulation Identifier Number is assigned by the Regulatory Information Service Center to identify each regulatory action listed in the Agenda.

USC -- The United States Code is a consolidation and codification of all general and permanent laws of the United States. The USC is divided into 50 titles and each title covers a broad area of Federal law.

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1434.26; 7 CFR 1434.27

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Legislation requires that 1988-crop honey be supported at 95 percent of the 1987 level, or $0.5985 per pound. It also provides the Secretary the discretion to allow loan repayment at a lower rate. The objective of a lower repayment rate is to (1) minimize loan forfeitures, (2) avoid excessive stocks, (3) reduce Federal storage costs, and (4) maintain the competitiveness of honey in domestic and export markets.

Alternatives to be considered are: the type of support to offer, whether loans, purchases, or loans and purchases, and whether to implement the lower repayment provision. Government costs under the lower repayment provision would be expected to be under $60 million.

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1445; Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1464

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This action would encourage the marketing of burley tobacco in baled form by providing a reduced price support level of 5 to 15 cents per pound for nonbaled tobacco effective for the 1988 crop. Approximately 85 percent of all burley tobacco sold at auction is in baled form. The industry preference for baled tobacco could result in all nonbaled tobacco being placed under loan.

This action would also require that effective for the 1989 crop, all loan tobacco be delivered on a standard container (slip sheet), in order to

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 7 USC 150dd to 150ff; 7 USC 151 to 167

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 319.56

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: To prevent the introduction of plant pests and diseases, Plant Protection and Quarantine (PPQ) inspects shipments of foreign fruits and vegetables upon their arrival at United States ports. PPQ is developing regulations that will allow inspections to be performed in the exporting countries, rather than upon arrival in the United States, using methods and standards approved and monitored by PPQ. This procedure should speed the movement of commodities moved under this "assured certification" alternative, and will allow PPQ to employ its personnel and resources more effectively.

CFR Citation: 9 CFR 71; 9 CFR 78; 9 CFR 85; 9 CFR 309; 9 CFR 310; 9 CFR 320

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Swine in interstate commerce may be adulterated with drug and other chemical residue levels higher than the allowed tolerance and may be spreading diseases. The Department is proposing to require that all swine in interstate commerce be individually identified and records of identification be maintained. Mandatory identification of swine in interstate commerce would allow APHIS to more easily locate sources of infection in order to eradicate and contain disease and would allow the Food Safety Inspection Service (FSIS) to more easily determine the source of adulterated meat and prevent its consumption.

62. GUIDELINES FOR BIOTECHNOLOGY RESEARCH IN AGRICULTURAL FIELD PLOTS

Legal Authority: PL 99-198 Food Security Act of 1985

CFR Citation: Not applicable

Abstract: The purpose of these guidelines is to specify necessary agricultural practices for the safe field testing of plants, animals, and other organisms involved in agricultural biotechnology research. The National Institutes of Health (NIH) has proposed changes in the Guidelines for Research Involving Recombinant DNA Molecules (52 FR 29800, August 11, 1987). These proposed changes address chiefly biosafety levels for research involving whole plants and animals under various conditions of laboratory containment.

A significant portion of agricultural research is performed in field plots outside a laboratory. Therefore, USDA guidelines for biotechnology research in field plots are necessary to assure the

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1989

Abstract: Most of the provisions of the Food Security Act of 1985 are mandated by the Act. other employment, preserve the family farm, protect the national food supply, and provide for conservation of less productive land. (FmHA 86-001)

84. DEBT SETTLEMENT - COMMUNITY AND BUSINESS PROGRAMS

Legal Authority: PL 99-198

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1956-C, (New)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Debt settlement of Community and Business Programs is governed by the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act (CONACT) (7 USC (1921-1996)). The major reason for removing debt settlement actions appropriate to Community and Business Programs from the present regulation (FmHA Instruction 456.1) to a new regulation (FmHA Instruction 1956-C) is to comply with section 1309 of the Food Security Act of 1985 (Pub. L. 99-198). Public Law 99-198 provides the Secretary with greater flexibility in administering the debt settlement claims for Community and Business Programs, including compromise, adjustment, cancellation, and chargeoff actions. The changes will result in more efficient service to the public, while continuing protection of the Government's interest.

Abstract: In November, 1986, PL 99-641 amended the Federal Meat Inspection Act to permit the Department to vary the manner and frequency by which it conducts inspection in establishments producing meat food products. All existing inspection regulations are based upon and reflect the previous statutory requirement that Federal inspectors be continuously present in such establishments. FSIS must develop new inspection procedures to allocate inspection resources among such establishments based on a variety of factors, including (1) the nature and frequency of the processing operations, (2) the adequacy and reliability of the processing control and sanitary procedures, and (3) the establishment's history of compliance with inspection requirements. The meat inspection procedures will touch upon virtually all existing meat regulations concerning inspection of meat food products. Details of these new procedures and the specific proposed regulatory amendments will be developed upon the conduct in 1987 of a pilot program to test alternative procedures in selected plants.

Responds to 1987 Office of Inspector General (OIG) report that noted physical and administrative control problems over product shipped to other locations after entering the United States before it had received reinspection. Legal Authority: 21 USC 601 et seq

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This proposed rule would be amended to require specific certification language, advise certifying parties of the consequences of false statements, and include custodians as well as producers as parties to certification. These changes will improve the effectiveness of the voluntary certifications by providing uniformity to certifications and warnings about false statements. Because of increasing high levels of antibiotic and sulfonamide residues found in young veal calves, the Food Safety and Inspection Service in 1984 initiated intensified inplant testing procedures to prevent adulterated meat from entering consumer channels. These procedures provide for a voluntary written certification program that allows for less intense testing of calves certified as not having been treated with drugs, or if so, that prescribed label directions were followed. More recently the Office of the Inspector General recommended that the Agency develop a standard form for the certified calf program.

Abstract: USDA has been petitioned by the American Meat Institute (AMI) "to promulgate a standard of identity and composition for 'lite' sausage." The current cooked sausage standard includes various processed meat food products, such as frankfurters, hot dogs, weiners, viennas, bolognas, and knockwurst. The AMI petition requests a new standard for lower-fat "lite" sausage that would require not more than 22.5 percent fat and not less than 11.5 percent protein, as compared with 30 percent fat and 10 percent added water maximums in the existing cooked-sausage standard. FSIS proposed rule provides additional flexibility to enable industry to market lower fat products. The rule allows a combination of up to 40 percent added water and fat, with a 30 percent ceiling on fat content. The Agency also seeks comment on the option of deleting entirely the standard for cooked sausages. (FSIS 86-002)

INSPECTION PROCEDURES AND

Significance: Regulatory ProgramLegal Authority: 21 USC 601 et seqCFR Citation: 9 CFR 307; 9 CFR 310Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This proposed rule would improve post-mortem inspection procedures for cattle which will result in maximum inspection efficiency and increased productivity. By modernizing cattle inspection procedures, FSIS would increase its inspection productivity while assuring that only wholesome meat enters domestic commerce.

It is anticipated that the meat industry will experience a net gain if this system of inspection is implemented in spite of the initial costs of facility modifications which may be necessary in some establishments. Savings to the industry as a whole should occur because of increased productivity and reduced overtime.

Legal Authority: 21 USC 601 et seqCFR Citation: 9 CFR 309; 9 CFR 310; 9 CFR 314Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend the Federal meat inspection regulations governing methods of handling and disposing of livestock carcasses and parts condemned because they bear or contain biological residues. Current regulations do not require methods of disposal that preclude use of such carcasses or parts in nonhuman food such as animal feed. FSIS believes that such condemned articles must be destroyed by incineration or burial. This would make disposition of livestock carcasses and parts condemned for biological residues consistent with regulations which govern the disposition of poultry carcasses and parts condemned for biological residues.

Legal Authority: 21 USC 601 et seqCFR Citation: 9 CFR 316; 9 CFR 317; 9 CFR 350Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend the Federal meat inspection regulations to allow inspected and passed rendered edible animal fat transported in properly labeled tank cars or trucks to move in commerce without an official seal. Currently, establishments which process and then transport edible animal fat to another establishment must have the means of conveyance sealed with an official seal by a program employee. Establishments receiving the officially sealed product must have the seal broken by a program employee. ### 138. STREAMLINED INSPECTION SYSTEM FOR BROILERS AND CORNISH GAME HENS

Significance: Agency PriorityLegal Authority: 21 USC 451 et seqCFR Citation: 9 CFR 381Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This final rule will establish a new inspection system for broilers and cornish game hens in response to increased demands on Agency resources. The "streamlined inspection system" allows increased efficiency in the use of FSIS resources and those of the poultry industry while still providing consumers with wholesome, unadulterated products.

Certain changes in plant facilities are required but should result only in minor expenditures. The industry will realize gains through reduced charges for overtime, reduced workspace requirements, and increased productivity.

Legal Authority: 21 USC 601 et seqCFR Citation: 9 CFR 317; 9 CFR 318Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This final rule will permit the use of ascorbic acid, citric acid, erythorbic acid, sodium ascorbate, and sodium citrate, singly or in combination to maintain the color of fresh pork cuts. Fresh pork cuts which have been treated to maintain color by the addition of these substances will be required to be labeled with a qualifying phrase, contiguous to the product name, which indicates that they have been treated to maintain color. Use of these substances will result in maintenance of color for a period of time equivalent to the microbiological shelf life of fresh pork cuts. This will permit extended distribution of pork cuts prepared and packaged in federally inspected establishments. The petitioner has supplied FSIS with sufficient information to satisfy the requirements of 9 CFR 318.7(a)(2) which provide for the issuance of a final rule. However, due to the potential significance of

140. DETERMINATION OF "ADDED WATER" IN COOKED SAUSAGES

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 21 USC 601 et seq

CFR Citation: 9 CFR 318

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend the Federal meat inspection regulations to define the method by which the Agency determines the quantity of added water in cooked sausages. Added water means any water not directly attributable to the meat, meat byproducts, mechanically separated (species), or poultry ingredients. The Federal meat inspection regulations limit the amount of added water to a maximum of 10 percent of the finished weight in cooked sausages. The amount of added water is determined by laboratory analysis and appropriate calculations. Discrepancies in the calculation of meat protein currently exist primarily due to the non-deduction from the total protein content of protein derived from certain non-meat protein sources. If the amount of protein derived from non-meat sources is not subtracted from the total protein content, it is possible that added water in excess of the 10 percent permitted by regulations would be present in the product. The proposed rule would correct this discrepancy.

Legal Authority: 21 USC 601 et seq; 21 USC 451 et seq

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend the Federal meat and poultry products inspection regulations to better define which substances should be permitted to be labeled as "flavors," "natural flavors," or "spices" on packages of meat and poultry products. The proposed rule addresses the use of substances which are often added to products for the purpose of serving as flavor enhancers, emulsifiers, stabilizers, binders, extenders, and as nutrients. Most of the substances that would be affected by the proposed rule are proteinaceous materials, having nutritional value, and which may be considered foods, in their own right. The proposed rule would require that these substances be identified by their common or usual names, thereby informing consumers of the origin of these materials including the species and specific animal tissues from which they are derived, if animal in origin. The proposed rule is designed in part to address the personal, cultural, and religious concerns of consumers, as well as the allergies or sensitivities some consumers may have to some of the substances.

Abstract: This final rule will amend the Federal meat inspection regulations to specify safety and sanitation requirements for electrical stimulating (EST) equipment. Federally inspected establishments may use EST equipment to accelerate rigor mortis in slaughtered meat animals (cattle, sheep, swine, goats, horses, mules, or other equines). The safety requirements would protect inspection personnel working near that equipment from the hazard of potentially lethal electric shock or other injury. The sanitation requirements would prevent adulteration of the carcasses.

Abstract: The rules at 36 CFR 292, Subpart B govern joint administration of the Shasta and Clair Engle-Lewiston units of the National Recreation Area by the Forest Service and the Bureau of Reclamation. The rules also set forth standards for defining compatible private land uses within the National Recreation Area to govern decisions by local zoning authorities, or in the absence of such authorities, decisions on land uses by the Secretary of Agriculture. Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Woodsy Owl was originated in the early 1970s by the Forest Service, the Federal Agency responsible for protecting, managing, and developing the National Forest. The symbol represents a fanciful owl who wears forest green colored slacks, a brown colored belt, a Robin Hood style forest green colored hat with a red colored feather and furthers the slogan "Give a Hoot, Don't Pollute." The Chief of the Forest Service may authorize the use of Woodsy Owl through the issuance of licenses for commercial use, under certain specified conditions, and for non-commercial educational purposes, at no charge, when use is public service and will contribute to public information and education concerning wise use of the environment and programs which foster maintenance and improvement of environmental quality. Rules concerning the external use of the Woodsy Owl symbol are set forth at 36 CFR Part 272. The rule authorizes commercial use for which a royalty is paid and for public use for which no royalty is paid. Review of the existing regulation will determine the need for licensed royalty payment and the need for changing reporting requirements from quarterly to annually. (cont)

Abstract: The rule is being reviewed as required by E.O. 12291 which requires the review of existing rules on a five year cycle. The Forest Service does not anticipate substantial public comment to 36 CFR 241 as it has been successfully applied.

36 CFR 241.1 describes Forest Service cooperation with State, County and Federal officials in the enforcement of all laws and regulations for the protection of wildlife through lawful appointments of Forest Service employees to deputy game wardens with full power to enforce state laws and regulations.

36 CFR 241.2 describes how Forest Service cooperates with states in developing plans for securing and maintaining desirable populations of wildlife species including entry into cooperative agreements for such purposes.

163. ● ISOLATED CABIN AUTHORIZATIONS

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 16 USC 551; 16 USC 497

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 251

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Agency policy is to terminate isolated cabin authorizations on National Forest System land that were constructed without advance authorization and subsequently authorized by special use permit. These cabins are used for part- or full-time occupancy. These cabins differ from recreation residences which were established in tracts specific for this purpose and built with Agency approval and supervision. Isolated cabins originated in several ways, including encroachment and mining claims. They restrict management of the surrounding National Forest land and deprive the public from the use and enjoyment of the land actually occupied and the surrounding area. The action proposed is to seek input from the public as to whether the present policy should be continued, or whether it should be revised so as to examine each isolated occupancy and determine whether, in the interests of fairness and

Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT: This proposal to revise current policy, originally included in proposed policy on recreation residences (52 FR 206-208). Public comments and continuing discussions with recreation residence permittees on that policy revealed widely divergent views on the Agency's policy, strongly suggesting that isolated cabins be treated separately from recreation residences. Therefore, so as to not further delay implementation of final policy on recreation residences, a decision has been made to seek additional public comment on the isolated cabin policy before a decision is made to revise the policy.

167. MODIFY THE GENERAL PROHIBITION AGAINST USE OF VEHICLES IN EXCESS OF 40 INCHES IN WIDTH ON TRAILS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 551

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 261.12(e)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The objective of this action is to permit forest officers more discretion for controlling off-road vehicle use. Three factors have created the need to modify this regulation: (1) the general prohibition at 36 CFR 261.12(e) controls trail use by width of vehicle. Originally developed to control four wheel-drive vehicles on trails, this method uses a fairly arbitrary device (width) to control use; (2) off-road vehicle plans (36 CFR 295) use vehicle types to prescribe the vehicles that are permitted to use forest trails; (3) some recent models of trail vehicles (all terrain vehicles and snowmobiles) exceed the forty inch rule by one to five inches. The combination of the two methods of control with the larger model sizes has created confusion among users about ORV plan direction and created law enforcement difficulties. The proposed action would clarify the regulations and still maintain the tools necessary to control off-road vehicle use. (FS 86-007)

Proposed Rule Stage

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: December 2, 1980, the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act was signed into law. Section 501 (b) of the law requires that the Secretary of Agriculture promulgate regulations for the conservation of fish and wildlife and their habitats on the Chugach National Forest. The general National Forest System regulations and other existing laws governing management of National Forest System lands are applicable except as supplemental by these regulations or amended by the ANILCA, August 17, 1984. The new Chugach National Forest land management plan was appealed by 17 appellants. The settlement agreement specifies that subject to valid existing rights, the Forest Service will not allow timber harvest, road construction, surface occupancy for mineral leasing prior to publication of final regulations or completion of management area analysis for the Copper River Management Area. There are no alternatives to development of these regulations.

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 228, Subpart C

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Whether a mineral deposit is a "common variety" determines whether or not it can be disposed of or sold by the Government under the 1947 Mineral Materials Act. Judicial and administrative interpretations defining common variety characterization determinations can only be made in court. Rulings in common variety cases are generally unpredictable, and the costs to both the Government and miner are high.

After a review of the legislative history of the 1955 surface Resources Act, which defined common varieties, we believe that Congress did not intend for certain minerals to be locatable under the Mining Laws; however, a failure to explicitly define the "common variety" term has led to misinterpretation and actions contrary to the original intent of the law. It is proposed that 36 CFR 228 Subpart C be amended to clarify this confusing classification situation. We believe PL 167 expressly provides for this action as it allows the Secretary of Agriculture to dispose of mineral materials "under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe."

Since these dates several Acts, Laws, and policy changes have necessitated deletion of existing provisions and inserting supplemental provisions. The need to revise these documents has been recognized since the late 1970's. The revision will provide for clarification of provisions to reduce the potential for disputes between purchasers and the Forest Service. There will be no changes in the basic contract concepts except those dictated by law, regulation, and related policy. Abstract: Forest Service rules at 36 CFR 211.18 establish the process and procedures by which the public may appeal a National Forest System management decision. The regulation is being reviewed as required by EO 12291. The Forest Service recognizes the administrative appeal process as useful and worthwhile, and considers it to be a valuable tool in conducting business. However, there are opportunities to make the process more efficient and less burdensome on the public while maintaining a useful forum within which to administratively resolve conflict.

177. GRAZING FEES; EASTERN AND SOUTHERN REGIONS*Significance: Regulatory ProgramLegal Authority: 16 USC 551; 31 USC 483a; 43 USC 1901CFR Citation: 36 CFR 222.53Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Different grazing fee systems are used in the Eastern and Southern Regions of the Forest Service. The current system in the Eastern Region is market driven. The system in the Southern Region is based on a cost of livestock production/ability to pay methodology which currently results in below market fees. Two alternatives are being considered. The first would continue the two different fee systems in the eastern U.S. The second alternative would implement a uniform market driven fee system in both Regions. The advantages of this alternative over the first are:

- (1) Competitive bidding with a minimum bid price would be fair and equitable to all parties, the livestock owners and the government.
- (2) The fee system would be cost effective and economic to administer.
- (3) The fee system would provide for investments in cost effective range improvements on National Forest System lands in the eastern states.

Legal Deadline: Statutory, October 22, 1987. A one-year deadline is specified in the law.

Abstract: P.L. 99-522 provides new authority and direction for granting permits authorizing ski development and operation. It requires promulgation of rules within one year of enactment. Current direction for issuing special use permits including ski areas is contained in 36 CFR 251.50 through 251.64. While most of the current direction will continue to apply, revisions will be necessary to respond to the special provisions of the law relating to permit duration and acreage to be authorized.

The law has the effect of eliminating the current need and practice to issue two permits to authorize a single resort to use more than 80 acres. Further, it authorizes the issuance of 40 year permits instead of 30 which has been the maximum in the past.

Abstract: The Forest Service has been developing an accounting system to accurately track the total public benefits and total cost of the timber sale program on each national forest. The new system is to be installed on all forests before the start of FY.1989. The data generated by this effort will provide a basis for monitoring the implementation of Forest Plans. This proposal would establish additional procedures for evaluation of the accounting data when projected costs appear to exceed the total public benefits of the program. Under the proposal, unless there are other overriding public values, the timber sale program would be adjusted to a point where the total public benefits equal the total cost of the sales program.

Abstract: Section 1(c) of Public Law 99-545 amended Section 501 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act (43 USC 1761) to transfer from the Secretary, USDI to Secretary, USDA all responsibility for administering all rights-of-way on Federal lands administered by the Secretary, USDA. This transfer concerns grants and easements for rights-of-ways issued under several previous Acts, most of which have been repealed. The principal Statutes involved are the Act of July 16, 1866 and the Act of March 3, 1891. The authorizations primarily involve use of the Federal lands for water conveyance systems (irrigation ditches). The regulations will set forth direction and procedures to enable field personnel to administer the individual authorizations. Regulations are needed as the Act requires that the grants/easements be administered under the statutory provisions and regulations in effect at the time the authorizations were issued. Failure to promulgate regulations (no action alternative) would leave field personnel without guidance and create the possibility of actions by rights-of-way holders contrary to established land management procedures (CONT)

Abstract: Application of the Act of January 12, 1983 (Small Tracts Act) has revealed an inadvertent inconsistency between the regulations at 36 CFR 254.35(f) and 254.41(a) and the legislative history of the Act. The regulations imply that the disposal of mineral fractions by sale can only be made in response to an application from an abutting landowner, thus discouraging the conveyance by sale to the public. The Act clearly authorizes sale of mineral fractions to the public through public sale, as well as individual applications, provided that certain conditions are met. The revisions will clarify the application of the Act to ensure that both individual applications and public sale are permissible means of disposing of qualifying tracts.

Abstract: Each month Western Wood Products Association (WWPA) publishes a Lumber Price Trends Index for eight Western Inland species or species combinations and two Pacific Northwest Coast species. These data are used by government agencies to appraise public timber offered for sale and to adjust prices billed for timber already under contract. This proposal makes public an intent to replace nine current WWPA index logs with new index logs based upon 1985-88 grade recovery studies. It is proposed to replace Pacific Northwest Hem-fir, and Douglas Fir and Idaho White Pine, Dry Douglas Fir-Larch, White Fir, Rocky Mountain Ponderosa Pine, Coast Inland North Ponderosa Pine, Sugar Pine, and White Woods current indexes with new indexes based upon a 1985-1988 recovery study.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 472a; 16 USC 618

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 223.49

Abstract: Recent analysis of agency policies and procedures for ensuring the financial security of timber sale contracts have convinced the Forest Service that additional measures are needed. To assure more effective resource management and to better protect the public's financial interests in the sale of national forest timber, the agency is proposing to revise its policies and procedures as set forth in Chapter 2430 and 2450 of the Forest Service Manual. Specifically, the agency proposes to (1) eliminate the current ceiling on the required performance bond guarantee; (2) strengthen performance bond requirements by identifying (a) which actions are covered by the bond, (b) the extent of sureties liabilities, (c) when surety is liable; (3) increase the bid guarantee to 10% of the advertised value; (4) assess damages in the amount of the bid guarantee or the difference between bid value and resale value; (5) establish the guidelines for determining purchaser's financial ability to operate the sale; (6) specify shorter contract periods; and (7) modify the basis for determination of default damages (cont)

Abstract: The Federal Timber Sale Contract Payment Modification Act directs the Forest Service to require purchasers to make downpayments and periodic payments on timber sales. The objective of these requirements is to discourage speculative bidding on National Forest System timber sales. A rule published 10/11/85 at 50 FR 41498 requires cash downpayments and a midpoint payment. However, to fully comply with the Act, additional rules are required. This rule will clarify how downpayments are determined, identify the requirements for periodic payments, permit the pooling of periodic payments, and establish a method for permitting market related contract term additions. The proposed rule is a requirement of the Act (FS 85-014).

While skewed bidding can be advantageous to purchasers, it can also reduce Government receipts and increase Forest Service timber sale administration costs. These results were documented by the General Accounting Office (GAO/RCED-83-37). This proposal is made in partial response to the recommendations in that review. (FS 86-006)

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 254, Subpart D (new)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Objectives are to set forth Forest Service procedures and role in the regulation of Indian allotments on National Forest System land. The Indian Allotment Act of 2/8/87, as by Section 31, Act of 6/25/10 authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to make allotments of National Forest System Lands to Indians for homesteading and agricultural and grazing purposes. The Forest Service has relied upon USDI rules and procedures at 43 CFR 2533 to govern its involvement in Indian allotment cases. Recent litigation and a decision by the Interior Board of Land Appeals indicate the need for the Forest Service to set forth its own regulations when the Forest Service determines that lands are not chiefly valuable for agricultural and grazing purposes. The only alternative is not to issue regulations. This is unacceptable since it leaves the Agency vulnerable to future IBLA appeals cases as well as future litigation.

Abstract: In response to comments from the scientific and academic communities and in keeping with the recommendations of the National Academy of Sciences "Report on Guidelines for Paleontological Collecting," the Forest Service is clarifying its regulations concerning fossil collecting on National Forest System lands. The language on "paleontological resources" is being moved to a separate paragraph and the requirement for permits is being limited specifically to quarrying for fossils and for commercial activities. The no-action alternative would be to leave the regulation of paleontological resources the same as for archeological resources, with permits needed for all activities. Since there is no evidence of widespread problems, the permit process imposes unnecessary burdens on the casual collector and creates added paperwork for the Forest officer to manage.

Abstract: Existing regulations allow noncompetitive sale of mineral materials not in excess of 100,000 cubic yards in any individual sale or 200,000 cubic yards in any one State for the benefit of any entity in any period of twelve consecutive calendar months. The proposal would give the Forest Service flexibility in meeting requests for noncompetitive sales of large amounts of mineral materials when public property, health, and safety are threatened or when competition is impractical. The proposal is similar to rules governing mineral material sales by the Bureau of Land Management. Interim rulemaking is sought to resolve a situation in California where the volume restriction for noncompetitive sales may interfere with a mining claimant's statutory rights regarding locatable minerals.

Abstract: Certain recreation residence permits on National Forest land are on termination notice. The decision to terminate was made 10 or more years ago. The Forest Service has agreed to review those decisions to determine if they are still valid. The rule will facilitate conducting these reviews by excluding their outcome from the Agency's administrative appeal process. Since most of the earlier decisions were appealed, this action will prevent duplicative appeals that would delay needed land management activities.

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 251.50; 36 CFR 251.51; 36 CFR 251.53; 36 CFR 251.54

Abstract: A Federal District Court recently ruled that existing regulations discriminate against groups who wish to gather on National Forests to exercise their first amendment rights to free speech. The proposed rule will remove ambiguities regarding first amendment rights of assembly and free speech on National Forests.

Alternatives considered were: (1) no changes; (2) termination of all regulations concerning special use authorizations for large groups on the National Forests.

There will be no additional costs as a result of the proposed rule change. The benefit will be that the Forest Service will be able to regulate large group use on the National Forests, which in turn will protect the public health and safety, and protect National Forest resources.

Abstract: This rule provides procedures by which individuals or groups may appeal Forest Service officials decisions to reoffer returned or defaulted timber sales on National Forests. The rule results from a recent 9th Circuit Court of Appeals decision. In order to respond quickly to that Court ruling and preserve the opportunity for a meaningful appeal for potential appellants, it is necessary to make this rule effective upon publication. However, the agency has invited public comment on the interim rule, which it will consider in promulgating a final rule.

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Commerce.

ACTION: April 1988 regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: In compliance with Executive Order (E.O.) 12291, entitled "Federal Regulation," and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), the Department of Commerce in April and October of each year publishes in the Federal Register an agenda of the rulemaking actions covered by section 1 of E.O. 12291 that the Department plans to conduct or review over the next twelve months. Rulemaking actions are grouped according to prerulemaking, proposed rules, final rules, and rulemaking actions completed since the October 1987 agenda. The purpose of the agenda is to provide information to the public on regulations currently under review, being proposed, or issued by the Department. The agenda is intended to facilitate comments and views by interested members of the public.

The Department's April 1988 regulatory agenda includes regulatory activities that are expected to be conducted during the period April 1, 1988 through March 31, 1989.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Specific: For additional information about a specific regulatory action listed in the agenda, contact the individual identified as the contact person.

General: Comments or inquiries of a general nature about the agenda should be directed to Michael A. Levitt, Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, DC 20230, Telephone: (202) 377-8843.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On February 17, 1981, President Reagan signed E.O. 12291. The E.O. requires all executive agencies to publish semiannually an agenda of those regulations that are under consideration pursuant to this Order. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin No. 88-1, issued October 7, 1987 establishes guidelines and procedures for the preparation and publication of the April 1988 Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations for all Federal departments and agencies. E.O. 12291 and the OMB Bulletin require that each agenda report the following information on non-exempt regulatory activities being conducted or planned to be conducted by the agency during the twelve-month period succeeding publication: The title of the regulation; the name, title, address and phone number of an agency person who is knowledgeable about the regulation; whether the regulation has or is expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities; the section(s) of the Code of Federal Regulations which will affect or be affected by the action; the section of the United States Code, Public Law or Executive Order that authorizes the action; an indication of whether or not the entry is a significant regulatory action included in the Administration's Regulatory Program and if the agency considers it a priority action; an abstract describing the problem the regulation addresses, alternatives to the regulation being considered, and potential costs and benefits of the action; legal deadline, if any; and a timetable of dates and, if available, Federal Register citations for past stages of the action.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act requires agencies to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis where there is a positive finding that a rule will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. E.O. 12291 requires agencies to prepare a regulatory impact analysis for any regulation considered to be a "major rule" as defined in the Order.

Explanation of Information Contained in the Agenda

Within the Department, the Office of the Secretary and various operating units may issue regulations. Operating units such as the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), the Economic Development Administration, the International Trade Administration, the National Bureau of Standards, and the Patent and Trademark Office issue the greatest share of the Department's regulations.

A large number of regulatory actions reported in the agenda are proposed or final Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS), issued by the National Bureau of Standards (NBS) under Pub. L. 89-306. FIPS consist of standards and guidelines to improve Federal Government use and management of computers and information technology. The standards, while often of great use to industry and the public, apply only to the Federal Government. In developing the standards and guidelines, and in providing technical guidance and coordination to Federal agencies, NBS works closely with private industry standard-setting organizations.

Another large number of regulatory actions reported in the agenda deal with fishery management programs of NOAA's National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS). To avoid repetition of programs and definitions, as well as to provide some understanding of the technical and institutional elements of the NMFS programs, a section on "Explanation of Information Contained in NMFS Regulatory Entries" is provided below.

Explanation of Information Contained in NMFS Regulatory Entries

The Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act of 1976 (16 U.S.C. 1801 et seq.) (Act) governs the management of fisheries within the Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ). The EEZ refers to those waters from the outer edge of the United States territorial sea to a distance of 200 miles. Fishery Management Plans (FMPs) are to be prepared for fisheries which require conservation and management measures. These FMPs regulate domestic and foreign fishing where permitted. Foreign fishing can be conducted in a fishery for which there is no FMP only if a preliminary fishing management plan has been issued to govern that foreign fishing. Under the Act, eight Regional Fishery Management Councils (Councils) prepare FMPs, or amendments to FMPs, for fisheries within their respective areas. In the development of such plans or amendments and their implementing regulations, the Councils are required by law to conduct public hearings on the draft plans and to consider the use of alternative means of regulating.

The Council process for developing FMPs and amendments makes it difficult for NMFS to determine the significance of some regulatory actions under consideration at the time the semiannual regulatory agenda is published.

Frequently NMFS does not have specific plan objectives or alternatives for management since the Councils may not have approved or submitted plans to the Secretary of Commerce for review, adoption, and implementation.

The DOC April 1988 regulatory agenda follows.

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 4b

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The existing regulations implementing the Privacy Act are being revised to reflect the centralization of the administrative appeals process. Current regulations assign final decisionmaking authority within the same component making the initial decision. Centralization within the Office of General Counsel would promote enhanced objectivity in the Department's final administrative decisions on Privacy Act requests.

Legal Authority: 41 USC 251 et seq; PL 98-369; PL 98-577

CFR Citation: 48 CFR 1 to 53

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Department of Commerce is currently reviewing standardized contract clauses and solicitation provisions for inclusion in a planned Departmentwide automated solicitation system. A proposed amendment to the Commerce Acquisition Regulation (CAR) would illustrate and incorporate these standardized clauses and provisions. This should ultimately be less burdensome to Department contractors and potential contractors, since the clauses and provisions would be used uniformly throughout the Department.

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 801

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This action will amend 15 CFR 801 by adding rules to implement a new annual follow-on survey to the BE-20 Benchmark Survey of Selected Services Transactions with Unaffiliated Foreign Persons--1986. The scope and coverage of the annual survey are expected to be more limited than that of the benchmark survey, with exact scope and coverage to be determined after analysis of preliminary results of the 1986 BE-20. Data from the annual survey will be used to derive universe estimates of covered services transactions in nonbenchmark years, thus updating the data collected in the benchmark survey. The first year of coverage will be 1987; the survey will not be taken for a year covered by the benchmark survey.

FOREIGN PERSONS

Legal Authority: 22 USC 3101 to 3108
Int'l Investment & Trade in Svcs Survey Act

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 801

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This action will amend 15 CFR 801 to bring three existing BEA services surveys into conformance with the new BE-20 Benchmark Survey of Selected Services Transactions with Unaffiliated Foreign Persons -- 1986 and with its anticipated annual follow-on survey. Specifically, it will: (1) change the titles of the three surveys to clarify coverage. The title of the BE-47 survey will change to "Annual Survey of Construction, Engineering, Architectural, and Mining Services Provided by U.S. Firms to Unaffiliated Foreign Persons." The title of the BE-48 survey will change to "Annual Survey of Reinsurance and Other Insurance Transactions by U.S. Insurance Companies With Foreign Persons." The title of the BE-93 survey will change to "Annual Survey of Royalties, License Fees, and Other Receipts and Payments for Intangible Rights Between U.S. and Unaffiliated Foreign Persons." (2) Amend 15 CFR 801.9(b) (4) to expand coverage of the BE-48 survey to include direct insurance as well as reinsurance transactions. In designing the BE-20 survey, it was decided to include direct insurance on the existing BE-48 survey rather than on the BE-20. (CONT.)

(4) Amend 15 CFR 801 to apply existing exemption levels for the BE-47 and 48 surveys to newly added items. No change in the exemption levels themselves is planned. For the BE-47 survey, the current exemption level will be applied to the gross book value of new contracts received. For the BE-48 survey, the current exemption level will be applied to primary insurance premiums received and primary insurance losses paid.

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 806.14(f)(3)(iii), (Revision)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This action will revise 15 CFR 806.14(f) (3) (iii) by lowering the percentage of ownership above which a minority-owned foreign affiliate must be reported on Form BE-11C of BEA's Annual Survey of U.S. Direct Investment Abroad. The ownership cutoff now used on the BE-11c is 25 percent. However, foreign business enterprises owned between 10 and 25 percent by a U.S. person are, by definition, also considered foreign affiliates and are thus part of the universe of U.S. direct investment abroad. Experience has shown that some of these affiliates with low ownership interests are, nevertheless, very large. Without the type of information collected on the form, data for such affiliates and, thus, for the universe as a whole, cannot be accurately estimated. For affiliates owned at least 20 percent, but less than 25 percent, by the U.S. Reporter and for which total assets, sales or net income exceed $10 million, this action would require reporting of all 7 data items on the form. For affiliates owned at least 10 percent, but less than 20 percent, by the U.S. Reporter and for which total assets, sales, or net income exceed (cont)

226. FOREIGN TRADE STATISTICS REGULATIONS

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 13 USC 301 to 307

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 30.1 to 30.92

Legal Deadline: None. Deadline is contingent upon legislation not yet passed.

Abstract: Review of CFR 30 for changes to conform with the new statistical classification (harmonized) system for imports and exports. This review will combine elements of housekeeping changes, updating obsolete information, clarification, bringing the system into line with harmonization (including metric measurements) and conformance of reporting with current practices.

There should be no added burden or cost placed on the public because no additional information is required, nor new reporting requirements.

The benefits of these changes will be: allowing direct comparisons between U.S. imports and exports, enabling comparisons between the trade balances of the U.S. and of our major trading partners.

Once the legislation is passed, there is no alternative to making these changes in order to implement the legislation. Additionally, Section 30.24 will be revised to be consistent with Customs Regulations by eliminating the "four day rule" regarding submission of "Shipper's Export Declarations."

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 350

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Defense Priorities and Allocations System (DPAS) implements the priorities and allocations authority of Title I of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. The DPAS was published as a final rule on July 30, 1984. Based on the findings and recommendations of an interagency sponsored study concerning the controlled materials program, and comments from both defense agency and industry users, this proposed rule would amend the DPAS to remove the controlled materials provisions and make certain revisions to its procedural requirements. These amendments will have no costs associated with them, would reduce the regulatory and information reporting burden on industry and make the DPAS more effective and efficient, and would result in cost savings for defense contractors.

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 371; 15 CFR 377; 15 CFR 399

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On July 12, 1985, the Export Administration Amendments Act of 1985 (PL 99-64) extended and amended the Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 USC app 2401, et seq.)(EAA). Certain changes were made to the Short Supply provisions of Section 7 of the EAA. Accordingly, revision of the Short Supply provisions (15 CFR 377) and related licensing requirements (15 CFR 371 and 399) of the Export Administration Regulations (15 CFR 368-399) is necessary. An interim final rule was issued which included (1) elimination of the validated licensing requirement for exports of refined petroleum products so as to permit their export with certain restrictions under a general license; (2) a new definition of "crude oil" for purposes of the regulation; and (3) certain technical and housekeeping changes. There are no costs associated with this action which would promote the export of decontrolled products.

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This standard adopts American National Standard (ANSI X3.113-1987) which defines the syntax of the BASIC programming language and the semantics for its interpretation. The standard will be used by implementors as the reference authority in developing compilers, interpreters or forms of high level language processors and by other computer professionals who need to know the precise syntactic and semantic rules of the standard. Use of this standard will promote the portability of programs between different systems, and will enable organizations to more fully utilize staff training and skills.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: Not Yet Determined

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: A marine fishery user fee system will provide a substantial and stable source of revenue to partially offset Federal fishery expenditures and information needed for effective fishery management. Fees would be collected from the sale of marine fish conservation permits and stamps, and from an assessment on landing or delivery of fish for commercial purposes. Revenues would be shared with the states for marine fishery conservation activities. Administration costs are estimated to be $7,500,000 annually, with net Federal revenues of approximately $40 million.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1456 Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 930

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On January 11, 1984, the U.S. Supreme Court issued its decision in Secretary of the Interior et al. v. California et al. No. 82-1326. The Court held that the sale of Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) oil and gas leases is not an activity "directly affecting" the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended (CZMA), and therefore, that a consistency determination is not required under that section before such sales may be made. Section 307 (c)(1) required that Federal agencies conducting or supporting activities "directly affecting the coastal zone" must conduct or support those activities in a manner which is consistent to the maximum extent practicable with federally-approved state coastal zone management programs. NOAA engaged in rulemaking to revise certain CZMA regulations as a result of the Supreme Court decision. NOAA removed those references which identify OCS lease sales as activities covered by the Section 307(c)(1) requirements.

286. DEVELOPMENT OF A FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR SUMMER FLOUNDER

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 653, (Reserved)

Legal Deadline: Statutory. 110 days after the amendment is submitted by the Fishery Management Council.

Abstract: Summer flounder is seasonably vulnerable to very large and varied commercial and recreational fisheries. Landings have declined in recent years and there is concern that overfishing may occur. The summer flounder crosses Council and Regional boundaries necessitating close coordination between the constituent agencies. The long-term benefits of higher production and revenue to the fishermen and processors are expected to outweigh any short-term limitations on catches in order to rebuild the stocks. Rebuilding the stocks to the maximum level, the efficiency of the fleet will improve as catches per unit of effort will correspondingly rise.

Abstract: The proposed regulations implement Section 10(a)(1)(B) of the Endangered Species Act, as amended (ESA). The proposal provides, under limited circumstances, for issuance of permits allowing the incidental taking of endangered species. The proposal applies to certain Federal permit or license holders and to private entities or State or local governments whose actions are not otherwise subject to Federal involvement or control. Prior to the 1982 amendments to the ESA, the taking of endangered species was prohibited except for scientific research or to enhance the propagation or survival of the species. Permits issued under the proposed regulations would allow permit holders to conduct their activities without risk of prosecution for the incidental take of species authorized by such permits.

292. SAFETY OF UNITED STATES OBSERVERS ABOARD FOREIGN FISHING VESSELS

Legal Authority: PL 99-659

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 611.8

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: United States observers are required aboard foreign vessels permitted to fish in the U.S. Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ). Conditions aboard these vessels can be hazardous to the safety of observers. To prevent injury to observers, the Department of Commerce intends to publish minimum safety standards that must be maintained aboard foreign fishing vessels before they will be permitted to fish in the U.S. EEZ.

Proposed Rule Stage

The alternative to establishing U.S. standards is to accept flag-state standards as adequate. This solution will probably not be feasible because there is a wide variation in foreign safety standards and differing degrees of compliance with standards. In some cases, foreign fishing vessels meeting existing flag-state standards would not be suitable for U.S. observers.

Costs of this action will be borne by the owners of foreign fishing vessels. This action is beneficial in that it may prevent serious injury, including death, to observers during the performance of their duty.

297. ● PROPOSED RULE TO ESTABLISH PRODUCT SPECIFIC SEAFOOD MARKETING COUNCILS UNDER THE FISH AND SEAFOOD PROMOTION ACT OF 1986 (FSPA)

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 16 USC 4001 to 4017 Fish & Seafood Promotion Act of 1986 (FSPA)

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 7 (New)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The U.S. fishing industry has not exhibited significant economic growth in the past 5 years. Some segments of the industry have suffered because the catches have been flat despite increasing demand. This is mainly due to high value stocks being fully exploited while there is a lack of markets for low value species. Therefore, significant quantities of lower-valued fish have gone unharvested, have been allocated to foreign countries, or sold to foreign processing vessels in joint ventures. The seafood marketing councils, established by the FSPA, will be the focus of coordinated industry marketing activities to promote the full utilization of all U.S. fisheries. This agency will oversee establishment and operations of these councils, enforcing provisions of the FSPA. Costs to the Federal Government have not been calculated but are expected to be minimal since the councils will be funded through assessments on industry participants represented on the councils. The long term potential benefit to the U.S. fishing industry may be substantial.

Additional Information: The proposed rule is being drafted in NOAA and will be available for internal review in January 1988. The anticipated date of publication in the Federal Register is March 1988. Since each council will be funded by segments of the industry represented on the council, with certain parameters regarding volume, income, etc., and each council determines these parameters, it is difficult to predict which segments of the industry may bear the economic burden--i.e., small businesses versus large businesses. These issues are being explored at this time.

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1621 to 1630 Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 265A

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The final rule will establish general quality grading standards for all non-breaded forms of fresh or frozen shrimp. These grading standards will provide for the systematic differentiation of the quality of shrimp into four categories -- U.S. Grades A, B, C and Substandard. The proposed standards will be applied to all commercial species of fresh or frozen shrimp in raw or cooked states in all non-breaded market forms. The adoption of grading standards is expected to facilitate trade in shrimp of all commercial species, as consumers will be able to select shrimp on the basis of identified quality. Industry has shown great interest in and support for the standards. Timetable for next action is very tentative. Public comments received indicate a need for further research before the rule is published.

326. REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE TAKING AND IMPORTING OF MARINE MAMMALS; IMPORTATION OF YELLOWFIN TUNA

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216.24

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: U.S. tuna purse seine fishermen operating in the eastern tropical Pacific have been subject to certain restrictions relating to the take of marine mammals, whereas other nations fishing in a similar manner that export tuna to the U.S. often do not impose similar constraints on their own industry. Therefore, the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 was amended to require all such nations, prior to being allowed to import tuna, to provide documentary evidence that they have adopted a program governing the incidental taking of marine mammals that is comparable to that of the U.S. and that the average rate of incidental take in the fishery is comparable to the U.S. These regulations will implement this requirement.

327. ENDANGERED FISH AND WILDLIFE; APPROACHING HUMPBACK WHALES IN HAWAIIAN WATERS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1382(a); 16 USC 1540(f)

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 222.31

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This rule will establish as regulation a previously published Notice of Interpretation regarding minimum distances that should be maintained in the presence of humpback whales in Hawaii. Establishing a 100 yard perimeter around any of the whales while in the Hawaiian Exclusive Zone as a regulation is considered necessary given a large increase in vessel traffic and other water use activities in areas where this species historically occurs. In response to comments received in the public record, NOAA is defining two specific sites as cow/calf areas in which an approach closer than 300 yds is prohibited. This addition creates a new subsection to the rule.

Final Rule Stage

Abstract: This revised rule will expand the coverage of established voluntary standards for grades of fish fillets to include a new market form or style of fillet whereby the pin-bones, the bones radiating laterally from the spinal column, are not removed. This style of fillet has become more familiar in the marketplace, resulting in the industry requesting the amendment. Responses to a previous request for comments indicate a national interest in this style of presentation. The amendment will allow this market form, bearing FDA's recommended labeling, to be inspected and reflect the U.S. Grade A mark.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1401 et seq Deep Seabed Hard Mineral Resources Act

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 970, (Exploration Regulations); 15 CFR 971

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Under 15 CFR 970, prospective deep seabed miners may apply to NOAA for the exploration license needed to explore the deep seabed for manganese nodules. Under the new regulations (15 CFR 971), prospective miners will be able to apply to NOAA for a permit to commercially recover and process nodules to obtain strategic metals (nickel, copper, cobalt, manganese). These permits would provide security of tenure for applicants with respect to other U.S. citizens and other nations' permittees in accordance with applicable international agreements. Fees for securing and maintaining a permit will be based on the Government's processing costs. These fees would be an inconsequential portion of the cost of a commercial recovery operation. The cost of a commercial recovery operation is expected to exceed one billion dollars. Alternatives to the regulation would require amending the Deep Seabed Hard Mineral Resources Act, which would be considered in the context of the U.S. law of the sea policy.

347. PERFORMANCE STANDARDS FOR TUNA SKIPPERS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 to 1407 Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216.24

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: During 1986 the overall annual quota for allowable incidental mortality of porpoise in the eastern tropical Pacific was reached in October and the U.S. tuna purse seine fleet was prohibited from fishing for tuna associated with porpoise. Industry representatives asserted that the quota was reached because a small fraction of vessel operators had exceptionally high kills. The industry representatives requested NMFS to develop sanctions to use against the certificates held by the offending operators to prevent their actions from penalizing the entire industry.

The NMFS does not now have porpoise mortality standards to serve as the basis for any permit action. The purpose of the proposed rule will be to establish appropriate standards which will improve the U.S. fleet's overall porpoise safety performance and identify individual poor performers for remedial action or, if necessary, elimination from the fishery.

Abstract: NTIA has administered the Public Telecommunications Facilities Program (PTFP) for two years under an interim revision of rules. These final rules are designed to reduce applicant burdens and simplify applications requirements. Deletions from prior rules include: local public notice and submission of site leases with initial applications. Grant recipients within the past ten years need not submit full eligibility documentation. Equipment inventories need only include the type(s) of equipment requested. NTIA seeks information on applicants' non-Federal financial support and capital replacement policies, and encourages applicants with the ability to increase their share of project costs. ### 357. ADMINISTRATION OF A UNIFORM PATENT POLICY WITH RESPECT TO DOMESTIC RIGHTS IN INVENTIONS MADE BY GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

Legal Authority: EO 10096; EO 10930; 35
USC 207 to 208; 15 USC 3701 et seq

CFR Citation: 37 CFR 100

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: PL 99-502 amended the Stevenson-Wylder Innovation Act of 1980 by establishing a number of procedures to encourage the development of technologies by laboratories owned or operated by the Federal government, to facilitate the transfer of such technologies to the public, and to promote cooperation between these laboratories and the private sector.

Executive Order 10096 would be amended with regard to the government's rights to ownership of inventions created in laboratories owned or operated by the Federal government. A revised version of the executive order might be prepared and regulations would be developed to implement the amendments effected by P.L. 99-502.

This action will not increase Federal costs. In the short run it will encourage private sector collaboration to assist work done in Federal laboratories by appropriated funds, and in the long run increased commercialization of patents and inventions will increase tax revenues.

promotion fee would recover the costs of these services. The Department of Commerce will submit draft legislation which would impose a fee on airlines and passenger ship lines which travel to the United States and directly benefit from USTTA promotional activities overseas. Airlines and passenger ship lines would be required to pay a fee for each passenger who arrives in the United States. Upon enactment of the legislation, USTTA will issue implementing regulations.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE (DOD)*DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE*Office of the Secretary*32 CFR Chs. I, V, VI, and VII*33 CFR Ch. II*36 CFR Ch. III*Improving Government Regulations; Semiannual Agenda of Regulations*AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, DoD.ACTION: Publication of the consolidated semiannual agenda of DoD regulatory documents.

SUMMARY: The Department of Defense is publishing this consolidated semiannual agenda of regulatory documents for public information and comments under E.O. 12291, "Federal Regulation." This agenda incorporates the objective and criteria, when applicable, of the regulatory reform program under E.O. 12291, and other regulatory programs. It contains DoD issuances initiated by DoD Components that may have economic and environmental impact on state, local, public or private interests under the criteria of E.O. 12291. Although most DoD issuances listed in the agenda are of negligible public impact, their nature may be of public interest and, therefore, are published to provide notice of rulemaking and an opportunity for public participation in the internal DoD rulemaking process.

This agenda updates the report published on October 26, 1987, and includes regulations expected to be issued and under review over the next 12 months. The next agenda is scheduled to be published in October 1988. In addition to this agenda, DoD Components also publish rulemaking notices pertaining to their specific statutory administration requirements as required.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For information concerning the overall DoD regulatory improvement program and for general semiannual agenda information, contact Ms. Pearl Rascoe-Harrison, telephone 202-746-0933 or write to Directorate for Information Operations and Reports, Washington Headquarters Services, 1215 Jefferson Davis Highway, Suite 1204, Arlington, Virginia 22202-4302.

For questions of a legal nature concerning the agenda and its statutory requirements or obligations, contact the Office of the General Counsel, DoD, Washington, DC 20301, or call 202-697-2714.

For specific agenda items, contact the appropriate individual indicated in each DoD Component report.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This consolidated agenda is composed of the regulatory status reports from the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force. Included also in this agenda is the regulatory report from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, whose civil works functions fall under the reporting requirements of E.O. 12291. Their agenda will reflect these requirements, with follow-on reporting actions taken, as necessary.

DoD issuances range from DoD Directives (reflecting departmental policy) to implementing instructions and regulations (largely internal and used to implement Directives). The OSD agenda section contains the primary Directives under which DoD Components promulgate their implementing regulations.

To ease identification and to clarify the differences among the variety of issuances reported, they are identified by their DoD internal numbering system, which denotes Component level of authority and type of issuance in addition to the required CFR number.

In addition, this agenda, although published under the reporting requirements of E.O. 12291, will continue to be the DoD single source reporting vehicle which will identify issuances that are currently applicable under the various regulatory reform programs in progress. Therefore, when applicable, DoD Components will identify those rules which come under the criteria of the:

- a. Regulatory Flexibility Act;
- b. Paperwork Reduction Act; and
- c. GATT International Trade Agreement.

These DoD issuances which are directly applicable under these statutes will be identified in the agenda and their action status indicated. Generally, the reports in this agenda will contain three sections: (1) Current and projected rulemaking; (2) review of existing regulations; and (3) completed actions.

Although not a regulatory agency, the Department of Defense will continue to participate in regulatory initiatives designed to reduce the economic costs and unnecessary environmental burdens upon the public. Comments and recommendations are invited on the rules reported and should be addressed to the DoD Component representatives identified in each section.

Although sensitive to the needs of the public and regulatory reform, the Department of Defense reserves the right to exercise the exemptions and flexibility permitted in its rulemaking process in order to proceed with its overall defense-oriented mission.

Note: The publishing of this agenda does not waive the applicability of the military affairs exemption in title 5, section 553 and section 1 of E.O. 12291.

D. O. Cooke,

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, DoD.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: The Agency contact names and telephone numbers appear after each agenda entry. For other information on the agenda, contact Mrs. Patricia H. Means, Directives Division, Correspondence and Directives Directorate, Washington Headquarters Services, telephone 202-697-4111.

Abstract: Procedures for the protection of endangered species in the regulatory program of the Corps of Engineers. Because of the increased emphasis being placed on endangered species by the Federal and state resource agencies, the Corps identified a need to provide more definitive guidance on implementing the Endangered Species Act (ESA) in its regulatory program. The Corps is now developing counterpart regulations with the Department of Interior. The regulations will basically bring together various guidance used in the past by both the Corps and DOI. The regulations will include guidance on how the ESA

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Education.

ACTION: Publication of the semiannual agenda of Federal regulations.

SUMMARY: The Secretary of Education publishes a Semiannual Agenda of Federal Regulations as required by Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin 88-1 issued under the authority of section 6(b) of Executive Order 12291 (Federal Regulations). The purpose of the agenda is to encourage more effective public participation in the regulatory process by giving the public early information about pending regulatory activities.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Questions or comments related to specific regulations listed in this agenda should be directed to the contact person listed for that set of regulations. Questions or comments on the overall agenda should be directed to A. Neal Shedd, Director, Division of Regulations Management, Office of the General Counsel, Department of Education, Room 2131, FOB-6, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20202. Telephone: (202) 732-2887.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Executive Order 12291, dated February 17, 1981, and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354, enacted September 19, 1980, require the Department of Education to publish, in October and April of each year, (1) an agenda of regulations that the Department expects to issue, and (2) currently effective regulations that are under review. The agenda includes both notices of proposed rulemaking (NPRMs) currently being drafted and pending final regulations.

Under the authority of Executive Order 12291, the Director of OMB has issued OMB Bulletin No. 88-1, dated October 7, 1987, prescribing the content and structure of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations. The Unified Agenda will be issued semiannually and will cover the succeeding 12 months from the date of publication.

For each set of regulations listed, the Agenda provides the title of the document, the type of document, a citation of any rulemaking or other action taken since publication of the most recent Agenda, and planned dates of future rulemaking. In addition, the Agenda provides the following information:

- An abstract, which includes a description of the problem to be addressed, any principal alternatives being considered, and potential costs and benefits of the action.
- An indication of whether the planned action is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601(b)).

- A reference to where a reader can find the current regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations.
- A citation of legal authority.
- The name, address, and telephone number of the contact person at the Department from whom a reader can obtain additional information regarding the planned action.
- An indication if the action is priority and the criteria used in determining the priority status.

If the "Abstract" section of an entry refers readers to the preamble, it means that amendments to those particular regulations would be designed (1) to effect regulatory relief, including reducing paperwork and compliance burdens, improving cost effectiveness and, to the extent possible, vesting greater discretion in State and local agencies, and (2) if necessary, to clarify and simplify requirements governing that program.

This publication in the Federal Register does not impose any binding obligation on the Department with regard to any specific item on the agenda. Regulatory action in addition to the items listed is not precluded. Dates of future regulatory action are subject to revision in subsequent agendas.

Dated: February 19, 1988.

Charles E. M. Kolb,
Acting General Counsel.

Abstract: These proposed regulations would implement section 3(d)(2)(B) of

Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: April 1988 regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: In furtherance of this Administration's commitment to make government more responsive to the citizens of the United States and to assist in fulfilling the President's mandate to lessen regulatory burdens, the Department of Energy (DOE) is publishing this agenda of regulatory activities that DOE has in progress, as well as proposed rulemakings that DOE foreseeably may issue in the next year. This agenda provides the Administration with an effective tool for monitoring and controlling the promulgation of regulations. It includes (1) all rules expected to be issued as proposed or final rules before April 1989, (2) all rules being reviewed within the Department to determine whether to propose modifications through rulemaking, and (3) all rulemakings and rule reviews for which action has been completed since the October 1987 Regulatory Agenda. In addition, the agenda meets requirements under the Regulatory Flexibility Act for information on any rulemakings which are "likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities." The agenda may not include all routine regulations or those that relate to internal agency management.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Under Executive Order 12291, 46 FR 13193, February 19, 1981, each covered agency publishes, in April and October of each year, an agenda of all rulemakings in progress or expected to be commenced within the next year, and currently effective rules that are under agency review. The Executive Order authorizes the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to set forth standards and procedures for the preparation of these agendas. The April 1988 Regulatory Agenda has been prepared in accordance with OMB Bulletin No. 88-1.

There are important reasons for preparing this agenda. It is vital in this Administration's efforts to reduce the burdens of existing and future regulations, to increase agency accountability for regulatory actions, to provide for Presidential oversight of the regulatory process, to minimize duplication and conflict of regulations, and to insure well-reasoned regulations. This Administration has made considerable progress in these efforts.

Executive Order 12291 provides that the regulatory agenda may be incorporated with the "regulatory flexibility agenda" required under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 602 et seq. The regulatory flexibility agenda must contain: (1) A brief description of the subject area and a summary of the nature of any rule which the agency expects to propose or promulgate which is "likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities;" (2) the objectives and legal basis for the issuance of the rule and an approximate schedule for completing action on any rule for which the agency has issued a general notice of proposed rulemaking; and (3) the name and telephone number of an agency official knowledgeable about each rule. The regulatory flexibility agenda required under 5 U.S.C. 602(a) is incorporated in today's notice.

Entries appended to this notice reflect the status of regulatory activities as of approximately February 15, 1988. Regulatory activities have been divided among categories according to their next stage: Prerulemaking action, proposed rule, final rule, or completed action.

Regulations designated as "significant" are those which are also included in the Regulatory Program of the United States Government, prepared pursuant to Executive Order 12498, 50 FR 1036, January 8, 1985. Significant regulations also include those which, while not of Government-wide interest or importance, nevertheless are priorities of the Department.

Each item contains the following information: (1) DOE office or administration (that is, the DOE organizational unit responsible for the regulation); (2) RIN number (that is, the Regulation Identifier Number assigned by OMB/OIRA); (3) title; (4) significance; (5) agency contact (that is, the name, title, address and telephone number of a person who is knowledgeable about the regulation); (6) effects on small businesses and other entities (that is, whether the action is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities" as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act); (7) CFR citation (that is, the section of the Code of Federal Regulations that will be affected); (8) legal authority (that is, a citation to the section of the United States Code (U.S.C.), Public Law (P.L.) or the Executive Order (E.O.) that authorizes the regulatory action); (9) abstract (that is, a description of the problem the regulation will address, the regulatory approach under consideration, the alternatives being considered for addressing the problem, and the potential costs and benefits of the action); (10) legal deadline (that is, the statutory or judicial deadline, if any); and (11) timetable (that is, the dates, and citations if applicable, for all past stages and at least the next stage of the rulemaking). In addition, each item regarding completed actions (that is, regulations completed or withdrawn and reviews completed since the preceding agenda) states the date, and citation if appropriate.

A draft of this agenda has been transmitted to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration for comment, if any, to fulfill the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 602(b).

DOE's next agenda will be published in October 1988.

Issued in Washington, DC on March 3, 1988.

Acting General Counsel.

Abstract: Under the National Energy Conservation Policy Act, DOE has promulgated regulations establishing a methodology for estimating and comparing the life cycle costs of Federal buildings and for determining life cycle cost effectiveness. The Energy Security Act required that the regulations provide for the use of marginal energy costs in the life cycle cost analyses. DOE sought legislative revisions to authorize use of average energy costs rather than marginal costs. Appropriate legislative relief came with the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1986. The current rulemaking would update base year prices and energy cost escalation rates based on current average energy cost projections. It would also eliminate the need for Federal Register publication of future annual updates so long as there is no significant change in the method for making average energy cost projections.

522. ● ENERGY CONSERVATION STANDARDS FOR WATER HEATERS; TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS*Legal Authority: 42 USC 6292CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.32Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This action would be a technical amendment, based on water heater test procedure changes in progress (see 1904 - AA12), of the statutory standard for water heaters contained in the National Appliance Energy Conservation Act of 1987 (NAECA) enacted March 17, 1987. This amendment could change the way the standard level is measured, but would not change the level of the minimum energy conservation standard itself. NAECA requires amendment of the applicable standard if the Secretary determines that an amended test procedure will alter the measured efficiency of the standard. This technical amendment of the standard is to be completed concurrently with the rulemaking with respect to the amended test procedure.

Abstract: Final test procedures for 13 types of appliances were established during 1978. The test procedures form the basis of manufacturers' representations on the Federal Trade Commission's EnergyGuide label. In February 1984, DOE proposed to establish test procedures for heat pump water heaters and to eliminate the need for the test procedure waiver granted to A.O. Smith for its water heater with a thermal compensatory dip tube. Based on the comments received pursuant to the February 8, 1984 NPRM, the Department prepared a new NPRM published March 13, 1987. This NPRM proposed a single test procedure to cover gas, oil and electric water heaters as well as heat pump water heaters, and extended the test procedures to cover instantaneous type water heaters. In addition to the A.O. Smith matter, the rulemaking would eliminate the need for the test procedure waivers granted Bock Corp., Ford Products and Lockinvar Corp. for their high mass oil-fired water heaters.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6321 to 6327

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This rulemaking would modify the prohibition in the State Energy Conservation Program (SECP) regulations on most purchases or installation of equipment and materials for energy conservation building retrofits and weatherization. The prohibition would be relaxed only with respect to whatever so-called eligible petroleum violation escrow (PVE) funds the State elects to spend through the SECP. These PVE funds redress injuries which States' citizens suffered from violations of former Federal petroleum price and allocation regulations. As with all State SECP activities, PVE-funded building retrofits and weatherization would have to be included in an approved program plan.

528. AMENDMENTS TO THE RESIDENTIAL CONSERVATION SERVICE AND THE COMMERCIAL AND APARTMENT CONSERVATION SERVICE

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 42 USC 8211 et seq; 42 USC 8281 et seq; PL 99-412 Conservation Service Reform Act of 1986

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 456, (Revision); 10 CFR 458, (Deletion)

Legal Deadline: Statutory, August 28, 1986. Rules promulgated under section 212 of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act must be amended within the one hundred and eighty day period after the August 28, 1986, enactment of the Conservation Service Reform Act.

Abstract: The Conservation Service Reform Act of 1986 (Act) Requires changes to the Residential Conservation Service (RCS) and repeals the Commercial and Apartment Conservation Service (CACS) except for CACS plans approved before August 1,

DOE—CE

Completed Actions

1984. RCS and CACS required large electric and natural gas utilities to perform energy audits of their eligible customers upon request, and to provide other services. Required changes in the RCS program include deletion of some required services, program termination on June 30, 1989, provisions for alternative State plans, and for utilities to obtain waiver of plan requirements. Except for alternative State plans, these changes were made in a notice of interim final rulemaking because the rule reflects non-discretionary requirements which are explicitly set forth in the Act. Procedures for processing complaints about adequacy of implementation of alternative State plans, and for annual reports on any CACS State plan excepted from the general repeal of CACS were published in a final rulemaking. Consistent with departmental policy, these procedures are designed to minimize the expense or other burdens of complying.

529. ENERGY-EFFICIENCY TEST PROCEDURES FOR DISHWASHERS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6293

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.23

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The ANDI-CO Appliances Inc., an agent for a foreign appliance manufacturer, received a temporary waiver to exclude a foreign appliance manufacturer's dishwasher from the prescribed DOE test procedures. The waiver was granted because DOE's test procedure requirements for measurement of energy consumption do not apply to dishwashers designed to operate with cold inlet water. Consistent with program rules, this rulemaking would examine changes to the dishwasher test procedures which would make this waiver no longer necessary.

530. CRITERIA AND PROCEDURES FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF HUMAN RELIABILITY PROGRAM (HRP) AND DETERMINATION OF INDIVIDUAL'S ELIGIBILITY FOR ACCESS TO AN HRP POSITION

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2014aa Atomic Energy Act of 1954, Sec. 11aa; 42 USC 2201 Atomic Energy Act of 1954, Sec. 161; 10 CFR 710

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 710

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Department of Energy, because of its mission involving nuclear weapons and special nuclear materials, requires a reliable and drug-free work-force. At present, thousands of people within the DOE-contractor work-force are in daily close proximity to nuclear weapons, weapons components, or special nuclear material without the benefit of a human reliability program (HRP). This action would establish a Q(R) access authorization for individuals applying for or currently holding a position identified as an HRP position. The security clearance determination would integrate management and medical screening information into the existing access authorization investigation and adjudication process.

Abstract: These rules are proposed in order to allow DOE to implement its responsibilities under section 5(c)(5) of the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Amendments Act of 1985 (P.L. 99-240) (the Act). This section authorizes DOE to grant to commercial nuclear power reactors allocations of disposal capacity in order to permit the disposal of low-level waste generated by unusual or unexpected activities. The program estimates that up to five petitions each year through 1992 will be prepared by utilities, at an estimated 80 burden-hours per petition. The rules will benefit utilities by ensuring that disposal capacity set aside for unusual or unexpected activities will be disbursed equitably and evenly over the 7-year "interim access period."

Significance: Agency PriorityLegal Authority: 42 USC 10222CFR Citation: 10 CFR 961, (Revision)Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On April 18, 1983, the Department of Energy (DOE) published a rule which established the Standard Contract for Disposal of Spent Nuclear Fuel and/or High-Level Radioactive Waste (standard disposal contract) to be used by the DOE in furnishing disposal services to the owners or generators of spent nuclear fuel and/or high-level radioactive waste (48 FR 16590). On December 6, 1985, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit ruled that the ongoing 1.0 mill per kilowatt hour (¢M/KWH) fee in DOE's standard disposal contract should be based on net generation of electricity rather than gross generation of electricity as adopted in the final rule (Wisconsin Electric Power Co. et al. v. Hodel, Nos. 83-2066 and 84-8571). This rule would amend the standard disposal contract to be consistent with the court's ruling. This amendment is expected to reduce revenues from the ongoing fee up to 5%.

These regulations implement the Federal Claims Collection Act (31 USC 3701-3719) as amended by the Debt Collection Act of 1982 (PL 97-365) and incorporate the Federal Claims Collections Standards (4 CFR 101-105) published jointly by the Department of Justice and the General Accounting Office. The preamble to the Federal Claims Collection Standards states that each Federal agency is required to develop its own implementing regulations based on and consistent with these Standards. Furthermore, the Debt Collection Act specifies that each agency must prescribe regulations on certain aspects of the debt collection process. We do not consider that there is any alternative to issuance of these regulations that would address this need.

551. ● FREEDOM OF INFORMATION REGULATIONS: REVISIONS TO FEE SCHEDULES AND PROCEDURES*Legal Authority: PL 99-570, Sec 1803CFR Citation: 10 CFR 1004Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Freedom of Information Reform Act (FOIRA) of 1986, PL 99-570, requires that each agency promulgate regulations to establish a fee schedule to process requests for information and to establish procedures and guidelines to determine when such fees should be waived or reduced. The DOE fee schedule and procedures conform to the guidelines issued by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for agencies to follow in implementing these regulations. The rule revises existing DOE fee schedules and procedures in accordance with the Reform Act and makes other technical and editorial changes to the DOE regulations that implement the FOIA.

Currently, DOE waiver policy is provided in DOE Procurement Regulations (41 CFR 9-9.109-6). The only alternative to this complete update is to continue to operate with a regulation that in the past has been revised on a piecemeal basis.

HHS—SSA

Proposed Rule Stage

Abstract: Sec. 2615 of Pub. L. 98-369 amended sec. 1127 of the Social Security Act to eliminate loopholes that permitted some people who were paid Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance (OASDI) and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits retroactively to receive more in total benefits for the same period than if they had been paid the benefits when regularly due. The two main changes are: (1) SSI benefits will be reduced where retroactive OASDI benefits have been paid before the SSI benefits. Under prior law, reductions could be made only in retroactive OASDI benefits and only when the retroactive SSI had been paid first. (2) OASDI or SSI benefits payable upon reinstatement following a period of suspension or termination will be reduced by the amount of SSI benefits that would not have been paid if the OASDI benefits had been paid when regularly due. We will amend our regulations to conform to the statutory changes. The program savings to SSA are estimated as $5 million a year.

Abstract: Section 202(k)(4) of the Social Security Act discusses simultaneous entitlement to retirement and disability insurance benefits (RIB/DIB) and provides that SSA will pay the higher benefit unless the claimant elects to be paid the lower. Section 223(a)(1) explains that an application for DIB may be filed by someone other than the insured individual within 3 months after the month of the insured individual's death. We are proposing to change CFR 404.407(c) to clarify that the person described in section 404.612(d) may make the election discussed in section 202(k)(4).

Additional Information: We foresee minimal costs from this change since the number of potentially affected beneficiaries is small and the period of time during which they will receive the higher family maximum amount (based on the RIB) will only be for the months during which the deceased NH is simultaneously entitled to DIB. Also,

Abstract: P. L. 98-21, the Social Security Amendments of 1983, changed the timing of crediting deferred compensation for Social Security purposes. It also changed the treatment of retirement pay depending upon whether it is paid under a qualified deferred compensation plan. Further, it excluded from coverage various fringe benefits and payments under a Simplified Employee Pension Plan (SEP). Finally, the amendments codify certain provisions pertaining to meals and lodging and tax-sheltered annuities. P.L. 98-369 amended the wage exclusion for qualified bond purchase plans. P.L. 99-514 excluded from coverage payments under a cafeteria plan as described in section 125 of the Internal Revenue Code. Section 1882 of P.L. 99-514 amends the law for determining self-employment income when an individual works for a church or church-controlled organization which has elected not to pay social security taxes. Section 1704 of P.L. 99-514 amends the law for receiving an exemption from social security coverage for members of religious orders, ministers, and Christian Science practitioners. Abstract: This proposed regulation reflects policies and procedures concerning agreements between States and the Secretary for Social Security coverage of State and local employees, payment of Social Security contributions, filing of wage reports by States, charging interest for late payments, etc. The current rules need to be organized into a logical sequence and to be updated to reflect many policies which SSA has followed for many years. In preparing this regulation, we reviewed all policies to assess their impact on the trust funds and to reduce recordkeeping burdens. We also added the provisions of section 103 of Pub. L. 98-21. Sec. 103 prohibits termination of existing coverage under the States' agreements. When the regulations are published in final form, we will also add language to implement Pub. L. 99-272 sec. 12110, which provides a uniform effective date for coverage agreements and modifications of agreements, and a provision of sec. 10002 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1986 which transfers from SSA to IRS all responsibility for the contributions and reporting for covered State and local wages paid after 1986.

Abstract: The proposed regulations would codify section 101 of Pub. L. 98-21, as amended by sec. 4 of Pub. L. 98-118, which generally provides Social Security coverage for certain Federal employees and covers certain payments to retired Federal judges after 1985. Estimated increased revenues (resulting from this legislation) for 1984-1989 are $9.4 billion. Long-range savings are estimated at .28 percent of taxable payroll. Also, the proposed regulations would codify section 12112 of Pub. L. 99-272 which provides exemption from Social Security coverage for retired Federal judges on active duty. In addition, the proposed regulations would provide: 1) that Federal employees not otherwise subject to the Social Security tax are nevertheless subject to the Health Insurance portion of the tax under Pub. L. 97-248, 2) that individuals covered by the Civil Service Retirement System may elect during a limited time to be covered under the Federal Employees Retirement System, which includes Social Security coverage under Pub. L. 99-335, and 3) that certain periods are excluded in determining continuous Federal service under Pub. L. 98-369 and Pub. L. 99-221.

Abstract: The proposed regulations include standards for obtaining consultative examinations, the types of consultative examination referrals to be made, and monitoring procedures for consultative examinations and the referral process. The proposed regulations also provide for evaluating all medical evidence of record and developing a 12-month medical history. References to "medical assessments" will be replaced by references to medical source statements as to what a person can still do despite his or her impairment(s). The regulations also set forth the standards to be used in evaluating the medical opinions of treating and other medical sources. Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Our current regulations implementing section 1634 of the Social Security Act provide that SSA will make determinations for the State on whether aged, blind, or disabled people are eligible for Medicaid if the State's Medicaid requirements for these people are the same as SSI eligibility requirements. Sec. 2367 of Pub. L. 98-369 mandates that States require, as a condition of Medicaid eligibility, that a person assign to the State his or her rights (as well as the rights of any other Medicaid eligible person on whose behalf he or she has the legal authority to execute such an assignment of rights) to any medical care and support available under an order of a court or an administrative agency and any third-party payments for medical care (except Medicare). This is a Medicaid requirement that is different from SSI requirements. We plan to amend our regulations to provide that in making the Medicaid eligibility determination under a section 1634 agreement, SSA will also determine that the new assignment requirement has been met. The regulations will similarly allow for any other non-SSI Medicaid requirement mandated by Federal law, such as that added by sec. (cont.)

Abstract: Public Law 98-460 created 2 new provisions under which SSA will pay vocational rehabilitation (VR) agencies for the costs of services provided to disabled or blind social security beneficiaries or SSI recipients. Under the first new provision, SSA will allow payment to VRA's for the costs of VR services provided to individuals continuing to receive payment because they are participating in a VR program after their period of disability has ceased due to their medical recovery. The second new provision allows payment to VRA's for the costs of VR services provided to beneficiaries/recipients who refuse without good cause to continue or to cooperate in a VR program in such a way as to preclude their successful rehabilitation with such refusal resulting in the nonpayment of their disability or blindness payments. It is estimated that the first year costs of this program will be less than 1 million dollars.

Abstract: This provision of the law requires us to consider the combined effect of all of a person's impairments in determining disability regardless of whether any single impairment, if considered separately, would be of sufficient severity. If we do find a medically severe combination of impairments, the combined impact of the impairments must be considered throughout the disability determination process. We are revising regulations to reflect that we will now consider the combined effect of impairments to determine severity. When the combined effect is found to be severe, the person's impairments are evaluated throughout the full sequential evaluation process.

Abstract: If the court remands a case and the SSA Appeals Council remands it to an administrative law judge (ALJ), under current regulations the ALJ returns the case to the Appeals Council with a recommended decision, and the Appeals Council must review that decision and take further action in every case before the decision becomes final. This can involve delay. The proposed regulation would permit the ALJ to make a decision which would become final unless, within 30 days after the decision is received, the claimant files exceptions or within that period requests an extension of time to file exceptions, or within 60 days after the date of the decision the Appeals Council decides to review the decision on its own. The change will permit prompt final decisions and some administrative savings. It will not affect program cost.

Abstract: In these proposed rules, we will state explicitly our policy of not withholding money from a claimant's retroactive SSI benefits to pay a fee directly to the claimant's representative. We believe that no authority exists under the Social Security Act for such withholding. Furthermore, such withholding is prohibited by the assignment provisions of section 207 of the Social Security Act. We expect no costs. Legal Authority: 42 USC 1382(a)(1)(B)

Abstract: The proposed revision would provide that, for one calendar month following receipt, money paid by a medical or social services program to enable someone to pay for an approved service would not be a resource. If still unexpended after a month, the money would be considered available for basic living expenses and so would be a resource. This will allow people a reasonable time in which to pay for services without affecting their supplemental security income eligibility. Legal Authority: 8 USC 1522(b) Section 412(b)(5) Immigration and Nationality Act; PL 96-212 Refugee Act of 1980; PL 97-363 Refugee Assistance Amendments of 1982

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Regulations are required by Department policy for this project grant program administered by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) under an intra-agency agreement with the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR). The project grants are awarded to State and local health agencies to assist them in providing initial health assessments to arriving refugees. These health assessments specifically address conditions of public health concerns, like tuberculosis, and also identify personal health problems that could impair the effective resettlement of the refugee. CDC has established the program requirements, guidelines, and standards for evaluation.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 30 USC 801; 30 USC 844; 30 USC 957

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 11; 42 CFR 84

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: There are three major problems that the proposed regulatory action is intended to solve. First, the current regulatory provisions in 30 CFR 11 in some instances date back almost fifty years. As a result the provisions are not current with many of the extensive changes in respirator technology. Second, the current regulations do not provide for testing of respirators under either actual or simulated use conditions prior to certification. Third, the resources required to conduct routine respirator certification testing has made it difficult for NIOSH to keep respirator performance standards current with advances in respirator technology and with new knowledge on respirator performance characteristics. Alternatives considered: (1) the Federal government could relinquish the field entirely to the private sector. (2) The Federal government could promulgate performance standards but not be involved in assuring compliance with those standards. (3) The Federal government could continue to be the certifier of respirators but have manufacturers conduct testing. (4) The Federal government could continue its present role of total operation of the respirator system. NIOSH (cont)

669. DRUG EXPORTS

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: PL 99-660 Drug Export Amendment Act of 1986

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Drug Export Amendment Act of 1986 authorizes the export for commercial marketing abroad of veterinary and human drugs not approved for marketing in the United States. Under previous law, the export of new human and animal drugs for marketing was confined to drugs that were approved by FDA for domestic use. The law establishes three separate pathways for the export of unapproved products. Under each pathway, FDA approval is required before export is permitted. As a prerulemaking activity, FDA is developing guidance material for manufacturers instructing them as to what information must be submitted to the agency to obtain approval for the export of unapproved products. The guidance material will also identify FDA sources of information on agency practices and policies concerning the implementation of the Drug Export Amendment Act of 1986. The agency will then decide what, if any, regulations are necessary for the efficient implementation of the amendment, and establish timeframes for the development of those regulations.

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The OTC drug review establishes conditions under which OTC drugs are considered generally recognized as safe and effective and not misbranded. After a final monograph (i.e., final rule) is issued, only OTC drugs meeting the conditions of the monograph, or having an approved new drug application, may be legally marketed. Abstract: FDA is responsible for issuing regulatory standards for blood and blood components to ensure the continued safety, purity, and potency of such products. Since 1975, CGMP regulations have been in effect that provide standards for facilities, personnel, and manufacturing procedures for blood and blood components. In accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act, FDA has conducted a retrospective review of its CGMP regulations for blood and blood components, to determine how the regulations may be revised to relieve regulatory burdens and increase flexibility without adversely affecting the public health. Part of the retrospective review of the CGMP will be completed through FDA's implementation of an efficacy review of blood and blood derivatives which responds to recommendations of a Committee of scientific experts--the Panel on Review of Blood and Blood Derivatives. To complete the remainder of the retrospective review program regarding the CGMP, FDA will issue a proposed rule to revise the CGMP regulations.

Abstract: Based upon an evaluation of an action issues report, the agency has concluded that it will recommend that the Secretary propose revision of the existing regulations in a manner consistent with the current procedural regulations for human drugs where appropriate. The New Animal Drug Application (NADA) revisions would articulate general requirements in regulations containing performance standards and would complement them through detailed guidelines on, among other matters, appropriate ways of meeting requirements for submission of chemistry, pharmacology, and statistical data that would better address the intricate scientific issues involved. Although the guidelines would not establish regulatory requirements, persons would be able to rely on them with confidence that action taken under a guideline would be acceptable to the agency. A separate proposed rule would provide for reporting requirements for marketed animal drugs.

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Acceptable evidence and information exists to show that a subgroup of asthmatics is at moderate to severe risk for a severe reaction upon exposure to sulfites. The agency's primary tool for handling a situation where population subgroups may be at increased risk from a food ingredient that is safe for most people is to use labeling to inform those persons who need or want to avoid the ingredient. The agency issued a final rule, effective January 7, 1987, that requires that when a sulfiting agent is present in a finished food at 10 parts per million or greater, the sulfiting agent must be declared on the label. In addition, FDA issued a final rule, effective August 8, 1986, prohibiting the use of sulfiting agents on raw fruits and vegetables intended to be served or sold raw to consumers (e.g., in salad bars). The agency is now considering what its options are with regard to the GRAS status of 1) sulfiting agents used on "fresh" potatoes and 2) other food uses of sulfiting agents. Options being considered are: 1) affirming all uses of sulfiting agents as GRAS with specific limitation; 2) affirming most uses of (cont)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This regulatory action is being taken to improve the safety of marketed drug products by a reporting scheme that will require serious adverse reactions associated with licensed biological products to be reported to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

The purpose of the regulatory action is to require prompt reporting to the agency of serious adverse experiences for all licensed biological products.

The regulatory action being considered by FDA would be consistent with the agency's requirements regarding adverse reactions reporting for approved new drugs under 21 CFR 314.80 (see February 22, 1985; 50 FR 7452). These biologic regulations would require that all "serious and unexpected" adverse experiences and any "significant increase in frequency" of a serious expected event be reported to the agency within 15 working days. Known and nonserious adverse biological product experiences would be required to be reported to the agency at quarterly or annual intervals, depending on the length of marketing experience with the product. 676. PROPOSED RULE TO IMPLEMENT THE ORPHAN DRUG AMENDMENTS TO THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT*Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: PL 97-414 Orphan Drug Act

CFR Citation: Not yet determinedLegal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Orphan Drug Act is intended to provide incentives for drug companies to invest in the development of drugs for rare diseases or conditions. Certain incentives are necessary because "orphan drugs" are unlikely to be profitable. The agency is required to carry out provisions of the Orphan Drug Act, e.g., by designating a drug as an orphan drug, by providing protocol assistance, and by granting seven years of exclusive approval status. The proposed rule would establish procedures whereby drug sponsors can take advantage of the incentives to encourage development of orphan drugs. While several provisions of the Orphan Drug Act call for promulgation of regulations, the agency is considering the extent to which regulations will be needed to provide the framework and guidance for implementing a program of incentives to drug sponsors and manufacturers.

677. IMPLEMENTATION OF TITLE I OF THE "DRUG PRICE COMPETITION AND PATENT TERM RESTORATION ACT OF 1984" (TITLE I)*Significance: Agency PriorityLegal Authority: PL 98-417, (Title I)CFR Citation: Not yet determinedLegal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Until the passage of Title I of the "Drug Price Competition and Patent Term Restoration Act of 1984," abbreviated new drug application (ANDA) procedures were only available for generic products equivalent to pioneer drugs approved before 1962. Title I opened up the ANDA policy to generic copies of products approved after 1962. This rulemaking is intended to establish clear and uniform procedures for the review and timely approval of ANDAs. This should assist the generic drug industry by ending considerable confusion about the procedures governing review of ANDAs. In turn, with the availability of lower-cost generic products, it is estimated that consumers may save millions of dollars. The statute calls for promulgation of implementing regulations, however, the agency also expects to develop guidelines and other policy statements to assist in developing approvable applications. Revised target dates for this regulatory action are appropriate because many new issues have been identified in petitions and letters to the agency from trade associations and

Abstract: This proposed rule would permit applicants to file abbreviated new animal drug applications (ANADAs) for products identical to approved post-1962 drugs and to omit certain reports that are required in full NADAs to show safety and effectiveness of the product. It would apply only to certain drug products specified by FDA. If adopted, the proposed rule would reduce duplicative testing of drugs and also reduce the cost to the manufacturer of getting the affected drugs on the market. Abstract: Substantial progress has been made in reducing the number of provisionally listed additives and only 3 color additives remain on the provisional list. The agency is presently reviewing petitions to list these color additives permanently. Because FD&C Red No. 3 animal feeding studies have shown a treatment-related increased incidence of tumor bearing animals, the agency considered the use of quantitative risk assessment as a basis for assessing the safety of this color additive in external drugs and cosmetics. As a preliminary step in its consideration of this approach, the agency formed a scientific peer review panel of government scientists to consider whether it is possible to quantify the risk presented by the use of FD&C Red No. 3 based on the scientific data available to the agency and, if so, what level of risk is presented by the use of this color additive. The agency has received the report from the scientific review panel in which the panel estimates the risk of cancer from use of FD&C Red No. 3 in external drugs and cosmetics. Furthermore, for FD&C Red No. 3 the industry has postulated a secondary mechanism for the observed tumorigenic response in the animal feeding (cont)

687. FOOD LABELING INFORMATION REGARDING GOOD NUTRITION AND HEALTH*Significance: Regulatory ProgramLegal Authority: 15 USC 1453 Fair Packaging and Labeling Act; 15 USC 1455 Fair Packaging and Labeling Act; 21 USC 321 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 343 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 348 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic ActCFR Citation: 21 CFR 101Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: In the FEDERAL REGISTER of August 4, 1987, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) discussed an initiative concerning health-related claims or information on food labeling and the criteria it will apply in evaluating the propriety of such labeling. Consistent with this initiative, FDA proposed to amend certain regulations on food labeling to codify and to clarify its policy on the appropriate use of health-related messages. The agency also announced its intention to form a Public Health Service (PHS) committee that will attempt to develop "health messages" appropriate for use on food labeling.

FDA recognizes that this initiative represents a substantive change in past agency policy, and because of the complexity of the matter and the broad public interest, wishes to proceed cautiously and deliberately in its regulatory approach.

Pending this rulemaking proceeding, the agency will employ the criteria discussed in the preamble to the notice in evaluating the propriety of bringing enforcement action against products bearing health messages on food labeling.

Abstract: In the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 25, 1986, the agency published a proposed rule that would provide a mechanism to allow relevant, truthful, and nonmisleading claims about cholesterol and fatty acid on product labeling for consumers. This proposed rule resulted from the medical and consumer interest in the association between dietary fat and cholesterol and the occurrence of coronary heart disease, the leading cause of death and disability in the United States today. The proposed rule would allow industry voluntarily to provide consumers with cholesterol and fatty acid information currently prohibited by regulations by permitting the use of meaningful descriptors of the cholesterol content of foods as established by regulation (e.g., "cholesterol free," "low cholesterol," and "reduced cholesterol"). Additionally, the proposal would allow the use of comparative claims (e.g., 50 percent less cholesterol than our original product), provided quantitative cholesterol content information is supplied. Public comments submitted in response to the proposed rule are being reviewed.

Abstract: Methylene chloride is used as a solvent in aerosol cosmetic products (hair sprays). Recent carcinogenicity bioassay studies, however, have shown that methylene chloride is an animal carcinogen. These studies indicate that the continued use of methylene chloride, in functional amounts, in such cosmetic products may pose a significant risk to the public health, especially in specific segments of the population that are continually exposed to aerosol cosmetics containing methylene chloride. The agency has been informed of voluntary efforts by the cosmetic industry to replace methylene chloride but believes that prohibiting its use in cosmetics is the only approach that will assure that the public health will be fully safeguarded from all such products, both foreign and domestic. FDA announced in the December 18, 1985, NPRM its conclusion that methylene chloride used as a solvent to extract caffeine from green coffee beans was not a danger under the Delaney Clause to the Food Additives Amendment because the risk was so miniscule as to be considered

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: In 1980, FDA published a regulation (21 CFR 102.33) to require the declaration of the percent of juice contained in all diluted juice beverages. This regulation was published to extend the percent juice declaration required for diluted orange juice beverages (21 CFR 102.32) to all other diluted juice beverages. These two regulations were developed to provide consumers with information as to the various amounts of juice in the diluted juice beverages offered for sale. The regulation regarding percentage juice declaration for diluted orange juice beverages had been in effect for several years and functioning well before the regulation addressing all other diluted juice beverages was published. With publication of 21 CFR 102.33, a controversy developed over the applicability of the regulation to diluted cranberry juice beverages. The controversy centered around the fact that cranberry juice is a high acid juice and is not normally consumed as a single strength juice. Due to this unresolved controversy, 21 CFR 102.33 has not been made effective. In the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 16, 1987 (52 FR 26690), the agency proposed to revoke the common or usual (cont)

Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT: name regulation (21 CFR 102.33) for diluted fruit or vegetable juice beverages other than diluted orange juice beverages. The revocation of this regulation will allow voluntary percentage labeling of these diluted juice beverages at the discretion of the manufacturer and according to the demands of the marketplace. Diluted orange juice beverages would continue to be subject to the percentage labeling requirement that has been in effect for diluted orange juice beverages since 1973. This proposed action also withdraws the proposed rule published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of June 1, 1984 (49 FR 22831), which, among other things, exempted cranberry juice products from percentage ingredient labeling requirements.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 211.132

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The agency is considering amending the current tamper-resistant packaging regulations and updating information it previously made available on tamper-resistant packaging technologies. Under this approach, the agency is considering revisions to require special precautions against tampering for two-piece, hard, gelatin capsules, the dosage form that has been the subject of fatal tamperings.

The agency is also considering other measures to provide additional guidance to manufacturers regarding tamper-resistant packaging technology and public education to improve consumer's alertness to tampering.

Any action taken would reflect the Administration policy that the consumer is the key to tamper resistance, and the ultimate goal of tamper-resistant packaging is that it should offer a signal to consumers about tampering.

719. MISCONDUCT IN SCIENCE*Significance: Regulatory ProgramLegal Authority: 42 USC 241; 42 USC 289bCFR Citation: 42 CFR 50Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Recipients of Public Health Service research and research training funds do not presently have sufficient guidance regarding their responsibility to investigate and report possible misconduct in PHS-funded research or research training. While many institutions have voluntarily established procedures for dealing with misconduct in science, they are not required to do so and in many recent instances the lack of defined procedures has delayed or compromised awardees' investigations. Institutional policies regarding reports to funding agencies vary considerably. The proposed regulation will define the point at which funding agencies are notified and will require awardees to develop procedures for dealing with misconduct in science. Section 493 of the PHS Act requires that the HHS Secretary issue regulations.

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: These regulations would implement provisions of section 948 of P.L. 96-499 and section 2307 of P.L. 98-369. This legislation deals with certain problems that have arisen in the Medicare program with respect to payment for physicians in the teaching setting. Specifically addressed by Congress is the problem of distinguishing between the services a physician furnishes to individual patients as a teaching physician and services furnished to the provider, as well as the method of reimbursement for these services. This proposed rule sets forth the conditions under which physicians in teaching settings would be reimbursed on a reasonable cost basis or, alternatively, on a reasonable charge basis. It also describes the methods used to determine the customary charges for the services of those physicians. This rule would also clarify related issues of physician reimbursement.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1395x; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1395hh; 42 USC 263a

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 405.1310 to 405.1317; 42 CFR 482.27; 42 CFR 74

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Currently, hospital-based and independent laboratories are subject to varying State Licensure requirements and to Medicare regulations that vary from requirements of private accreditation entities and from regulations governing laboratories performing tests under interstate commerce. One consequence is that the quality of laboratories' services is adjudged using different standards. Inconsistent standards not only create confusion regarding necessary performance levels, but may permit laboratories with substandard performance to continue furnishing covered services. This proposed rule would establish better measures of performance and amend requirements to improve the quality of laboratory services.

It would also place certain requirements on hospitals regarding the identification and billing of potential Medicare secondary payor cases. Additionally, it would include requirements regarding timely refunds to Medicare when collections have been made from another insurer. The proposal would also clarify rules for Medicare payment for services furnished to an end-stage renal disease (ESRD) patient who is also covered under an employer group health plan. It would include the changes pertaining to Medicare conditional payments for ESRD beneficiaries made by section 4036(a) of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1987. It would update policies pertaining to Medicare payment for services covered under a workers' compensation law or plan, or under no-fault or liability insurance. Abstract: These regulations would establish a new Part 426, setting forth the procedures under which HCFA Administrative Law Judges (ALJs) would conduct hearings of certain Medicare appeals, which are now heard by ALJs of the Social Security Administration. These hearings involve appeals under section 1869 and 1879 of the Social Security Act concerning the amount of benefits payable under Part A and Part B. Prior to enactment of the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1986, ALJ hearings were not available for appeals of Part B payments, except for certain matters arising under section 1876 of the Act (payment to health maintenance organizations and competitive medical plans). Part 426 also would establish procedures for a Medicare Review Board, judicial review, reopening of ALJ and Board decisions, representation of parties and payment of certain travel expenses.

It also specifies how States electing the option under Section 1902

751. OPTIONAL PAYMENT SYSTEM FOR LOW MEDICARE VOLUME SKILLED NURSING FACILITIES

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1395yy(d)

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 413.30

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This rule proposes to establish optional prospective payment rates for routine services furnished by certain skilled nursing facilities. The prospective rate would be on a per diem basis and would include payment for the cost of furnishing general inpatient routine services and associated capital-related costs. As specified in the Conference Committee Report accompanying PL 99-272, the rates paid to proprietary SNFs would include a component for the routine service portion of the return on equity capital. As specified in section 1861(v)(1)(B) of the Act, the return on equity component would only be included in the rate paid to proprietary SNFs. This rule would propose instructions for determining eligibility for payment under this system, and the methodology for calculating the prospective payment rates.

Abstract: This proposed rule would set forth the Secretary's authority to levy administrative sanctions against hospital providers who engage in fraudulent and abusive practices intended to circumvent the Prospective Payment System (PPS) under the Medicare program. The purpose of these proposed regulations is to clarify and strengthen the OIG's existing authority to protect the Medicare program from abuse by terminating any hospital who fails to correct abusive practices under PPS when directed to do so by the appropriate utilization and quality control Peer Review Organization (PRO). These regulations also revise and clarify HCFA's authority with respect to corrective action procedures and procedures for program payment denial against those hospital providers who circumvent PPS.

Abstract: We would make several revisions to the regulations governing payment for inpatient hospital services which, in general, are necessary to conform the regulations to current policy. These changes would 1) clarify when the changes in urban/rural designations are recognized for purposes of the prospective payment system; 2) clarify the effective date of the revised payment rate for a hospital that is classified as a sole community hospital; 3) add a definition of patient days used in computing a hospital's disproportionate share patient percentage as well as clarify how we calculate the Supplemental Security Income/Medicare percentage based on Medicare patient days; and 4) clarify that provisions that govern requests for exceptions to and exemptions from a hospital's rate-of-increase ceiling also govern requests for adjustments to the ceiling and that we grant a hospital's request for an exception or adjustment only if its costs exceed its rate-of-increase ceiling. In addition, we would make two technical and conforming changes to the regulations.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1395u(b)(3)(B); 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1395hh

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 405.508

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This proposed rule would clarify the circumstances under which Medicare carriers are to apply the comparable services limitation in making their determination of a reasonable charge for Medicare Part B services. Under section 1842(b)(3)(B) of the Act, carriers are prohibited from making a determination of a reasonable charge that would be higher than the charge upon which it would base payment to its own policyholders for a comparable service under comparable circumstances. Currently, there is a great deal of confusion among the carriers as to what constitutes comparable services and comparable circumstances, the result of which is that very few carriers are applying the comparable services limitation in their reasonable charge determination. We would revise the regulations to more clearly state how the comparable services limitation should be implemented by the carriers.

Legal Deadline: None. While the Secretary is not required to publish a regulation, ESRD facilities will not otherwise be permitted to re-use bloodlines after June 30, 1988.

Abstract: This rule would establish standards for safe and effective reuse of bloodlines. Legal Authority: PL 100-203, Sec 4102; 42 USC 1396n(d)

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 441

Legal Deadline: Statutory, October 1, 1989. Regulation must be promulgated containing methodology.

Abstract: This regulation would implement section 4102 of PL 100-203. These rules would allow a State to provide skilled nursing facility (SNF), intermediate care facility (ICF), and home and community-based services to individuals 65 years of age and older, in exchange for a "cap" on the amount of money for which Medicaid Federal financial participation would be available. The program would be administered by means of waivers which a State could request. As currently constructed, the statute allows for waivers of statewideness, comparability, and income deeming. Home and community-based services could be made available to individuals age 65 or older who are shown by an evaluation to be likely to require the level of care provided in an SNF or ICF, the cost for which could be paid by Medicaid. For States electing this option, the waiver would replace the home and community-based services waivers available under section 1915(c) of the Act, for individuals in this age category.

Abstract: These proposed regulations would revise or restructure the requirements of the Medicaid Eligibility Quality Control (MEQC) program to reflect changes determined necessary as a result of the findings of the studies of the quality control systems of the AFDC and Medicaid programs that were mandated by section 12301 of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. The changes would focus on improvements in the quality of administration of the MEQC system and methods of gathering reasonable data to be used as a basis for withholding Federal funds from States that have excessive levels of erroneous Medicaid payments.

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: These proposed regulations reflect the urgency we believe is necessary in removing Medicare and Medicaid patients from potentially dangerous situations, and would provide incentives for the provider or supplier to take prompt remedial action to remove threats to patients safety. When we determine that Medicare and Medicaid providers and suppliers fail to meet the conditions of participation or coverage, and the deficiencies immediately jeopardize patients' health and safety, we would give providers and suppliers notice of termination not more than 2 days before the effective date of termination. Generally, administrative hearings would be held after the effective date of termination.

These physicians would be paid at 80 percent of the lower of the actual charge or the appropriate fee schedule amount. The fee schedule amount for a nonparticipating physician would be 95 percent of the amount applicable to a participating physician. In addition, a nonparticipating physician's charges to beneficiaries would be capped. The proposed fee schedule would result in overall amount of payment to physicians for radiology services of 3 percent less than would have occurred without a fee schedule. Abstract: This regulation eliminates application of the lesser of costs or charges aggregation method for determining payment for services furnished under Part A or Part B of Medicare effective with cost reporting periods beginning on or after October 1, 1984 (section 2308(a) of Pub.L. 98-369). We also eliminate the accumulation and carryover of unreimbursed costs to subsequent cost reporting periods applicable with cost reporting periods beginning on or after the effective date of the final rule. It revises the nominal charge provisions for providers that furnish services either free of charge or at a nominal charge in accordance with section 2308(b) of Pub.L. 98-369. Abstract: This rule revises the format and content of the standards for intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded and persons with related conditions (ICFs/MR). The new format will be that of "conditions of participation" and will make the regulations for ICFs/MR consistent with the organization of the Medicare and Medicaid regulations for skilled nursing facilities. Revisions to the content of the regulations are intended to shift the focus away from facility-oriented requirements to client-oriented requirements. Thus, the rule is designed to increase the focus on the provision of active treatment services for clients,

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This final rule revises the regulations governing the Medicaid eligibility quality control (MEQC) program to include more specified program requirements and to establish new time frames for completing and reporting MEQC case findings to HCFA. The final rule also establishes a performance-based threshold for States to meet before HCFA will consider good faith waiver requests of disallowance of Federal financial participation in erroneous Medicaid payments and provides more definitive criteria for evaluating States good faith efforts to meet the national standard error rate. In addition, the rule makes several technical changes and specifies that States may rebut their quarterly projected error rates when they can present evidence that the projected rates were based on erroneous data. The revisions will strengthen the MEQC program and provide flexibility and incentives to States to produce more accurate Medicaid eligibility determinations.

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 421.3; 42 CFR 421.117; 42 CFR 421.128

Abstract: These regulations make explicit in the regulations HCFA's policy on the relationship between State Medicaid eligibility determinations based on disability and disability determinations by SSA under the Supplemental Security Income Program. The regulations incorporate the conditions under which the State agency must make independent determinations of disability and the effect of only SSA determination on Medicaid eligibility. The regulations also conform the Medicaid provisions on composition of medical review teams, required information, and the time limit for making determinations more closely to those used by SSA in making SSI determinations. Because of numerous questions raised and litigation, it is necessary to clarify our policy on the controlling nature of SSI disability determinations on Medicaid eligibility.

Abstract: This rule is necessitated by a court decision requiring the Secretary to reinstate a modified version of the initial method of reimbursement for physician's dialysis services. We also are clarifying and modifying some of the principles of the monthly capitation payment method. ## HHS—HCFA

Final Rule Stage

Abstract: This rule implements, in part, those portions of sec. 9503 of Pub. L. 99-272 that set forth State plan requirements and other provisions relating to State third-party liability (TPL) programs. The provisions deal with (1) the integration of a State's pursuit of third-party claims with its Mechanized Claims Processing and Information Retrieval Systems and the Secretary's responsibility to develop performance standards to assess TPL collection efforts with respect to this integration; (2) certain exceptions to the cost avoidance method of claims payment in TPL situations; and (3) provider restrictions and provider penalties related to attempts at collection of cost sharing or portions of those amounts from Medicaid recipients when third party liability has been established.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1395hh; 42 USC 1395rr

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 405

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: These rules provide that, when the only deficiency cited for a supplier of ESRD services is a failure to cooperate in achieving the plans and objectives of the ESRD network of which the supplier is a member, and that failure does not jeopardize patient health and safety, HCFA may, as an alternative to terminations of Medicare coverage of the facility's ESRD services, impose alternative sanctions such as denial of payment for services furnished to patients accepted for care after the effective date of the sanction, or a gradual reduction in the payments for all patients, or withholding of payment without interest until the facility comes into compliance with the requirement.

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: These regulations specify the requirements and procedures under which States are allowed 60 days following the date of discovery of an overpayment to a Medicaid provider to recover or attempt to recover the overpayment before the Federal share must be credited to HCFA. The Federal Government will share in any overpayments that the State documents it is unable to recover because the debts of the provider have been discharged in bankruptcy or the provider is out-of-business. The regulations, which implement section 9512 of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1986, are intended to aid in recovering improperly spent Federal funds expeditiously.

Current regulations reflect the statutory exclusion from Medicare Part B coverage of drugs or biologicals that can be self-administered. The regulations will be amended to reflect the new statutory requirement. Final regulation will also implement section 4075 of P.L. 100-203, which expanded coverage from "immunosuppressive drugs" to "prescription drugs used in immunosuppressive therapy."

HHS—HCFA

Final Rule Stage

Abstract: In this final rule we respond to comments on our proposal and incorporate a number of self-implementing changes to the statute made by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1987, which was enacted after the proposed rule was published. These conditions would replace the existing separate conditions for SNFs participating in the Medicare program, and SNFs and ICFs participating in the Medicaid program. Although some essential distinctions imposed by the statute remain, these new conditions reflect common needs in SNFs and ICFs. The purpose of these revisions is to focus on actual facility performance in meeting residents' needs in a safe and healthful environment, rather than on the capacity of a facility to provide appropriate services. The results of this change in focus will be to enforce requirements from the perspective of quality of care and life for long term care patients, not only under Medicare and Medicaid, but generally since most of these requirements pertain to all patients of an SNF or ICF. These revisions are also expected to simplify Federal enforcement by using a single set of conditions for those activities we identify as common to all facilities.

Legal Deadline: Judicial, July 1, 1987. (Note: Published in Federal Register 7/1/87)

Abstract: These regulations respond to a U.S. District Court decision, which declared a previous rule affecting long term care surveys published in the Federal Register on June 13, 1986, to be procedurally invalid. The Court ordered that, by July 1, 1987, we publish a new proposed rule to correct the inadequacies identified by the Court. Accordingly, the proposed regulations described in detail HCFA's survey methodology, guidelines, and forms used in surveys, and the duties of the State survey agency. HCFA also solicited comments on the guidelines and forms that constitute the survey system set forth in appendices to the proposed rule.

Abstract: These regulations will establish requirements for home health aide training that will apply to all home health agencies that provide home health aide services under Part A or B of the Medicare program. In order for home health aide services to be covered under the Medicare program, home health aides must have completed a training and competency evaluation program or a competency evaluation program that we approve. Conforming changes are being made to the hospice regulation with respect to hospice personnel that perform home health aide services. #### 848. ● EXCLUSION OF INDIAN TRUST FUNDS AND ALASKA NATIVE CLAIMS SETTLEMENT ACT DISTRIBUTIONS (ANCSA)

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: PL 97-458, Sec 4; PL 98-64, Sec 2; PL 92-203, as amended

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 233.20(a)(4)(ii)(n); 45 CFR 233.20(a)(4)(ii)(o); 45 CFR 233.20(a)(4)(ii)(e); 45 CFR 233.20(a)(4)(ii)(k)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Would update current regulations by adding additional statutory exclusions for Indian Judgment Funds and other funds held in trust or distributed per capita under a plan approved by Congress of the Department of Interior and initial purchases made with such funds. Additionally, would exclude all land distributions made pursuant to Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act. Regulations would reflect the statutes, therefore, no alternatives are being considered. We have determined that there would be some savings under the trust funds exclusions, but there would be some costs under the ANCSA exclusion. In any given year, we estimate the maximum typical savings would be $350,000 and maximum typical costs would be $120,000. Therefore, the typical annual result would be a savings of $230,000. The regulations will provide guidelines to States for implementing the statutory provisions.

[Docket No. N-88-1775]

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Housing and Urban Development.ACTION: Semiannual agenda, under Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, of regulations expected to be issued and under review.

SUMMARY: In accordance with section 5 of Executive Order 12291, "Federal Regulation," the Department is publishing its agenda of proposed regulations already issued or expected to be issued, and of currently effective rules that are under review. Also, under section 602 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the Department has prepared a regulatory flexibility agenda of regulations expected to be proposed or promulgated which are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. As permitted by Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the two agendas are combined for publication.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Grady J. Norris, Assistant General Counsel for Regulations, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Room 10276, 451 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, DC 20410, (202) 755-7055. (This is not a toll-free number.)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12291, "Federal Regulation," issued on February 17, 1981 (46 FR 13193), requires each agency to publish semiannually an agenda of regulations that the agency has issued or expects to issue and of currently effective regulations that are under agency review.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601-612, requires each agency to publish semiannually a regulatory flexibility agenda of rules expected to be proposed or promulgated which are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities," meaning small businesses, small organizations, or small governmental jurisdictions.

Executive Order 12291 and section 605 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act each permit incorporation of the agenda it requires with any other prescribed agenda. Accordingly, the agenda set out below combines the information required by the Executive Order and by the Regulatory Flexibility Act. In addition, the agenda contains certain information not required by either the Executive Order or by the Act which the Department considers useful, both better to inform the public and to enhance the Department's own inventory control over its body of regulations.

For purposes of Executive Order 12291, "regulation" or "rule" is defined as "an agency statement of general applicability and future effect designed to implement, interpret, or prescribe law or policy or describing the procedure or practice requirements of an agency," subject to certain exceptions. The agenda published below concentrates upon regulatory material contained, or expected to be contained, in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) (or incorporated therein by reference) following publication in the Federal Register. As appropriate, however, issuances in the nature of general statements of policy may be published in the Federal Register but not for codification in the CFR.

The Department also is subject to certain requirements involving congressional review of rulemaking actions, including publication of an agenda. Section 7(o) of the Department of Housing and Urban Development Act (42 U.S.C. 3535(o)) requires that the Secretary transmit to the congressional committees having jurisdictional oversight (the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs and the House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs) a semiannual agenda of all rules or regulations which are under development or review by the Department. A rule appearing on the agenda cannot be published for comment before or during the first 15 calendar days of continuous session of Congress after transmittal of the agenda. If, within such period, either Committee notifies the Secretary that it intends to review any rule or regulation or portion thereof which appears on the agenda, the Secretary must submit to both Committees a copy of the rule or regulation, in the form it is intended to be proposed, at least 15 calendar days of continuous session before it is published for comment. The Semiannual Agenda appearing hereinafter is the agenda transmitted to the Committees in compliance with the foregoing requirement.

The agenda items are divided first by program office. Within each program office, the agenda items are divided into four groups: (i) Prerulemaking actions, (ii) publications or other implementations of notices of proposed rulemaking, (iii) publications or other implementations of final rules, and (iv) completed actions. Within each grouping, rules are listed in chronological order by the Part number of the CFR affected. Where a rule affects multiple parts of the CFR, the rule is listed by the first affected Part number. Priority rules include all regulations designated for priority development by the Department.

Items listed in this agenda are from the following Offices within the Department: Office of the Secretary; Office of Housing; Office of Public and Indian Housing; Office of Community Planning and Development; Office of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity; Office of Administration; and Government National Mortgage Association.

Dated: February 24, 1988.

J. Michael Dorsey,
General Counsel.

Proposed Rule Stage

Abstract: The Department is reviewing its procedural rules to determine to what extent they need to be updated. This includes the rules the Department uses in developing new rules or amending existing regulations, and the procedures the public may use in commenting on a rulemaking or must use to obtain information from HUD under the Freedom of Information Act as well as procedures applicable to the Interstate Land Sales Registration Program. It is the Department's intention to streamline procedures, to make procedures more uniform, to clarify procedures for public petition for rulemaking, and to be more explicit about the kinds of rulemaking that will be subject to public participation and the circumstances under which rules may receive expedited treatment.

regulation. The infrequent projects that may not be exempt (perhaps one every two years) have in the past been proposed by organizations already subject to the Department of Health and Human Services regulation, and thus would not have any incremental compliance costs for the organization, other than the actual project requirements.

Costs would be slight.

Abstract: This regulation sets forth the policy, procedure and responsibilities of the Department of Housing and Urban Development to implement and enforce Executive Order 11988, Floodplain

Management, and Executive Order 11990, the Protection of Wetlands. This regulation replaces a general statement of Departmental policy (44 FR 47623; August 14, 1979) implementing these Executive Orders. Abstract: This proposed rule will implement section 214 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1980, as amended in 1981, 1986, and 1988. That Act prohibits the Secretary from providing financial assistance to substantially all illegal aliens as well as to most classes of aliens admitted for temporary purposes. Legal Authority: 12 USC 1703

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: It is the responsibility of lending institutions to submit complete and accurate loan files so that the Department can process the Title I Application for Loss in a timely manner and proceed with debt collection efforts. Inordinate delays of more than a year can often occur between the time a claim is returned to the lender because of regulatory violations or incomplete submissions and the lender's making an appeal of the denial. At present, there is no control on the refiling period.

If the appeal is approved for payment, debt collection efforts can be impaired by the often lengthy time between default on the loan and the initiation of collection efforts by the Department. Also, much staff time is spent in reviewing resubmitted claims which are being irresponsibly and repeatedly returned by lending institutions. This rule would control the time period during which appeals could be filed, the number of resubmitted claims, and the quality of the submissions. (CONT'D)

Abstract: The new single family process provides for "random audits" of mortgagees' records when single family claims for insurance benefits are filed with HUD. During the audit, the mortgagee will be required to provide specific supporting documentation. When the mortgagee cannot produce the required documentation, HUD will penalize the mortgagee for the amount not supported plus the current interest rate on that unsupported amount from the date of payment.

Abstract: This rule would codify HUD policies for implementing section 250(a) and (b) of the National Housing Act, as added by section 433 of the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983 and amended by section 261 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987. This rule would restrict prepayment of multifamily project mortgages whenever Secretary has prepayment approval responsibilities. Prepayment will not be approved unless project is no longer needed for lower income housing, tenants have been given notice and opportunity to comment, and a relocation assistance plan has been put in place. Similar restrictions will apply to termination of insurance. Where the Secretary is not responsible for approving prepayment and therefore cannot restrict it, priority will be given for additional section 8 and troubled project assistance in order to discourage prepayment. Additional requirements imposed on the prepayment of multifamily project mortgages by Title II, Subtitle B of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987 are being implemented by separate rulemaking (FR-2450; H-10-88; RIN: 2502-AE34).

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Because currently assisted tenants are unlikely to receive a Federal preference, the implementation of the Preference Rule (FR-1597) could have the effect of locking most public housing tenants in the public housing program, thereby denying them any opportunity they currently might have to move to the top of the waiting list for a Section 8 certificate or voucher. This virtually eliminates any possibility for the family to retain their assistance and also move closer to areas of better economic opportunity.

This proposed rule would allow a PHA to treat a currently assisted family's request for a transfer among the public housing, Section 8 certificate, and Housing Voucher programs it administers as an interprogram transfer rather than as a new admission.

This rule would complement the new provision in Sec. 146 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987 prohibiting a PHA in selecting families for assistance under Sec. 8, from excluding a family because the family resides in a public housing project.

Abstract: Section 162 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987 authorizes a new type of assistance payments to be made to replace section 8 assistance payments made in connection with section 202 housing for the nonelderly handicapped. This rule would establish regulations for this program and modify existing Part 885 to exclude housing for the handicapped. Abstract: This proposed rule would revise the existing administrative criteria for acceptability of insured 10-year protection Plans (Plans). The Department began this proceeding by publishing a Notice informing the public that HUD intended to revise the criteria. This rule describes, among other things, criteria related to Plan acceptability, insurance and financial backing, Plan coverage, and methods for determining Plan obligations.

HUD acceptance of these Plans is a prerequisite to reduced inspection requirements on a property accepted for mortgage insurance before the commencement of construction. It is also a prerequisite to high loan-to-value insured financing for existing one-to-four family dwellings that are less than one year old and that were not approved and inspected by HUD or the Veterans Administration before the start of construction.

Final Rule Stage

Abstract: This rule implements section 406 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987. Section 406 authorizes HUD (1) to insure single family mortgages under title II of the National Housing Act, or (2) to approve a substitute mortgagor for single family mortgages insured under title II, only if the mortgagor is to occupy the dwelling as a principal or secondary residence, as determined by HUD. Section 406 provides that this occupancy requirement only applies if the mortgage involve a principal obligation that exceeds 75 percent of the loan-to-value or equivalent calculation under the insuring authority involved. The action exempts from the occupancy requirement, mortgagors under the Rehabilitation Loan program under section 203(k) of the National Housing Act, and certain public entity, nonprofit, serviceperson, and other mortgagors under various National Housing Act activities.

Abstract: The Fair Housing Law, Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, charges the Secretary with the responsibility for the administration and enforcement of Title VIII. All other Executive Agencies are required to administer programs relating to housing and urban development in a manner affirmatively to further fair housing and to cooperate with the Secretary in further fair goal of fair housing. In December 1980, Executive Order 12249 was issued to assure interagency coordination and consistent and effective implementation of Section 808. The Order reemphasizes the mandate of Title VII, stipulates the Secretary's leadership and coordination role and states the responsibilities of all Executive Agencies; includes Regulatory Agencies, in connection with the preparation and implementation of rules, regulations and procedures. Abstract: Sections 122 and 123 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987 (Pub. The two new statutory initiatives are closely related, in that the homeownership program described in section 123 is intended to be undertaken only where the residents of a multifamily public housing project participating in the program have already formed a resident management corporation as prescribed in section 122. HUD will publish a proposed rule.

1031. ● REVISED COMPREHENSIVE IMPROVEMENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (P-8-88; FR-2488)

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: PL 100-242, Sec 119

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 967

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Section 119 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987 (Pub. L. 100-242, approved February 5, 1988) begins a two-part legislative process designed to develop an improved means of allocating funds for the Comprehensive Improvement Assistance Program (CIAP)

Section 119 contemplates the adoption, by the Congress, of a follow-up statute providing for a revised method for allocating assistance under the new Comprehensive Plan provisions. Until this additional legislation is approved, HUD's current method of allocating funds will continue in effect.

The Department will develop procedural rules to govern administration of CIAP under the new system outlined in section 119, and will publish proposed rules on the subject.

After a new statutory formula is adopted, the Department will publish a final rule linking the statutory allocation method with the previously proposed procedural rule, so that the "CIAP Block Grant" concept can be put into operation as promptly as possible.

Abstract: This rule change to Part 968 would allow for PHAs who qualify as Recognized Performers to certify compliance with HUD requirements instead of obtaining HUD approval in two areas: management improvement contracts and line item budget revisions. Recognized Performers would still be required to include all elements of the appropriate certification specified in the rule, and to maintain the certification in their files.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437g

Significance: Regulatory Program

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 990

Legal Deadline: Statutory, June 15, 1988. The 1987 Act requires that the PFS be revised by June 15, 1988 for insurance costs. The 1987 Act also directs that changes in PFS generally be made effective before the start of a fiscal year and remain in place unchanged for an entire fiscal year. We expect to publish a proposed rule by June 15, 1988.

Abstract: This proposed rule will explore ways to change PHA/IHA risk protection coverage to reduce the financial impact and will revise the PFS' coverage of insurance costs. It also will include a formal review process, as required by section 118 of the 1987 Act.

Section 118 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987 requires that HUD revise the PFS "to accurately reflect the increase in insurance costs incurred by (PHAs)."

1044. ● NATURAL RESOURCE DAMAGE ASSESSMENTS*Significance: Regulatory ProgramLegal Authority: 42 USC 9651(c) CERCLACFR Citation: 43 CFR 11Legal Deadline: Statutory, March 20, 1989. 42 USC 9651(c)(3) requires biennial review and revision as appropriate of the regulations.

Abstract: CERCLA allows natural resource trustees to bring a claim against a potentially responsible party for resources that have been injured by a release of a hazardous substance or, under certain circumstances, a discharge of oil. Section 301(c)(2)(A) calls for the promulgation of simplified procedures for coastal and marine environments through the use of a computer model known as the natural resource damage assessment model for coastal and marine environments (NRDAM/CME). Section 301(c)(3) of CERCLA requires the biennial review of these natural resource damage assessment regulations. Since type A regulations were published as a final rule with an effective date of April 20, 1987, the Department will issue an advance notice of proposed rulemaking (ANPRM). This ANPRM will ask trustees, other interested parties, and members of the public to draw upon their experience with the type A procedures to advise the Department of areas where revisions to the type A procedures may be appropriate.

Abstract: The Department has promulgated regulations, codified at 43 CFR Part 11, for the assessment of damages to natural resources injured by a release of a hazardous substance or, under certain circumstances, a discharge of oil. The regulations provide two types of assessment procedures: simplified procedures requiring minimal field investigation, referred to as the type A procedures; and alternative protocols for the testing, sampling, and valuing of natural resource damages, referred to as the type B procedures. The type A procedures that have been developed are for use in coastal and marine environments. The Department has stated that, when possible, it would develop additional type A procedures for other environments or natural resources. An advance notice of proposed rulemaking (ANPRM) will be issued by the Department. This ANPRM will solicit suggestions and supporting technical information for possible development of other type A procedures.

Originally scheduled: April 1985. E.O. 12291: These rules are major because of the economic values associated with migratory game bird hunting; however, the need to obtain and consider the latest population data for these migratory birds requires that the regulatory schedule be shortened. The regulatory impact analysis, as required by E.O. 12291, and the small entity flexibility analysis, as required by 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., have been combined into one analysis as provided for by both authorities. 1094. PROPOSED DETERMINATION OF NONESSENTIAL EXPERIMENTAL POPULATION STATUS FOR AN INTRODUCED POPULATION OF THE YELLOWFIN MADTOM IN VIRGINIA*Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seqCFR Citation: 50 CFR 17Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Service proposes to reintroduce a small catfish, the yellow madtom (Noturus flavipinnis), into the North Fork Holston River, Smyth County, Virginia, and determine this population to be a nonessential experimental population according to Section 10(j) of the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended. The Yellowfin madtom once likely inhabited many of the lower gradient streams of the Tennessee River basin upstream of Chattanooga, Tennessee. Presently, populations are confined to only three stream reaches in the Tennessee River Valley. This action is being taken in an effort to re-establish the yellowfin madtom within its historic range.

Abstract: The Service proposes to introduce Colorado squawfish (Ptychocheilus lucius) into the lower Colorado River in Arizona and to determine the population to be "nonessential experimental" population according to Section 10(j) of the Endangered Species Act. The Service will propose a special rule to allow take in accordance with State law. In the past, Colorado squawfish were

Because of these exemptions, the regulations apply to only 35% of the existing operations resulting in avoidable impacts to park resources and visitor values from unregulated operations. Examples of such revisions include: Making the regulations applicable to all oil and gas operations within all units of the National Park System by removing exemptions for operators; updating terms for consistency with existing policies, practices, and laws; removing the monetary ceiling and floor on bonds and security deposits so that bonds may be calculated and posted commensurate with reclamation costs; revising sections of the regulations to make them consistent with the enabling legislation of affected units; and, clarifying compliance issues associated with different access conditions. Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1901 et seq Mining in the Parks Act of 1976; 16 USC 1 et seq NPS Organic Act; 30 USC 21 et seq Mining Law of 1872

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 9, Subpart A

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The existing regulations at 36 CFR Part 9, Subpart A, promulgated in January of 1977, contain several provisions that are either outdated or have proven difficult to understand, enforce and comply with. Most notable is a provision regarding the use of water in connection with mining claims within National Park System units. The current language creates a "catch 22" for miners seeking to use water in connection with their claims. In order to use water in a park, a miner must have perfected water right. However, to obtain a perfected water right, a miner must use water. Herein lies the "catch 22." The National Park Service (NPS) would like to rectify this dilemma through a rule change that would eliminate the perfected water right language while at the same time preserve the Service's ability to protect water quality and quantity. Additional changes sought by the NPS are as follows: (1) Several sections of the regulations refer to a surface disturbance moratorium (mandated by the Mining in the Parks Act of 1976, 16 USC 1901 et seq.) which expired in 1980. Other sections include transitional procedures used temporarily in implementing the regulations.

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1 et seq; 31 USC 9701; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 36 CFR Part 9, Subpart C

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Extensive nonfederal mineral rights exist within units of the National Park System. The Service presently regulates only nonfederal oil and gas activities occurring in those units.

Mineral activities, other than those associated with nonfederal oil and gas, are occurring in approximately 13 units of the System. There are also 7 additional units in which nonfederal mineral development is currently proposed or has recently been proposed. The Service is charged by Congress to ensure that the development of nonfederal mineral rights within park boundaries is consistent with the purposes for which the units were established. The proposed regulation would establish procedures and standards governing nonfederal mineral development, other than nonfederal oil and gas, in a manner that protects affected park units until such time that the Service has sufficient funds to acquire the mineral right.

1132. MANAGEMENT OF MINING CLAIM ACTIVITIES

Legal Authority: 16 USC 3 et seq NPS Organic Act; 16 USC 1901 et seq Mining in the Parks Act of 1976

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 9, Subpart A

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The intent of this current rulemaking is to explain that mineral development on mining claims within the boundaries of units of the National Park System is governed by regulations at 36 CFR Part 9, Subpart A without regard to whether the claim is patented or how the claim is accessed. This rulemaking also explains the relationship of the 36 CFR Part 9, Subpart A regulations to those governing access in Alaska in 43 CFR Part 36. This rulemaking is necessary because confusion exists in the mining community in Alaska as to the scope of these regulations due to a regulatory provision that was contained at 36 CFR Part 13.15(d)(1) that exempted operators from compliance with the 36 CFR Part 9, Subpart A regulations if the operators could access their patented claims without crossing federally-owned parklands. Because there was no legal basis for such an exemption in either the Mining In The Parks Act or the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act of 1980, the Department eliminated the exemption when it promulgated its regulations at 43 CFR Part 36.

of the program, establish eligibility requirements, and establish adult care services as a social services program separate and distinct from the general assistance program. Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 25 USC 2; 25 USC 9; PL 100-139

Legal Deadline: Statutory, October 26, 1988. One year from date of enactment for completion of the tribal membership roll.

1165. APPEALS FROM ADMINISTRATIVE ACTIONS

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 25 USC 2; 25 USC 9

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 2

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The present administrative appeal regulations are ambiguous and misleading. It is difficult to tell what issues may be appealed and to whom the appeal should be sent. Most deadlines are uncertain. Those that are certain are often unrealistic. It is also unclear when a final decision will be rendered by the Interior Board of Indian Appeals and when it will be rendered by the Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs. Alternatives will be developed by reviewing the existing appeal regulations of other agencies. Consideration will be given to specifying which types of appeals go to the Assistant Secretary and which to the Board. The alternative of providing for the Assistant Secretary to make a case-by-case decision whether or not to refer the matter to the Board will also be considered. The primary benefit should be reduced frustration for both appellants and the BIA officials who handle the appeals. The greatest cost may be that both appellants and BIA officials may have to comply with more specified procedures and meet more deadlines in order for the system to work.

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 25 USC 2; 25 USC 9; 25 USC 13

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 11

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The present regulations contain a very incomplete criminal code that does not cover many areas of the law that are usually in the laws of the state where the reservation is located. The current regulations also contain very sketchy provisions on criminal and civil procedure. It is proposed to update the sections on criminal offenses, and essentially create new sections on criminal procedures, domestic relations, probate proceedings, appellate proceedings and juvenile proceedings. This will provide the Courts of Indian Offenses with more complete and up to date procedures and rules. Courts will have a six month period from the date of publications of the final rule to the effective date in which to revise their court codes. It is not anticipated that this revision will have any effect on the annual case load for these courts or require additional staffing. Therefore, the initiation of these rules should not result in additional costs.

The proposed revisions would not change the underlying policy of the current rule which is to pay for private counsel to represent Indian tribes only in exceptional circumstances. The principal changes involve representation in child custody proceedings, services of tribal court personnel, and non-litigation services. The proposed revision would also provide that when trust resources are involved, tribes and individual Indian allottees are eligible to apply for and receive Federally appropriated funds under 25 CFR 89.

Additional Information: In May 1982, the District Court for the District of Arizona invalidated the regulation of 25 CFR 167 and ordered the Bureau to publish new regulations. The Bureau published interim regulations on Hopi partitioned lands on September 8, 1982. During the past year several meetings have been held with the Navajo Tribe to obtain concurrence to include Navajo partitioned land in the regulations. The Navajo Tribe expressed the desire for separate regulations and Bureau has drafted a new regulation for Navajo Partitioned Land within the existing 25 CFR Part 167.

1173. RIGHTS-OF-WAY OVER INDIAN LANDS

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 25 USC 323 to 328

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 169

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bureau of Indian Affairs intends to amend several sections of its rights-of-way regulations which impose a variety of specific requirements on grantees of rights-of-way over Indian lands. These requirements were intended to implement public laws enacted around the turn of the century which authorized the Secretary of the Interior to issue rights-of-way for various specific purposes. In 1948 Congress gave the Department comprehensive authority to grant rights-of-way for any purpose or any term of years without the antiquated restrictions of the older statutes. The regulations continue to reflect the old requirements and the result has been inconsistent application of the 1948 Act. The removal or revisions of these sections would end that practice.

Abstract: The Bureau of Indian Affairs is amending the pertinent sections of the regulations governing charges and costs assessed the electric power customers for the electric power, energy and associated electric power services provided by the San Carlos Indian Irrigation (Project), Arizona. The purpose of the regulatory amendments is to increase the costs to the public for the services provided by the electric power division of the Project. The proposed rules increase the electric power assessment rates in the residential and general service rate schedules. This action causes the generation of needed additional revenues for the Project. The increased

Abstract: Amendments to the Department of the Interior (DOI) Air Quality regulation for oil and gas operations will be proposed for all Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) areas. Abstract: The Minerals Management Service (MMS) published new oil and gas product valuation regulations in the Federal Register on January 15, 1988 (53 FR 1184 and 53 FR 1230). If a lessee has a non-arm's-length contract or has no contract for processing or transportation of oil or gas, the new regulations provide for an allowable deduction from royalty payments based upon the lessee's reasonable actual costs during the reporting period. These actual cost deductions allow the lessee to deduct operating and maintenance expenses, overhead, and at the lessee's option, either depreciation plus a return on undepreciated capital investment in the processing plant or transportation system, or a fixed cost equal to the initial depreciable investment multiplied by a rate of return. An amendment is needed to the regulations to establish the method to be used to determine the cost of capital, i.e., rate of return, to be applied to the lessee's investment in a processing plant or transportation system.

Abstract: This rulemaking is needed to add new regulations covering recoupment and refunds of excess payments made under Federal offshore mineral leases which are subject to section 10 of the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act of 1953 (OCSLA), 43 USC 1339. This rule would establish requirements and guidelines for crediting (recouping) excess payments of royalties, rentals, bonuses, or other amounts against a current or future payment obligation or refunding such excess payment to any person lawfully entitled to receive a refund or credit for an overpayment made under an offshore lease. Legal Authority: 30 USC 1701 et seqCFR Citation: 30 CFR 243Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Payors who appeal a bill for payment of additional royalty, rents, bonuses, penalties, or other assessments, are required by the existing appeal regulations to submit payment of the billed amount or to post a bond in an amount adequate to indemnify the lessor from loss or damage. However, some bills for payment that have been appealed have been neither paid nor secured by an acceptable surety. An amendment to the existing regulations is needed to establish a requirement that payment must be made or that an acceptable surety must be posted within a specified period of time as a condition for acceptance of the appeal for consideration by the Director, Minerals Management Service (MMS). An amendment is also needed to permit the posting of letters of credit, in addition to bonds, in accordance with current MMS practice.

Significance: Regulatory ProgramLegal Authority: 43 USC 1334CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250.57Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Amendments to the DOI Air Quality regulation for oil and gas operations will be proposed for Outer Continental Shelf areas adjacent to California. The changes would provide additional safeguards for those pollutants which could be critical to air quality in the region. A determination of potential costs and benefits cannot be made until responses to the Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking are analyzed. The DOI has conducted a conflict assessment to determine the likelihood of the interested and affected parties being able to reach an agreement on an air quality regulatory program. If the affected parties involved can develop a mutually agreeable set of requirements, then DOI will initiate rulemaking based on that agreement.

Significance: Regulatory Program

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 281

Abstract: There are no provisions in current Minerals Management Service regulations which provide a mechanism for remedy of unlawful discrimination in Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) employment. Rules would be developed to provide a process whereby persons who believed they had been denied employment because of unlawful discrimination would have a forum. These rules would implement the purposes of section 604 of the OCS Lands Act Amendment of 1978. Alternatives considered are no action, issuance of a policy statement and no rules, and proposal of extensive affirmative action rules similar to those rescinded in the past. Very few complaints are expected to arise as there has been no evidence of discrimination to date. Therefore, costs are expected to be minimal. Benefits would be the assurance that the requirements of section 604 are being fully carried out.

1205. CHANGE EFFECTIVE DATE OF ADOPTED MODIFICATIONS TO NTL-5

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1701 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 206

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Minerals Management Service (MMS) published a Notice in the Federal Register on July 25, 1986 (51 FR 26759), to modify Notice to Lessees Number 5 (NTL-5) to provide more flexibility in valuing for royalty purposes, natural gas produced from onshore Federal and Indian leases. The modification was effective on August 1, 1986. However, MMS has received many complaints from industry that the prospective August 1, 1986, effective date of the modification, in some cases, leads to results which are unreasonable and contrary to applicable mineral leasing laws. Consequently, MMS proposes to make the effective date retroactive to a date to be established based on comments received.

Abstract: The Royalty-In-Kind provisions of these rules, some of which were transferred from the Department of Energy, will be revised in order to simplify and streamline the Federal Government's process for selling its royalty crude oil. The contents of existing 30 CFR 208 and 30 CFR 209 will be combined at new 30 CFR 208. 30 CFR 209 will be removed. Abstract: The Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement (OSMRE) proposes to remove the definition of "support facilities" from its regulations. In reviewing the decisions of regulatory authorities during the time periods when no definition was in effect (prior to the 1983 introduction of a definition and since the 1985 suspension of the definition), OSMRE found that the identification of facilities that support surface coal mining operations has been conducted in a manner consistent with the intent of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act (SMCRA). Therefore, OSMRE has determined that a definition of "support facilities" is not needed in order to ensure that such facilities are regulated under SMCRA. This proposed rule would impose only minor costs to the coal industry since reporting requirements for surface coal exploration. The proposed rule would revise existing requirements to include the filing of a notice by all individuals or operators planning coal exploration, and specify the information required on applications for coal exploration. The obligation to report is a standing requirement of existing regulations. This rule would expand the requirement to report. Because affected States already have the expanded requirement in place, no additional costs or benefits are expected to be associated with the rule.

Abstract: The proposed rule would clarify the applicability of the prohibitions in section 522(e) of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act to the surface impacts of underground mining. The issue of the relationship between section 522(e) and mining related subsidence will be addressed in the proposed rulemaking. The rulemaking will seek to clarify whether OSM's rules have the effect of prohibiting underground mining operations related to the features and facilities within the distance limitations enumerated in section 522(e) of the Act. The proposed rulemaking will address the issue of what is a "Surface Impact" incident to an underground mine.

1223. DISPOSAL OF EXCESS SPOIL ON PREEXISTING BENCHES

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 816.74; 30 CFR 817.74

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The regulations at 30 CFR 816.74/817.74 allow, with the approval of the regulatory authority, the disposal of excess spoil through placement on preexisting benches provided that the standards set forth in sections 816.71/817.71 are met. These standards contain the general requirements for the disposal of excess spoil. Based on the draft study entitled "Encouraging Abandoned Mine Land Reclamation via Remining: A Federal, State and Industry Initiative" and comments received, OSMRE has reviewed these regulations. Based on this review, OSMRE has concluded that excess spoil, when placed on the benches is similar to backfilling and grading of a highwall and bench and therefore could be regulated under the backfilling and grading regulations in section 816.102/817.102, in lieu of the "excess spoil" standards while maintaining the same environmental and safety standards. The proposed rule would apply the backfilling and grading requirements to disposal of excess spoil on preexisting benches.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 700.11

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act (the Act) doesn't specifically define the point at which regulatory jurisdiction ends. Therefore, a regulation is needed to define that point. The regulation in question is specific to the responsibilities of the Department of the Interior, OSMRE, and implement the Act. No other Federal agency is authorized to undertake this action on behalf of the Department. OSMRE has never addressed this issue in a rulemaking. The regulatory authority will issue a written determination ending regulatory jurisdiction under the Act when the following conditions apply. For permanent program operations, it proposed to terminate regulatory jurisdiction under the Act at the time of final bond release or when all regulatory program requirements have been met. For initial program operations, regulatory jurisdiction will end when all requirements of the regulatory program have been met.

The rule re-promulgates the suspended 1983 rules with an expanded preamble and record to support the rule language. This was requested by the Court as a result of litigation. The rule will result in lower costs to industry and a reduction in their information collection requirements.

Abstract: The regulation will address the issue addressed in a district court challenge to OSM regulations. The rule will address the problem of combination spillways and will specify a spillway configuration that must be installed to safely pass the designed precipitation event. In some cases, the rule may allow one spillway to serve as a combination principal and emergency spillway. The proposed action may reduce costs in those cases where one spillway will safely pass the design precipitation event with no corresponding decrease in environmental protection.

Abstract: These regulations are being revised as ordered by the District Court for the District of Columbia. They will amend OSM's permanent program performance standards with respect to prime farmlands by allowing last cut lakes to remain after mining is complete only where they are beneficial or necessary to agricultural activity and allowing for a support facility exemption only for underground mines. Significance: Regulatory Program

Abstract: The present regulations require the weight of coal (for the purpose of calculating the tonnage upon which the AML fee is calculated) to be determined at the point of first sale. This weight includes not only that of the saleable coal, but also that of the extraneous material including the moisture content. Recent action by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) issued a revenue-ruling for the Black Lung Tax to allow for the deduction of a moisture content allowance from the tonnage upon which the Black Lung Tax is collected. The IRS decision to make this change in its regulations was based on a Federal court decision. Taft Coal Co. v. U.S., 605 F. Supp. 366, (N.D. Ala. 1984). OSMRE proposes to change the existing regulations to create a standard moisture allowance which would be consistent with that allowed by the IRS for the Black Lung Tax program. Regulations dealing with the basis upon which a tax or fee is assessed should be consistent for administrative convenience and equity to the coal operator. Federal action is required since OSMRE is directly responsible for collecting the AML fee and for establishing the regulations promulgating (cont)

Abstract: The regulations in 309 CFR Part 707 implementing the exemption for coal extraction incidental to government financed construction were under review to determine their impact on the Abandoned Mine Lands (AML) program. Proposed regulations were scheduled in case regulatory changes were determined necessary. The primary purpose of the review was to determine if the regulations prevent the removal, and consequent resource loss, of incidental amounts of coal encountered during AML reclamation. Upon review of the regulations and guidelines (45 FR 14810, March 6, 1980) for the AML program, OSMRE determined that extraction of coal incidental to an AML reclamation project is not prohibited by the regulations as specifically addressed in the guidelines. Therefore, action to revise the regulations was withdrawn.

1252. PERMANENT REGULATORY PROGRAM - MOUNTAINTOP REMOVAL*Significance: Agency PriorityLegal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seqCFR Citation: 30 CFR 785Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The proposed rule amends the rules for "Permits for Special Categories of Mining -- Mountaintop Removal Mining." This action will correct an inadvertent error whereby certain substantive provisions concerning mountaintop removal mining in the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 (the Act) were not included in previous implementing regulations. These provisions include a finding for permit issuance that the applicant has presented specific plans for the proposed postmining land use and has made appropriate assurances for the use. The addition of these provisions will make the rules for mountaintop removal mining consistent with the Act, as well as with the Secretary's brief In Re: Permanent Surface Mining Regulation Litigation II, (round III). The requirements of the proposed rule will ensure that all the substantive provisions of the Act are applied to mountaintop removal coal mining operations.

Abstract: The proposed rule would revise the permit application requirements applicable to experimental practices as provided by section 711 of SMCRA. Section 711 allows for departures from the environmental protection performance standards of section 515 and 516 of the Act. The rule would be revised to encourage advances in mining and reclamation practices and special alternative postmining land uses. No additional costs to the environment would occur because experimental practices cannot be authorized if they are not as environmentally protective as the requirements of section 515 and 516. The rule revision may provide coal mine operators the ability to utilize more cost efficient mining and reclamation practices. OSMRE has discussed experimental practice issues with external groups and determined not to proceed with rulemaking.

This action is being taken as a result of OSMRE on June 13, 1986 accepting a proposal to revise self-bonding regulations sought in a petition for rulemaking by the National Coal Association/American Mining Congress (NCA/AMC) Joint Committee on Surface Mine Regulations. There will be no increase or decrease in the cost/benefits of this rule.

OSM will propose two options: (1) removing 817.41(b)(2) and (2) retaining this paragraph while asking for comments concerning its legality, technological validity, and environmental impacts. 1304. NATURAL RESOURCE DAMAGE ASSESSMENT - TYPE B AMENDMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 9651(c)(1) CERCLA as amended

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 11

Legal Deadline: Statutory, April 17, 1987. SARA calls for any necessary amendments to be prepared within 6 months of enactment of SARA (Oct. 17, 1986).

Abstract: CERCLA allows trustees of natural resources that have been damaged by a release of a hazardous substance or a discharge of oil to bring a claim against the potentially responsible party of the Superfund. Section 301(c) requires the development of regulations for the assessment of damages to natural resources. Two sets of regulations are required by the Act: a set of simplified procedures that require minimal field investigations, referred to as the type A procedures, and a set of alternative procedures for the testing, sampling, and valuing of natural resource damages, referred to as the type B procedures. The Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986 (SARA), enacted on October 17, 1986, amended certain sections of CERCLA that pertain to natural resource damages and the Section
